EPISTLE DEDICATORY.

TO THE

RIGHT HON. AND MOST REV. JOHN BIRD,

LORD ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY, PRIMATE OF ALL ENGLAND, AND METROPOLITAN.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR GRACE,

IN preparing this Edition of the Book of Common Prayer, our objects have been,

To elucidate the doctrines and precepts of the Christian Religion, as they are interwoven into the Liturgy of our Church, and as they are set forth in the inspired language of the Epistles and Gospels, and in the Psalms, by copious and carefully selected references to every part of the Bible :

To throw light upon some passages of the Psalms, by a comparison of the two versions in common use ; and, generally,

To exhibit the extent to which the Book of Common Prayer may be made useful, not only as expressing in scriptural language the feelings of a congregation, or as a bond of union amongst the members of our Reformed Protestant Church, but also as a means of exciting the attention of the young to the most important branches of revealed truth, of instructing the ignorant in the things which belong to their everlasting peace, and of building up believers in their most holy faith.

The work is respectfully dedicated to your Grace, in the humble hope that it may please Almighty God to use it for the promotion of His own glory, and the benefit of His Church.

We remain, my Lord Archbishop,

Your Grace's very obedient servants,

THE COMPILERS.

 The Clergyman who first suggested that the Prayer-book and Homily Society should publish a work of this kind, contemplated little more than an abridgment of the valuable compilation of the Rev. H. I. Bailey. The subject having been mentioned to the Committee of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, to whom Mr. Bailey's work now belongs, they readily and kindly gave their consent, only requesting that a title should be adopted which should distinguish the work from the "Common Prayer with References." On this account the word "proofs" is introduced into the title page of this volume.

From what is stated, both in the Dedication and in the Advertisement, it is hardly necessary to add that this work differs in design and scope, as well as in arrangement, from "The Liturgy compared with the Bible."

ADVERTISEMENT.

THE design of this volume is briefly stated in the Dedication, but as the details of its arrangement differ in many respects from other books of the same kind, the reader is requested to attend to the following explanation.

1. The whole book, except the Psalter, and the Articles of Religion, is divided into arbitrary sections, numbered consecutively from No. 1 to No. 410; and the references are denoted by letters. Therefore any clause, and, in many cases, any important word, as well as the Scripture references annexed to it, can be instantly pointed out by its own number and letter.

2. For the information of the general reader, it is necessary to explain several particulars with regard to the text as it is here printed.

The volume contains three distinct portions, each deriving its authority from different channels: the first is the Book of Common Prayer, properly so called, extending from the commencement to the end of the Prayers to be used at Sea; the second comprises the Services for the four State holy-days; and the third the Thirty-nine Articles of Religion.

i. The Book of Common Prayer, in its present form, dates its authority from the reign of Charles the Second, having been accepted by Convocation in the year 1661, and ratified and made part and parcel of the Statute law of England, by Act of Parliament, in the following year. The MS. annexed to the Act is said to be lost, but printed copies of it, having been compared with the MS., and corrected where necessary, were attested, and sealed with the Great Seal of England, by Commissioners appointed for the purpose, and were deposited in various cathedrals, and other places. Any one of these is declared by law to be as good a record as the original MS. Every Prayer-book issued as "by authority," or "cum privilegio," should be (excepting the few changes since made by competent authority) an exact reproduction of these "sealed books." Formerly, however, great liberties were taken of omission, of transposition, and of variation; and even now, though many of these faults have been corrected, no two editions are entirely alike.

Of the intentional deviations from the text of the sealed books in the present volume, the following are the most important:

The Title-page is adapted to the peculiar character of this work.

In the Table of Contents the Act of Uniformity is omitted, as it has been thought unnecessary to include it in the work. In the sealed books the items are numbered consecutively from 1 to 27. As these figures could not be implicitly followed they have been replaced by the page at which each commences; and the numbers of the sections have been added.

The Calendar and Tables in the sealed books have been superseded by the Act by which the "New Style" was introduced in 1751.

The Act of Union of Great Britain and Ireland seems to require that the words "Church of England" should be replaced by the words "United Church of England and Ireland." The word "dominions," in the Prayer for the Parliament, and in the Prayers to be used at Sea, is, by an Order in Council, substituted for "kingdoms," which will be found in Prayer-books of the last century.

The Rubric following the Nicene Creed, with which that at the commencement of the Marriage Service coincided, enjoined the publication of Banns at that period in the Service. To meet the cases where Service was performed in the afternoon only, Parliament has altered the rule: the original directions have been varied accordingly.

The "oath of supremacy," No. 355, has been frequently altered; its form in the sealed books is different from that now in use, which was imposed by the 1 W. & M. cap. 3.

A few variations of a different character have also been introduced.

In the headings of the Epistles and Gospels, and of other portions of holy Scripture, the concluding as well as the opening verse is indicated.

In some of the instances in which the extracts from Scripture differ from the authorized version, the reader is reminded of the variation, by marks which will be readily understood. See, for example, 1*e*, 136*w*, and 243*g*.

In the running titles of the Collects, &c. for Saints' days, the day of the month is added: and in one or two places the head-lines do not implicitly follow the sealed books.

In the Order for Private Baptism, the italics, which indicate the changes of expression when two or more infants are received into the congregation at the same time, have been allowed to stand, as in most modern editions, though not found in the sealed books.

The Latin headings of the Psalms have been replaced by the name of the writer, or the occasion for which each was composed, as given in the authorized version of the Bible.

The Proper Psalms on certain days are also noted as they occur. The verses in Ps. cxix. are numbered consecutively throughout, which is more convenient for reference than reckoning from 1 to 8 in each division, as in the sealed books.

The paragraph marks (¶) which are prefixed to the Rubrics in the sealed books are omitted.

The punctuation of most recently-printed Prayer-books differs widely from that of the original. It is true that the system adopted by the latter is not in accordance with modern usage, in several particulars; but as the sense (as well as the mode of reading) is liable to be seriously affected by changes of stops, it is at least safer to leave the original unchanged. Circumstances have interfered with complete obedience to this rule, but, in most cases, when the punctuation of this edition varies from that usually adopted, the reader may conclude that the sealed books have been followed.

In the use of capital letters scarcely two editions are alike, and few, if any, are consistent throughout. This want of uniformity exists even in the sealed books, and for this reason the assertion that the sense in which words are used in the Prayer-book may be determined by the form of their initial letters, must be received with some limitation. It has been impossible to assimilate the present edition to the sealed books in this particular.

Perhaps it might be well, in a future impression, to limit the special use of capitals to such practical purposes as the following: (a) To certify the reader when a common word is used to designate one of the persons in the holy Trinity,* or as the title of our Saviour; e. g. the Word of God, in contradistinction to the word of God, viz. the Bible. (b) To shew the beginning of a quotation in the absence of inverted commas.† (c) To mark the clauses (unless the custom of pronouncing the words simultaneously should become universal) in the General Confession, and similar prayers.

ii. The Services for Nov. 5, Jan. 30, May 29, and Her Majesty's Accession are not found in the sealed books, and do not form a portion of the Prayer-book authorized by the Act of Uniformity. Their authority rests upon an Order in Council. They have been frequently and extensively varied at different times. Some of the changes are indicated in the margins, but the most important could not be so exhibited. These services contain some valuable passages, particularly in Nos. 399 and 410;‡ but the fact just mentioned is sufficient to prove that they cannot be a portion of those formularies to which assent and consent is required.

iii. The Thirty-nine Articles of Religion are a separate document from the Prayer-book, of which they never formed a part. But it is most desirable that they should be circulated as extensively as the Common Prayer itself; and this is most readily accomplished by appending them to every edition of that book.

It seems clear, from various considerations, that the Articles sanctioned by the Act of 1571 were the Articles as agreed to in the Convocation of the same year. These Articles, as printed by Dr. Lamb from the MS. in Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, do not contain the first clause of Art. XX.; nor do most of the editions of 1571. But some copies bearing the date of 1571 have the clause; and as for more than two centuries the clause has been inserted in all the editions of the Articles, their example has been followed in this edition, and a note annexed pointing out the difference of reading in the old editions.

The Royal Declaration was prefixed to the Articles by Charles the First, and appeared first in the edition published in the year 1628.

3. The references to holy Scripture are printed in the margins as they are usually expressed in reading or speaking: first the chapter, in figures; then the number of the book or epistle (if there be more than one) in Roman numerals; then the portion of the verse, if only a single clause is referred to, expressed by one of the letters f, m, or l (first or former, middle, and latter or last clause); and, lastly, the verse. Therefore "3 Joh. l. 5," would mean "the 3d chapter of St. John's Gospel and the last part of the 5th verse," but "iii Jo. f. 11," would mean "the 3d Epistle of John and the first part of the 11th verse."

* The use of such a distinction may be seen in 69*d*.

‡ The Prayer for Unity was added in the first year of the reign of George the First when Archbishop Tenison was Primate.

Each reference is kept as much as possible in a distinct line, and is separated from that which follows by a semicolon. Attention to the context will often be found necessary, and when the mark "&c." is used, the subject frequently embraces many verses.

The mark "cf." (confer or compare) before a text, followed by "w." (with) before a succeeding reference, denotes that these passages of Scripture should be viewed in connexion, and the idea so brought out applied to the subject under consideration. The same mark "cf." before a single reference, or before several, without "w.", implies an indirect or accommodated bearing upon the subject.

When the division of chapters interferes with the connexion of a passage, two hyphens are used, to ensure the continuity of the reference. See, for example, No. 104*h*.

The references to the Psalms are generally given according to the numbering of the verses in the version of 1611; but in some instances the reader should consult the older version, together with the references appended to it in this volume; in such cases the italic reference-letter is added after the verse.

The several passages adduced in one reference are usually printed in the order in which they occur in our Bibles. It would have added greatly to the time required for preparing the work if they had been arranged differently; but occasional instances will shew that it would sometimes have been useful. See, for example, Art. xvii. jj.

3. In several parts of the volume the reader is referred to the Book of Homilies, for additional texts, or for useful remarks. The passages intended will, it is hoped, be easily found, especially with the aid of the enlarged and improved index added to the 12mo edition published by the Society. The pages given in the references to Dean Nowell's Catechism belong to the Society's edition of the Larger Catechism in English. Jewell's Apology, another "work of authority," is referred to in the same manner.

4. In using the collation of the Bible version of the Psalms, it will be necessary to observe that the words in the margin are to be substituted for those preceding the corresponding reference-mark in the text, omitting as few of the latter as the sense will permit; and that the italic words in the text do not occur in the version of 1611, and must be omitted when the words in the margin are substituted. The word "Or" indicates a various reading, taken from the margin of the Bible; and "He." is prefixed to a more literal version of the original.

To avoid encumbering the columns, many slight differences between the two versions have been left unnoticed; and, for a similar reason, the order of the words in the Bible has been occasionally disregarded.

5. It is frequently objected to marginal references to holy Scripture, that they are either so few, and so obvious, as to be of little practical use; or else so numerous as to perplex, and even repel the reader; whilst the continual repetition of the same well-known texts is tedious and disappointing.

In the hope of obviating such objections, much labour has been bestowed upon this volume; and a system of cross references, that is, references to different parts of the Prayer-book itself, has been introduced.

Large portions of the Common Prayer recur in different parts of the book, and some of them very frequently. In these cases the same references to Scripture are never intentionally repeated, but a fresh selection is given in each place, until all the suitable texts which presented themselves have been exhausted.* In such instances the cross reference, separated from the texts which precede it by a short line, directs the reader to the section where the same subject is resumed. When an important point recurs in single words or clauses, the same plan is followed, except that the short line is omitted. In a large number of cases this system has been so far carried out, that the last place in the volume where a subject is illustrated by texts refers to the first; so that wherever the reader takes up such a series, he may pass through the whole, as from link to link of an endless chain. By this arrangement, it is hoped that some of the less familiar portions of the Common Prayer may become better known and more justly appreciated.

The reader may test the foregoing remarks, by referring to the Apostles' Creed, which occurs seven times, besides the reproduction of its various parts in the Creed of St. Athanasius, in the Nicene Creed, and in the Articles of Religion.

Or if he refer to the Lord's Prayer, which occurs nineteen times, he will find a large number of texts selected for its illustration; and he may observe that they have been arranged according to a definite plan. In No. 5 the references are of a general character, regarding God as our Father by creation; &c. &c. The six following sets shew that the office of a Mediator is necessarily implied in this comprehensive form. No. 267 relates to the work of the holy Spirit. The remaining groups of texts refer to the duties and privileges of a Christian, as suggested in the various petitions:—to instances in which the inspired writers have framed their prayers upon the model it affords to us in its different clauses:—and to its bearing upon the doctrine of the Communion of Saints, and its consequent suitableness for frequent use in the Congregation.

Cross references are intended principally for the use of students who avail themselves of this volume as a book of reference: the reader who examines it consecutively may therefore pass over them, if he finds their number perplexing. But the consideration of such a series as that commencing at 83*e*, shewing the variety of Scripture testimony to the sinlessness of Christ, or that which begins at 44*f*, on the pregnant term Christian, may prove that something will be lost by neglecting them.

When a quotation from the Psalms is introduced into the Services, the reader should examine the passage in its own place in the Psalter, as cross references are not printed in such cases.

* The same text is not often requoted with the same object, even in passages to which no cross reference applies.

6. This volume must not be considered as a controversial work. The "proofs" which have been appended to those portions which are of human compilation have been selected with a different object. Incidentally, however, they shew the extent to which the language of the Liturgy is drawn from the word of God: and if they do not demonstrate the propriety of every part of the Prayer-book to the satisfaction of its opponents, they may at least lead to the very important inquiry, whether their objections would not apply with equal, or nearly equal, force against the very words of inspiration.

7. In selecting the references, pains have been taken to avoid mere verbal coincidences. Important words which have different meanings, and terms of unusual occurrence, form exceptions to this rule.

Amongst so large a body of references some misprints have probably escaped detection, but care has been taken to reduce their number as much as possible. The propriety with which some passages have been quoted may not instantly appear, but the reader is requested to examine them with care and patience, and not to assume too hastily that the figures are incorrect.

It has been well said that there are two modes in which the Scriptures should be studied—consecutively and in detail. By carefully reading through each book, as an integral portion of the revelation of God to man, the student must catch and retain the thread which often runs through large portions of the writings of the Prophets and Apostles. By a detailed examination he must search for the invaluable truth, which is often contained in the very words and phrases of inspiration: nor will he fail to obtain important instruction from a diligent and prayerful comparison of its similar or contrasted expressions. It is with a view of aiding and encouraging this latter mode of investigating revealed truth that this work has been compiled. May that Spirit, without whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy, vouchsafe to it His blessing, that it may induce many to bring all doctrine to the word and to the testimony; to search the Scriptures daily, to prove all things, and to hold fast that which is good!

THE PREFACE.

IT hath been the wisdom of the Church of England, ever since the first compiling of her publick Liturgy, to keep the mean between the two extremes, of too much stiffness in refusing, and of too much easiness in admitting any variation from it. For, as on the one side common experience sheweth, that where a change hath been made of things advisedly established (no evident necessity so requiring) sundry inconveniences have thereupon ensued; and those many times more, and greater than the evils, that were intended to be remedied by such change: So on the other side, the particular Forms of divine worship, and the Rites and Ceremonies appointed to be used therein, being things in their own nature indifferent, and alterable, and so acknowledged; it is but reasonable, that upon weighty and important considerations, according to the various exigency of times and occasions, such changes and alterations should be made therein, as to those that are in place of Authority should from time to time seem either necessary or expedient. Accordingly we find, that in the reigns of several Princes of blessed memory since the Reformation, the Church upon just and weighty considerations her thereunto moving, hath yielded to make such alterations in some particulars, as in their respective times were thought convenient: yet so, as that the main body and essentials of it (as well in the chiefest materials, as in the frame and order thereof) have still continued the same unto this day, and do yet stand firm and unshaken, notwithstanding all the vain attempts and impetuous assaults made against it by such men as are given to change, and have always discovered a greater regard to their own private fancies and interests, than to that duty they owe to the publick.

By what undue means, and for what mischievous purposes the use of the Liturgy (though enjoined by the laws of the land, and those laws never yet repealed) came, during the late unhappy confusions, to be discontinued, is too well known to the world, and we are not willing here to remember. But when, upon His Majesty's happy restoration, it seemed probable, that, amongst other things, the use of the Liturgy also would return of course (the same having never been legally abolished) unless some timely means were used to prevent it; those men who under the late usurped powers had made it a great part of their business to render the people disaffected thereunto, saw themselves in point of reputation and interest concerned (unless they would freely acknowledge themselves to have erred, which such men are very hardly brought to do) with their utmost endeavours to hinder the restitution thereof. In order whereunto divers pamphlets were published against the Book of Common Prayer, the old objections mustered up, with the addition of some new ones, more than formerly had been made, to make the number swell. In fine great importunities were used to his Sacred Majesty, that the said Book might be revised, and such alterations therein, and additions thereunto made, as should be thought requisite for the ease of tender consciences: whereunto His Majesty, out of his pious inclination to give satisfaction (so far as could be reasonably expected) to all his subjects of what persuasion soever, did graciously condescend.

In which review we have endeavoured to observe the like moderation, as we find to have been used in the like case in former times. And therefore of the sundry alterations proposed unto us, we have rejected all such as were either of dangerous consequence (as secretly striking at some established doctrine, or laudable practice of the Church of England, or indeed of the whole Catholick Church of Christ) or else of no consequence at all, but utterly frivolous and vain. But such alterations as were tendered to us, (by what persons, under what pretences, or to what purpose soever so tendered) as seemed to us in any degree requisite or expedient, we have willingly, and of our own accord assented unto: not enforced so to do by any strength of argument, convincing us of the necessity of making the said alterations: for we are fully persuaded in our judgements (and we here profess it to the world) that the Book, as it stood before established by law, doth not contain in it any thing contrary to the word of God, or to sound doctrine, or which a godly man may not with a good conscience use and submit unto, or which is not fairly defensible against any that shall oppose the same; if it shall be allowed such just and favourable construction as in common equity ought to be allowed to all human writings, especially such as are set forth by authority, and even to the very best translations of the holy Scripture itself.

One general aim therefore in this undertaking was, not to gratify this or that party in any their unreasonable demands; but to do that, which to our best understandings we conceived might most tend to the preservation of peace and unity in the Church; the procuring of reverence, and exciting of piety, and devotion in the publick worship of God; and the cutting off occasion from them that seek occasion of cavil, or quarrel against the Liturgy of the Church. And as to the several variations from the former Book, whether by alteration, addition, or otherwise, it shall suffice to give this general account. That most of the alterations were made, either first, for the better direction of them that are to officiate in any part of divine Service; which is chiefly done in the Calendars and Rubricks; Or secondly, for the more proper expressing of some words or phrases of ancient usage in terms more suitable to the language of the present times, and the clearer explanation of some other words and phrases, that were either of doubtful signification, or otherwise liable to misconstruction: Or thirdly, for a more perfect rendering of such portions of holy Scripture, as are inserted into the Liturgy; which, in the Epistles and Gospels especially, and in sundry other places, are now ordered to be read according to the last Translation: And that it was thought convenient, that some Prayers and Thanksgivings, fitted to special occasions, should be added in their due places; particularly for those at Sea, together with an Office for the Baptism of such as are of Riper Years; which, although not so necessary when the former Book was compiled, yet by the growth of Anabaptism, through the licentiousness of the late times crept in amongst us, is now become necessary, and may be always useful for the baptizing of natives in our plantations, and others converted to the faith. If any man, who shall desire a more particular account of the several alterations in any part of the Liturgy, shall take the pains to compare the present Book with the former, we doubt not but the reason of the change may easily appear.

And having thus endeavoured to discharge our duties in this weighty affair, as in the sight of God, and to approve our sincerity therein (so far as lay in us) to the consciences of all men; although we know it impossible (in such variety of apprehensions, humours, and interests, as are in the world) to please all; nor can expect that men of factions, peevish, and perverse spirits should be satisfied with any thing that can be done in this kind by any other than themselves; yet we have good hope, that what is here presented, and hath been by the Convocations of both Provinces with great diligence examined and approved, will be also well accepted and approved by all sober, peaceable, and truly conscientious sons of the Church of England.

CONCERNING THE SERVICE OF THE CHURCH.

THERE was never any thing by the wit of man so well devised, or so sure established, which, in continuance of time, hath not been corrupted: as, among other things, it may plainly appear by the Common Prayers in the Church, commonly called Divine Service. The first original and ground whereof if a man would search out by the ancient Fathers, he shall find, that the same was not ordained, but of a good purpose, and for a great advancement of godliness. For they so ordered the matter, that all the whole Bible (or the greatest part thereof) should be read over once every year; intending thereby, that the Clergy, and especially such as were Ministers in the congregation, should (by often reading, and meditation in God's word) be stirred up to godliness themselves, and be more able to exhort others by wholesome doctrine, and to confute them that were adversaries to the truth; and further, that the people (by daily hearing of holy Scripture read in the Church) might continually profit more and more in the knowledge of God, and be the more inflamed with the love of his true religion.

But these many years passed, this godly and decent order of the ancient Fathers hath been so altered, broken, and neglected, by planting in uncertain stories, and legends, with multitude of responds, verses, vain repetitions, commemorations, and synodals; that commonly when any book of the Bible was begun, after three or four chapters were read out, all the rest were unread. And in this sort the book of Isaiah was begun in Advent, and the book of Genesis in Septuagesima; but they were only begun, and never read through: after like sort were other books of holy Scripture used. And moreover, whereas St. Paul would have such language spoken to the people in the Church, as they might understand, and have profit by hearing the same; the service in this Church of England these many years, hath been read in Latin to the people, which they understand not; so that they have heard with their ears only, and their heart, spirit, and mind have not been edified thereby. And furthermore, notwithstanding that the ancient Fathers have divided the Psalms into seven portions, whereof every one was called a Nocturn: now of late time, a few of them have been daily said, and the rest utterly omitted. Moreover, the number and hardness of the rules called the Pie, and the manifold changings of the service was the cause, that to turn the book only was so hard and intricate a matter, that many times there was more business to find out what should be read, than to read it when it was found out.

These inconveniences therefore considered, here is set forth such an order, whereby the same shall be redressed. And for a readiness in this matter, here is drawn out a Calendar for that purpose, which is plain and easy to be understood; wherein (so much as may be) the reading of holy Scripture is so set forth, that all things shall be done in order, without breaking one piece from another. For this cause be cut off Anthems, Responds, Invitatories, and such like things as did break the continual course of the reading of the Scripture.

Yet, because there is no remedy, but that of necessity there must be some Rules; therefore certain Rules are here set forth; which, as they are few in number, so they are plain and easy to be understood. So that here you have an Order for Prayer, and for the reading of the holy Scripture, much agreeable to the mind and purpose of the old Fathers, and a great deal more profitable and commodious, than that which of late was used. It is more profitable, because here are left out many things, whereof some are untrue, some uncertain, some vain and superstitious; and nothing is ordained to be read, but the very pure word of God, the holy Scriptures, or that which is agreeable to the same; and that in such a language and order as is most easy and plain for the understanding both of the readers and hearers. It is also more commodious both for the shortness thereof, and for the plainness of the order, and for that the rules be few and easy.

And whereas heretofore there hath been great diversity in saying and singing in Churches within this Realm; some following Salisbury use, some Hereford use, and some the use of Bangor, some of York, some of Lincoln; now from henceforth all the whole Realm shall have but one use.

And forasmuch, as nothing can be so plainly set forth, but doubts may arise in the use and practice of the same; to appease all such diversity (if any arise) and for the resolution of all doubts, concerning the manner how to understand, do, and execute the things contained in this Book; the parties that so doubt, or diversly take any thing, shall alway resort to the Bishop of the Diocese, who by his discretion shall take order for the quieting and appeasing of the same; so that the same order be not contrary to any thing contained in this Book. And if the Bishop of the Diocese be in doubt, then he may send for the resolution thereof to the Archbishop.

THOUGH it be appointed, that all things shall be read and sung in the Church in the English tongue, to the end, that the congregation may be thereby edified; yet it is not meant, but that when men say Morning and Evening Prayer privately, they may say the same in any language that they themselves do understand.

And all Priests and Deacons are to say daily the Morning and Evening Prayer, either privately or openly, not being let by sickness, or some other urgent cause.

And the Curate that ministereth in every Parish-church or Chapel, being at home, and not being otherwise reasonably hindered, shall say the same in the Parish-church or Chapel where he ministereth, and shall cause a Bell to be tolled thereunto a convenient time before he begin, that the people may come to hear God's word, and to pray with him.

OF CEREMONIES,

WHY SOME BE ABOLISHED AND SOME RETAINED.

OF such Ceremonies as be used in the Church, and have had their beginning by the institution of man, some at the first were of godly intent and purpose devised, and yet at length turned to vanity and superstition: some entered into the Church by undiscreet devotion, and such a zeal as was without knowledge; and for because they were winked at in the beginning, they grew daily to more and more abuses, which not only for their unprofitableness, but also because they have much blinded the people, and obscured the glory of God, are worthy to be cut away, and clean rejected: other there be, which although they have been devised by man, yet it is thought good to reserve them still, as well for a decent order in the Church (for the which they were first devised) as because they pertain to edification, whereunto all things done in the Church (as the Apostle teacheth) ought to be referred.

And although the keeping or omitting of a ceremony, in itself considered, is but a small thing; yet the wilful and contemptuous transgression and breaking of a common order and discipline, is no small offence before God, Let all things be done among you, saith St. Paul, in a seemly and due order: the appointment of the which order pertaineth not to private men; therefore no man ought to take in hand, nor presume to appoint or alter any publick or common order in Christ's Church, except he be lawfully called and authorized thereunto.

And whereas in this our time, the minds of men are so divers, that some think it a great matter of conscience to depart from a piece of the least of their ceremonies, they be so addicted to their old customs; and again on the other side, some be so new-fangled, that they would innovate all things, and so despise the old, that nothing can like them, but that is new: it was thought expedient not so much to have respect how to please and satisfy either of these parties, as how to please God, and profit them both. And yet lest any man should be offended, whom good reason might satisfy, here be certain causes rendered, why some of the accustomed Ceremonies be put away, and some retained and kept still.

Some are put away, because the great excess and multitude of them hath so increased in these latter days, that the burden of them was intolerable; whereof St. Augustine in his time complained, that they were grown to such a number, that the estate of Christian people was in worse case concerning that matter, than were the Jews. And he counselled, that such yoke and burden should be taken away, as time would serve quietly to do it. But what would St. Augustine have said, if he had seen the ceremonies of late days used among us; whereunto the multitude used in his time was not to be compared? This our excessive multitude of ceremonies was so great, and many of them so dark, that they did more confound and darken, than declare and set forth Christ's benefits unto us. And besides this, Christ's gospel is not a ceremonial law (as much of Moses' law was,) but it is a religion to serve God, not in bondage of the figure or shadow, but in the freedom of the spirit; being content only with those ceremonies which do serve to a decent order, and godly discipline, and such as be apt to stir up the dull mind of man to the remembrance of his duty to God, by some notable and special signification, whereby he might be edified. Furthermore, the most weighty cause of the abolishment of certain ceremonies was, that they were so far abused; partly by the superstitious blindness of the rude and unlearned, and partly by the unsatiable avarice of such as sought more their own lucre, than the glory of God, that the abuses could not well be taken away, the thing remaining still.

But now as concerning those persons, which peradventure will be offended, for that some of the old ceremonies are retained still: If they consider, that without some ceremonies it is not possible to keep any order, or quiet discipline in the Church, they shall easily perceive just cause to reform their judgements. And if they think much, that any of the old do remain, and would rather have all devised anew: then such men granting some ceremonies convenient to be had, surely where the old may be well used, there they cannot reasonably reprove the old only for their age, without bewraying of their own folly. For in such a case they ought rather to have reverence unto them for their antiquity, if they will declare themselves to be more studious of unity and concord, than of innovations and new-fangleness, which (as much as may be with true setting forth of Christ's religion) is always to be eschewed. Furthermore, such shall have no just cause with the ceremonies reserved to be offended. For as those be taken away which were most abused, and did burden men's consciences without any cause; so the other that remain, are retained for a discipline and order which (upon just causes) may be altered and changed, and therefore are not to be esteemed equal with God's law. And moreover, they be neither dark nor dumb ceremonies, but are so set forth, that every man may understand what they do mean, and to what use they do serve. So that it is not like that they in time to come should be abused as other have been. And in these our doings we condemn no other nations, nor prescribe any thing but to our own people only: for we think it convenient, that every country should use such ceremonies as they shall think best to the setting forth of God's honour and glory, and to the reducing of the people to a most perfect and godly living, without error or superstition; and that they should put away other things, which from time to time they perceive to be most abused, as in men's ordinances it often chanceth diversly in divers countries.

THE ORDER HOW THE PSALTER IS APPOINTED TO BE READ.

THE Psalter shall be read through once every month, as it is there appointed, both for Morning and Evening Prayer. But in February it shall be read only to the twenty-eighth, or twenty-ninth day of the month.

And, whereas January, March, May, July, August, October, and December, have one-and-thirty days apiece; it is ordered, that the same Psalms shall be read the last day of the said months, which were read the day before: so that the Psalter may begin again the first day of the next month ensuing.

And whereas the 119th Psalm is divided into twenty-two portions, and is over-long to be read at one time; It is so ordered, that at one time shall not be read above four or five of the said portions.

And at the end of every Psalm, and of every such part of the 119th Psalm, shall be repeated this Hymn, Glory be to the Father, and to the Son: and to the Holy Ghost; As it was in the beginning is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Note, that the Psalter followeth the division of the Hebrews, and the translation of the great English Bible, set forth and used in the time of King Henry the Eighth, and Edward the Sixth.

THE ORDER HOW THE REST OF HOLY SCRIPURE IS APPOINTED TO BE READ.

THE Old Testament is appointed for the first Lessons at Morning and Evening Prayer; so as the most part thereof will be read every year once, as in the Calendar is appointed.

The New Testament is appointed for the second Lessons at Morning and Evening Prayer, and shall be read over orderly every year thrice, besides the Epistles and Gospels; except the Apocalypse, out of which there are only certain proper Lessons appointed upon divers Feasts.

And to know what Lessons shall be read every day, look for the day of the month in the Calendar following, and there ye shall find the chapters that shall be read for the Lessons both at Morning and Evening Prayer; except only the Moveable Feasts which are not in the Calendar, and the Immoveable, where there is a blank left in the column of Lessons, the proper Lessons for all which days are to be found in the Table of proper Lessons.

And note, that whensoever proper Psalms or Lessons are appointed; then the Psalms and Lessons of ordinary course appointed in the Psalter and Calendar (if they be different) shall be omitted for that time.

Note also, that the Collect, Epistle, and Gospel appointed for the Sunday shall serve all the week after, where it is not in this Book otherwise ordered.

THIS Table contains so much of the Calendar as is necessary for the determining of Easter; to find which, look for the Golden Number of the Year in the first Column of the Table, against which stands the day of the Paschal full Moon; then look in the third Column for the Sunday Letter, next after the Day of the Full Moon, and the day of the month standing against that Sunday Letter is Easter Day. If the full Moon happens upon a Sunday, then (according to the first Rule) the next Sunday after is Easter Day.

To find the Golden Number or Prime, add 1 to the Year of our Lord, and then divide by 19; the Remainder, if any, is the Golden Number; but if nothing remaineth, then 19 is the Golden Number.

To find the Dominical or Sunday Letter, according to the Calendar, until the Year 1799 inclusive, add to the Year of our Lord its Fourth Part, omitting Fractions, and also the Number 1: Divide the Sum by 7: and if there is no remainder, then A is the Sunday Letter: But if any Number remaineth, then the Letter standing against that Number in the small annexed Table, is the Sunday Letter.

For the next Century, that is, from the Year 1800 till the Year 1899 inclusive, add to the current Year only its fourth part, and then divide by 7, and proceed as in the last Rule.

Note, that in all Bissextile or Leap-Years, the Letter found as above will be the Sunday Letter, from the intercalated Day exclusive, to the end of the Year.

TO make use of the preceding Table, find the Sunday Letter for the Year in the uppermost Line, and the Golden Number, or Prime, in the Column of Golden Numbers, and against the Prime, in the same Line under the Sunday Letter, you have the Day of the Month on which Easter falleth that Year. But note, that the Name of the Month is set on the left hand, or just with the Figure, and followeth not, as in other Tables, by descent, but collateral.

Note, that in a Bissextile or Leap Year, the Number of Sundays after Epiphany will be the same, as if Easter-Day had fallen one day later than it really does. And for the same reason, one day must, in every Leap Year, be added to the day of the Month given by the Table for Septuagesima Sunday: And the like must be done for the first day of Lent (commonly called Ash-Wednesday) unless the Table gives some day in the Month of March for it; for in that case, the day given by the Table is the right day.

THE Golden Numbers in the foregoing Calendar will point out the Days of the Paschal Full Moons, till the Year of our Lord 1900: at which Time, in order that the Ecclesiastical Full Moons may fall nearly on the same Days with the real Full Moons, the Golden Numbers must be removed to different days of the Calendar, as is done in the annexed Table, which contains so much of the Calendar then to be used, as is necessary for finding the Paschal full Moons, and the Feast of Easter, from the Year 1900, to the Year 2199 inclusive. This Table is to be made use of, in all respects, as the first Table before inserted, for finding Easter till the Year 1899.

TO find the Month and Days of the Month to which the Golden Numbers ought to be prefixed in the Calendar, in any given Year of our Lord, consisting of entire Hundred Years, and in all the intermediate Years betwixt that and the next hundredth Year following, look in the Second Column of Table II. for the given Year consisting of entire Hundreds, and Note the Number or Cypher which stands against it in the Third Column; then, in Table III. look for the same Number in the Column under any given Golden Number, which when you have found, guide your Eye Side-ways to the Left Hand, and in the First Column you will find the Month and Day to which that Golden Number ought to be prefixed in the Calendar, during that Period of one hundred Years.

The Letter B prefixed to certain hundredth Years in Table II. denotes those Years which are still to be accounted Bissextile or Leap-Years in the new Calendar; whereas all the other hundredth Years are to be accounted only common Years.

THE ORDER FOR

MORNING AND EVENING PRAYER

Daily to be said and used throughout the year.

THE Morning and Evening Prayer shall be used in the accustomed place of the Church, Chapel, or Chancel; except it shall be otherwise determined by the Ordinary of the place. And the Chancels shall remain as they have done in times past.

And here is to be noted, that such Ornaments of the Church and of the Ministers thereof at all times of their Ministration, shall be retained and be in use, as were in this Church of England, by the Authority of Parliament, in the second year of the Reign of King Edward the Sixth.

THE ORDER FOR

MORNING PRAYER,

DAILY THROUGHOUT THE YEAR.

(1.) At the beginning of Morning Prayer the Minister [33 Ez. 7] shall read with a loud voice some one or more of these Sentences of the Scriptures that follow. And then he shall say that which is written after the said Sentences.

WHEN the wicked man[a] turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive.[b] Ezek. xviii. 27.

I acknowledge my transgressions,[c] and my sin is ever before me.[d] Ps. li. 3.

Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out[all]mine iniquities.[e] Ps. li. 9.

The sacrifices of God[f] are a broken spirit[g]: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.[h] Ps. li. 17.

Rend your heart,[i] and not your garments, and turn unto the Lord your God: for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger,[j] and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil.[k] Joel ii. 13.

To the Lord our God[l] belong mercies and forgivenesses,[m] though we have rebelled against him: neither have we obeyed[n] the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in his laws which he set before us. Dan. ix. 9, 10.

O Lord, correct me,[o] but with judgement; not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.[p] Jer. x. 24. Ps. vi. 1.

Repent ye[q]; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.[r] St. Matt. iii. 2.

I will arise, and go to my father,[s] and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned[t] against heaven, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy son.[u] St. Luke xv. 18, 19.

Enter not into judgement with thy servant, O Lord[v]; for in thy sight shall no man living be justified.[w] Psalm cxliii. 2.

If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves,[x] and the truth is not in us: but, if we confess our sins, He is faithful and just[y] to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.[z] 1 John i. 8, 9.

DEARLY beloved brethren,[a] the Scripture moveth us in sundry places to acknowledge and confess our manifold sins and wickedness[b]; and that we should not dissemble nor cloke[c] them before the face of Almighty God our heavenly Father; but confess them with an humble, lowly, penitent, and obedient heart[d]; to the end that we may obtain forgiveness of the same,[e] by his infinite goodness and mercy.[f] And although we ought at all times humbly to acknowledge our sins before God[g], yet ought we most chiefly so to do, when we assemble and meet together[h] to render thanks for the great benefits that we have received at his hands,[i] to set forth his most worthy praise,[j] to hear his most holy word,[k] and to ask those things which are requisite and necessary, as well for the body as the soul.[l] Wherefore I pray and beseech you,[m] as many as are here present, to accompany me with a pure heart[n] and humble voice, unto the throne of the heavenly grace,[o] saying after me:

See No. 17.

A general Confession to be said of the whole Congregation after the Minister, all kneeling. [95 Ps. 6; 6 Da. l. 10.]

ALMIGHTY and most merciful Father[a]; We have erred, and strayed from thy ways like lost sheep.[b] We have followed too much the devices and desires of our own hearts.[c] We have offended against thy holy laws.[d] We have left undone those things which we ought to have done[e]; And we have done those things which we ought not to have done[f]; And there is no health in us.[g] But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us, miserable offenders.[h] Spare thou them, O God, which confess their faults.[i] Restore thou them that are penitent[j]; According to thy promises declared unto mankind in Christ Jesu our Lord.[k] And grant, O most merciful Father, for his sake[l]; That we may hereafter live a godly, righteous, and sober life,[m] To the glory of thy holy Name.[n] Amen.

The Absolution, or Remission of sins, to be pronounced by the Priest alone, standing; the people still kneeling.

ALMIGHTY God,[a] the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,[b] who desireth not the death of a sinner, but rather that he may turn from his wickedness and live[c]; and hath given power, and commandment,[d] to his Ministers,[e] to declare and pronounce to his people, being penitent, the Absolution and Remission of their sins[f]: He pardoneth and absolveth all them that truly repent, and unfeignedly believe his holy

Gospel.[g] Wherefore let us beseech him to grant us true repentance,[h] and his holy Spirit,[i] that those things may please him,[j] which we do at this present; and that the rest of our life hereafter may be pure, and holy[k]; so that at the last we may come to his eternal joy[l]; through Jesus Christ our Lord.[m]

The People shall answer here, and at the end of all other Prayers, Amen. [cf. 14 i Co. 16.]

(5.) Then the Minister shall kneel, and say the Lord's Prayer [6 Mat. 9—13] with an audible voice; the People also kneeling, and repeating it with him [cf. 4 Ac. 24], both here, and wheresoever else it is used in Divine Service.

OUR Father,[a] which art in heaven,[b] Hallowed be thy Name.[c] Thy kingdom come.[d] Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven.[e] Give us this day our daily bread.[f] And forgive us our trespasses, As we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; But deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom,[g] The power,[h] and the glory,[i] for ever and ever. Amen.

Then likewise he shall say,

O Lord, open thou our lips.

Answer. And our mouth shall shew forth thy praise.[k]

Priest. O God, make speed to save us.

Answer. O Lord, make haste to help us.[l]

Here all standing up, the Priest shall say,

Glory[m] be to the Father, and to the Son: and to the Holy Ghost;

Answer. As it was in the beginning,[n] is now, and ever shall be: world without end. Amen.

Priest. Praise ye the Lord.[o]

Answer. The Lord's Name be praised.[p]

Then shall be said or sung this Psalm following: except on Easter-Day, upon which another Anthem is appointed; and on the Nineteenth day of every Month it is not to be read here, but in the ordinary Course of the Psalms.

O COME, let us sing unto the Lord[a]: let us heartily rejoice in the strength of our salvation.[b]

Let us come before his presence[c], with thanksgiving: and shew ourselves glad in him with Psalms.[d]

For the Lord is a great God: and a great King above all gods.[e]

In his hand are all the corners of the earth: and the strength of the hills is his also.[f]

The sea is his, and he made it: and his hands prepared the dry land.[g]

O come, let us worship, and fall down: and kneel before the Lord our Maker.[h]

For he is the Lord our God[i] : and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand.[j]

To day if ye will hear his voice,[k] harden not your hearts[l] : as in the provocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wilderness;[m]

When your fathers tempted me : proved me,[m] and saw my works.[n]

Forty years long was I grieved with this generation,[o] and said : It is a people that do err in their hearts,[p] for they have not known my ways.[q]

Unto whom I sware in my wrath[r] : that they should not enter into my rest.[s]

Glory be to the Father,[t] and to the Son[u] : and to the Holy Ghost[v];

As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be[w] : world without end. Amen.

Then shall follow the Psalms in order as they are appointed. And at the end of every Psalm throughout the year, and likewise at the end of Benedicite, Benedictus, Magnificat, and Nunc dimittis, shall be repeated,

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son : and to the Holy Ghost;

Answer. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be : world without end. Amen.

Then shall be read distinctly with an audible voice the First Lesson, taken out of the Old Testament, as is appointed in the Calendar, except there be proper Lessons assigned for that day: He that readeth so standing and turning himself, as he may best be heard of all such as are present. And after that, shall be said or sung, in English, the Hymn called Te Deum laudamus, daily throughout the year.

Note, That before every Lesson the Minister shall say, Here beginneth such a Chapter, or Verse of such a Chapter, of such a Book: And after every Lesson, Here endeth the First, or the Second Lesson.

Te Deum laudamus.

WE praise thee, O God[a] : we acknowledge thee to be the Lord.[b]

All the earth doth worship thee[c] : the Father everlasting.[d]

To thee all angels cry aloud : the heavens, and all the powers therein.[e]

To thee Cherubin, and Seraphin[f]: continually do cry,

Holy, Holy, Holy : Lord God of Sabaoth[g];

Heaven and earth are full of the majesty : of thy glory.[h]

The glorious company of the Apostles : praise thee.[i]

The goodly fellowship of the Prophets : praise thee.[j]

The noble army of Martyrs : praise thee.[k]

The holy Church throughout all the world : doth acknowledge thee[l];

The Father : of an infinite Majesty[m];

Thine honourable, true : and only Son[n];

(9.) Benedictus. St. Luke i. 68-79.

BLESSED be the Lord God of Israel[a] : for he hath visited, and redeemed his people[b];

And hath raised up a mighty[1] salvation for us[c] : in the house of his servant David[d];

As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets[e] : which have been since the world began;

That we should be saved from our enemies[f] : and from the hands[2] of all that hate us;

To perform the mercy promised to our forefathers[3] [g] : and to remember his holy covenant[h];

To perform the oath[4] which he sware to our father[5] Abraham[i] : that he would give us[6] ;

That we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies : might serve him without fear[j];

In holiness and righteousness before him[k] : all the days of our life.

And thou, Child, shalt be called the Prophet[l] of the Highest : for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways[m];

To give knowledge of salvation unto his people : for[7] the remission of their sins,[n]

Through the tender mercy[8] of our God[o] whereby the Day-spring[9] from on high hath visited us[p];

To give light[q] to them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death[r] : and to guide our feet into the way of peace.[s]

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son[t] : and to the Holy Ghost;

As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be[u] : world without end. Amen.

And the two last Collects shall never alter, but daily be said at Morning Prayer throughout all the Year, as followeth; all kneeling.

O GOD, who art the author of peace[a] and lover of concord,[b] in knowledge of whom standeth our eternal life,[c] whose service is perfect freedom[d]; defend us thy humble servants[e] in all assaults of our enemies[f]; that we surely trusting in thy defence,[g] may not fear the power of any adversaries,[h] through the might of Jesus Christ our Lord.[i] Amen.

The Third Collect, for Grace.

O LORD our heavenly Father,[j] Almighty and everlasting God,[k] who hast safely brought us to the beginning of this day[l]; defend us in the same with thy mighty power,[m] and grant that this day we fall into no sin,[n] neither run into any kind of danger[o]; but that all our doings may be ordered by thy governance,[p] to do always that is righteous in thy sight[q]; through Jesus Christ our Lord.[r] Amen.

Here endeth the order of Morning Prayer throughout the Year.

THE ORDER FOR

EVENING PRAYER,

DAILY THROUGHOUT THE YEAR.

(16.) At the beginning of Evening Prayer, the Minister shall read with a loud voice some one or more of these sentences of the Scriptures that follow. And then he shall say that which is written after the said Sentences.

WHEN the wicked man turneth[a] away from his wickedness that he hath committed,[b] and doeth that which is lawful and right,[c] he shall save his soul alive.[d] Ezek. xviii. 27.

I acknowledge my transgressions,[e] and my sin is ever before me.[f] Ps. li. 3.

Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out[all]mine iniquities.[g] Ps. li. 9.

The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit[h]: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.[i] Ps. li. 17.

Rend your heart, and not your garments,[j] and turn unto the Lord your God[k]: for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil.[l] Joel ii. 13.

To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses,[m] though we have rebelled against him[n]: neither have we obeyed the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in his laws which he set before us.[o] Dan. ix. 9, 10.

O Lord, correct me, but with judgement[p]: not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.[q] Jer. x. 24. Ps. vi. 1.

Repent ye[r]; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.[s] St. Matt. iii. 2.

I will arise, and go to my father,[t] and will say unto him, Father,[u] I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy son.[v] St. Luke xv. 18, 19.

Enter not into judgement with thy servant, O Lord: for in thy sight shall no man living be justified.[w] Ps. cxliii. 2.

If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us[x]: but, if we confess our sins,[y] He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.[z] 1 St. John i. 8, 9.

DEARLY beloved[a] brethren, the Scripture moveth us in sundry places to acknowledge and confess our manifold sins and wickedness[b]; and that we should not dissemble nor cloke[c] them before the face of Almighty God our heavenly Father[d]; but confess them with an humble, lowly,[e] penitent, and obedient[f] heart; to the end that we may obtain forgiveness of the same,[g] by his infinite goodness and mercy.[h] And although we ought at all times[i] humbly to acknowledge our sins before God; yet ought we most chiefly so to do, when we assemble and meet together[j] to render thanks for the great benefits that we have received at his hands, to set forth his most worthy praise,[k] to hear his most holy word,[l] and to ask those things which are requisite and necessary, as well for the body as the soul.[m] Wherefore I pray and beseech you,[n] as many as are here present, to accompany me with a pure heart,[o] and humble voice,[p] unto the throne of the heavenly grace, saying after me;

See No. 2.

A general Confession to be said of the whole Congregation after the Minister, all kneeling. [6 ii Ch. 13; 20 Ac. 36; 21 Ac. l. 5.]

ALMIGHTY[a] and most merciful Father[b]; We have erred, and strayed from thy ways like lost sheep.[c] We have followed too much the devices and desires of our own hearts.[d] We have offended against thy holy laws.[e] We have left undone[f] those things which we ought to have done; And we have done those things which we ought not to have done[g]; And there is no health in us.[h] But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us, miserable offenders.[i] Spare[j] thou them, O God, which confess their faults.[k] Restore[l] thou them that are penitent; According to thy promises[m] declared unto mankind in Christ Jesu our Lord.[n] And grant, O most merciful Father, for his sake[o]; that we may hereafter live a godly, righteous, and sober life,[p] To the glory of thy holy name.[q] Amen.

The Absolution, or Remission of Sins, to be pronounced by the Priest alone, standing; the People still kneeling.

ALMIGHTY[a] God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,[b] who desireth not the death of a sinner, but rather that he may turn from his wickedness, and live[c]; and hath given power, and commandment, to his Ministers,[d] to declare and pronounce to his people, being penitent, the Absolution and Remission of their sins[e]: He pardoneth and absolveth all them that truly repent,[f] and unfeignedly believe his holy Gospel.[g]

Wherefore let us beseech him to grant us true repentance,[h] and his holy Spirit,[i] that those things may please him,[j] which we do at this present; and that the rest of our life hereafter may be pure, and holy[k]; so that at the last we may come to his eternal joy[l]; through Jesus Christ our Lord.[m] Amen.

See 195 a-g.

(20.) Then the Minister shall kneel, and say the Lord's Prayer; the People also kneeling, and repeating it with him.

OUR Father,[a] which art in heaven,[b] Hallowed be thy Name.[c] Thy kingdom come.[d] Thy will be done[e] in earth, As it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses,[f] As we forgive them that trespass against us.[g] And lead us not into temptation; But deliver us from evil[h]: For thine is the kingdom,[i] the power,[j] and the glory,[k] For ever and ever. Amen.

See 26 a-g.

Then likewise he shall say,

O Lord, open thou our lips;

Answer. And our mouth shall shew forth thy praise.

Priest. O God, make speed to save us.

Answer. O Lord, make haste to help us.[m]

See 56 h.

Here all standing up, the Priest shall say,

Glory be to the Father,[n] and to the Son[o]: and to the Holy Ghost[p],

Answer. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be[q]: world without end. Amen.[r]

Priest. Praise ye the Lord.[s]

Answer. The Lord's name be praised.[t]

See 21*m-o.*

Then shall be said or sung the Psalms in order as they are appointed. Then a Lesson of the Old Testament, as is appointed. And after that, Magnificat (or the Song of the blessed Virgin Mary*) in English, as followeth.*

MY soul doth magnify the Lord[a]: and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.[b]

For he hath regarded[1] the lowliness of his handmaiden.[c]

For behold, from henceforth: all generations shall call me blessed.[d]

For he that is mighty hath magnified me[2]: and holy is his Name.[e]

And his mercy is on them that fear him: throughout all generations.[3][f]

He hath shewed strength with his arm[g]: he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.[h]

He hath put down the mighty from their seat[4]: and hath exalted the humble and meek.[5][i]

7 spake to our fathers, to Abraham, & to his

As it was in the beginning, is now,[o] and ever shall be : world without end. Amen.

Or else this Psalm; except it be on the Nineteenth day of the month, when it is read in the ordinary course of the Psalms.

O SING unto the Lord a new song : for he hath done marvellous things.[a]

With his own right hand, and with his holy arm : hath he gotten himself the victory.[b]

The Lord declared his salvation : his righteousness hath he openly shewed in the sight of the heathen.[c]

He hath remembered his mercy and truth toward the house of Israel[d] : and all the ends of the world have seen the salvation of our God.[e]

Shew yourselves joyful unto the Lord, all ye lands : sing, rejoice, and give thanks.[f]

Praise the Lord upon the harp : sing to the harp with a psalm of thanksgiving.[g]

With trumpets also and shawms : O shew yourselves joyful before the Lord the King.[h]

Let the sea make a noise, and all that therein is[i] : the round world, and they that dwell therein.[j]

Let the floods clap their hands, and let the hills be joyful together before the Lord[k] : for he cometh to judge the earth.

With righteousness shall he judge the world : and the people with equity.[l]

Glory be to the Father,[m] and to the Son[n] : and to the Holy Ghost;

As it was in the beginning,[o] is now, and ever shall be[p] : world without end. Amen.

Then a Lesson of the New Testament, as it is appointed. And after that, Nunc dimittis (or the Song of Simeon*) in English, as followeth.*

LORD, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace[a] : according to thy word.[b]

For mine eyes have seen : thy salvation,[c]

Which thou hast prepared : before the face of all people;

OGOD, from whom all holy desires, all good counsels, and all just works do proceed[a]: Give unto thy servants that peace which the world cannot give,[b] that both our hearts may be set to obey thy commandments,[c] and also that by thee we being defended from the fear of our enemies[d] may pass our time in rest and quietness,[e] through the merits of Jesus Christ our Saviour. Amen.

In Quires and Places where they sing, here followeth the Anthem.

A Prayer for the Queen's Majesty.

(28.) O LORD our heavenly Father, high and mighty, King of kings, Lord of lords, the only Ruler of princes,[a] who dost from thy throne behold all the dwellers upon earth[b]; Most heartily we beseech thee with thy favour[c] to behold our most gracious Sovereign[d] Lady, Queen VICTORIA; and so replenish her with the grace of thy holy Spirit,[e] that she may alway incline to thy will, and walk in thy way[f]: Endue her plenteously with heavenly gifts[g]; grant her in health and wealth long to live[h]; strengthen her that she may vanquish and overcome all her enemies[i]; and finally, after this life, she may attain everlasting joy and felicity[j]; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

A Prayer for the Royal Family.

ALMIGHTY God, the fountain of all goodness,[k] we humbly beseech thee to bless the Prince Consort, Albert Prince of Wales, and all the Royal Family[l]: Endue them with thy holy Spirit[m]; enrich them with thy heavenly grace[n]; prosper them with all happiness[o]; and bring them to thine everlasting kingdom[p]; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

A Prayer for the Clergy and People.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, who alone workest great marvels[q]; Send down upon our Bishops, and Curates,[r] and all Congregations committed to their charge,[s] the healthful Spirit of thy grace[t]; and that they may truly please thee,[u] pour upon them the continual dew of thy blessing.[v] Grant this, O Lord, for the honour[w] of our Advocate and Mediator, Jesus Christ.[x] Amen.

A Prayer of St. Chrysostom.

(29.) ALMIGHTY God,[a] who hast given us grace[b] at this time with one accord to make our common supplications unto thee[c]; and dost promise, that when two or three are gathered together in thy name thou wilt grant their requests[d]: Fulfil now, O Lord, the desires and petitions of thy servants,[e] as may be most expedient for them[f]; granting us in this world knowledge of thy truth,[g] and in the world to come life everlasting.[h] Amen.

2 Cor. xiii. 14.

THE grace of our Lord Jesus Christ,[i] and the love of God,[j] and the fellowship of the Holy Ghost,[k] be with us all evermore.[l] Amen.

Here endeth the Order of Evening Prayer throughout the Year.

AT MORNING PRAYER.

Upon these Feasts; Christmas-Day, the Epiphany, St. Matthias, Easter-Day, Ascension-Day, Whitsunday, St. John Baptist, St. James, St. Bartholomew, St. Matthew, St. Simon and St. Jude, St. Andrew, and upon Trinity-Sunday, shall be sung or said at Morning Prayer, instead of the Apostles' Creed, this Confession of our Christian Faith, commonly called The Creed of St. Athanasius, by the Minister and People standing.

WHOSOEVER will be saved[a]: before all things it is necessary that he hold the Catholic Faith.[b]

Which Faith except every one do keep whole and undefiled[c]: without doubt he shall perish everlastingly.[d]

And the Catholic Faith[e] is this: That we worship one God[f] in Trinity, and Trinity in Unity[g];

Neither confounding the persons[h]: nor dividing the substance.[i]

For there is one person of the Father,[j] another of the Son[k]: and another of the Holy Ghost.[l]

But the Godhead of the Father, of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, is all one[m]: the Glory equal, the Majesty co-eternal.[n]

Such as the Father is, such is the Son: and such is the Holy Ghost.[o]

The Father uncreate, the Son uncreate: and the Holy Ghost uncreate.[p]

The Father incomprehensible, the Son incomprehensible: and the Holy Ghost incomprehensible.[q]

The Father eternal,[r] the Son eternal[s]: and the Holy Ghost eternal.[t]

And yet they are not three eternals: but one eternal.[u]

As also there are not three incomprehensibles, nor three uncreated: but one uncreated, and one incomprehensible.[v]

So likewise the Father is Almighty,[w] the Son Almighty[x]: and the Holy Ghost Almighty.[y]

And yet they are not three Almighties: but one Almighty.[z]

(31.) So the Father is God,[a] the Son is God[b]: and the Holy Ghost is God.[c]

And yet they are not three Gods: but one God.[d]

So likewise the Father is Lord,[e] the Son Lord[f]: and the Holy Ghost Lord[g];

And yet not three Lords: but one Lord.[h]

For like as we are compelled by the Christian verity: to acknowledge every person by himself to be God and Lord[i];

So are we forbidden by the Catholic Religion: to say, There be three Gods, or three Lords.[j]

The Father is made of none: neither created, nor begotten.[k]

The Son is of the Father alone: not made, nor created, but begotten.[l]

The Holy Ghost is of the Father[m] and of the Son[n]: neither made, nor created, nor begotten, but proceeding.[o]

So there is one Father,[p] not three Fathers; one Son,[q] not three Sons: one Holy Ghost,[r] not three Holy Ghosts.

And in this Trinity none is afore, or after other: none is greater, or less than another;

But the whole three persons are co-eternal together: and co-equal.[s]

So that in all things, as is aforesaid: the Unity in Trinity, and the Trinity in Unity is to be worshipped.[t]

He therefore that will be saved[u]: must thus think of the Trinity.[v]

(32.) Furthermore, it is necessary to everlasting salvation: that he also believe rightly the Incarnation of our Lord Jesus Christ.[a]

For the right Faith is, that we believe and confess[b]: that our Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of God, is God and Man[c]; God, of the substance of the Father, begotten before the worlds[d]: and Man, of the substance of his Mother, born in the world[e];

Perfect God,[f] and perfect Man[g]: of a reasonable soul[h] and human flesh[i] subsisting;

Equal to the Father, as touching his Godhead[j]: and inferior to the Father, as touching his Manhood.[k]

Who although he be God and Man: yet he is not two, but one Christ[l];

One; not by conversion of the Godhead into flesh: but by taking of the Manhood into God[m]; q 90 Ps. 14, 15.

In the Ember weeks, to be said every day, for those that are to be admitted into holy Orders.

ALMIGHTY God,[r] our heavenly Father,[s] who hast purchased to thyself[t] an universal Church by the precious blood of thy dear Son[u]; mercifully look upon the same,[v] and at this time so guide and govern the minds of thy servants the Bishops and Pastors of thy flock,[w] that they may lay hands suddenly on no man,[x] but faithfully and wisely make choice of fit persons to serve in the sacred ministry of thy Church.[y] And to those which shall be ordained to any holy function give thy grace and heavenly benediction,[z] that both by their life and doctrine they may set forth thy glory,[aa] and set forward the salvation of all men[bb]; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

A general Thanksgiving.

ALMIGHTY God, Father of all mercies,[a] we thine unworthy servants do give thee most humble and hearty thanks for all thy goodness and lovingkindness to us, and to all men[b]; [particularly to those who desire now to offer up their praises and thanksgivings for thy late mercies vouchsafed unto them.*[c]] We bless thee for our creation,[d] preservation,[e] and all the blessings of this life[f]; but above all, for thine inestimable love[g] in the redemption of the world by our Lord Jesus Christ[h]; for the means of grace,[i] and for the hope of glory.[j] And, we beseech thee, give us that due sense of all thy mercies,[k] that our hearts may be unfeignedly thankful,[l] and that we shew forth thy praise, not only with our lips,[m] but in our lives[n]; by giving up ourselves to thy service,[o] and by walking before thee in holiness and righteousness all our days[p]; through Jesus Christ our Lord,[q] to whom with thee and the holy Ghost be all honour and glory, world without end.[r] Amen.

The Gospel. St. Matth. xxi. 1—13.

WHEN they drew nigh unto Jerusalem,[a] and were come to Bethphage, unto the mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples, saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me. And if any man say ought unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them.[b] All this was done,[c] that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet,[d] saying, Tell ye the daughter of Sion,[e] Behold, thy King cometh unto thee,[f] meek,[g] and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass. And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them; and brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon.[h] And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; others cut down branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way. And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the Son of David[i]: Blessed is he that cometh in the Name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest.[j] And when he was come into Jerusalem all the city was moved,[k] saying, Who is this? And the multitude said, This is Jesus the Prophet of Nazareth of Galilee.[l] And Jesus went into the temple of God,[m] and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple; and overthrew the tables of the money-changers,[n] and the seats of them that sold doves[o]; and said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer[p]; but ye have made it a den of thieves.[q]

BLESSED Lord,[a] who hast caused all holy Scriptures to be written[b] for our learning[c]; Grant that we may in such wise hear[d] them, read,[e] mark,[f] learn[g], and inwardly digest them,[h] that by patience[i] and comfort of thy holy word,[j] we may embrace, and ever hold fast the blessed hope of everlasting life,[k] which thou hast given us in our Saviour Jesus Christ.[l] Amen.

The Epistle. Rom. xv. 4-13.

WHATSOEVER things were written aforetime, were written for our learning[a]; that we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures, might have hope.[b] Now the God of patience and consolation[c] grant you to be like-minded one towards another,[d] according to[l] Christ Jesus[e]: that ye may with one mind, and one mouth, glorify God,[f] even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.[g] Wherefore receive ye one another,[h] as Christ also received us,[i] to the glory of God.[j] Now I say, that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision[k] for the truth of God,[l] to confirm the promises made unto the fathers[m]: And that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy[n]; as it is written,[o] For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name.[p] And again he saith,[q] Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.[r] And again,[s] Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles, and laud him, all ye people.[t] And again Esaias saith,[u] There shall be a root of Jesse,[v] and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles, in him shall the Gentiles trust.[w] Now the God of hope[x] fill you with all joy and peace in believing,[y] that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the holy Ghost.[z]

THE THIRD SUNDAY IN ADVENT.

The Collect.

(53.) O LORD Jesu Christ,[a] who at thy first coming didst send thy messenger to prepare thy way before thee[b]; Grant that the ministers and stewards[c] of thy mysteries,[d] may likewise so prepare and make ready thy way, by turning the hearts of the disobedient to the wisdom of the just,[e] that at thy second coming to judge the world,[f] we may be found an acceptable people in thy sight,[g] who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Spirit, ever one God, world without end.[h] Amen.

(54.) LET a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ,[a] and stewards[b] of the mysteries of God.[c] Moreover, it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.[d] But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's judgement[1 e]: yea, I judge not mine own self.[f] For I know nothing by myself,[g] yet am I not hereby justified[h]; but he that judgeth me is the Lord.[i] Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come,[j] who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts[k]; and then shall every man have praise of God.[l]

THIS is the record of John,[a] when the Jews sent Priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, Who art thou?[b] And he confessed, and denied not; but confessed, I am not the Christ.[c] And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias?[d] And he saith, I am not.[e] Art thou that Prophet?[f] And he answered, No. Then said they unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself? He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the prophet Esaias.[g] And they which were sent were of the Pharisees.[h] And they asked him, and said unto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ,

GOD, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets,[a] hath in these last days[b] spoken unto us by his Son,[c] whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds[d]; who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person,[e] and upholding all things by the word of his power,[f] when he had by himself purged our sins,[g] sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high[h]: being made so much better than the angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they.[i] For unto which of the angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee?[j] And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son?[k] And again, when he bringeth in[1] the first-begotten into the world, he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him.[l] And of[2] the angels he saith, Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire.[m] But unto the Son he saith,[n] Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever[o]; a sceptre of righteousness[3] is the sceptre of thy kingdom.[p] Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity[q]; therefore God, even thy God[r] hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness[s] above thy fel-

(60.) The Gospel. St. John i. 1-14.

IN the beginning[a] was the Word,[b] and the Word was with God,[c] and the Word was God.[d] The same was in the beginning with God.[e] All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made, that was made.[f] In him was life,[g] and the life was the light of men.[h] And the light shineth in darkness, and the darkness comprehended it not.[i] There was a man sent from God, whose name was John.[j] The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the light,[k] that all[l] men through him might believe. He was not that light, but was sent to bear witness of that light.[m] That was the true light,[n] which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.[o] He was in the world,[p] and the world was made by him,[q] and the world knew him not.[r] He came unto his own, and his own received him not.[s] But as many as received him, to them gave he power[1] to become the sons of God,[t] even to them that believe on his name[u]: which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.[v] And the Word was made flesh,[w] and dwelt among us[x] (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only-begotten of the Father[y]) full of grace and truth.[z]

For the Epistle. Acts vii. 55-60.

STEPHEN, being full of the holy Ghost,[t] looked up stedfastly into heaven,[j] and saw the glory of God,[k] and Jesus standing on the right hand of God, and said, Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God.[l] Then they cried out with a loud voice,[m] and stopped their ears, and ran upon him with one accord, and cast him out of the city,[n] and stoned him[o]: and the witnesses[p] laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul.[q] And they stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus receive my spirit.[r] And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge.[s] And when he had said this, he fell asleep.[t]

The Gospel. St. Matt. xxiii. 34-39.

BEHOLD, I send unto you[a] prophets,[b] and wise men,[c] and scribes[d]; and some of them ye shall kill and crucify[e]; and some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city[f]; that upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth,[g] from the blood of righteous Abel,[h] unto the blood of Zacharias, son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar.[i] Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation.[j] O Jerusalem, Jerusalem,[k] thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee[l]; how often would I have gathered thy children together,[m] even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings,[n] and ye would not![o] Behold, your house is left unto you desolate.[p] For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth,[q] till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.[r] which we have looked upon,[g] and our hands have handled[h] of the word of life'; (for the life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us[i];) That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you,[k] that ye also may have fellowship with us[l]; and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.[m] And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full.[n] This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, That God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.[o] If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth[p]: but if we walk in the light,[q] as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another,[r] and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.[s] If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves,[t] and the truth is not in us.[u] If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins,[v] and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.[w] If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.[x]

The Gospel. St. John xxi. 19-25.

JESUS said unto Peter, Follow me.[a] Then Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved following; which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?[b] Peter seeing him saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do?[c] Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come,[d] what is that to thee? Follow thou me. Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, That that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, He shall not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?[e] This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things, and we know that his testimony is true.[f] And there are also many other things which Jesus did,[g] the which if they should be written every one, I suppose, that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written.

For the Epistle. Rev. xiv. 1-5.

I LOOKED,[g] and lo, a Lamb[h] stood on the mount Sion,[i] and with him an hundred forty and four thousand,[j] having his Father's name written in their foreheads.[k] And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder[l]: and I heard the voice of harpers harping with their harps[m]: and they sung as it were a new song[n] before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders[o]; and no man could learn that song,[p] but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.[q] These are they which were not defiled with women, for they are virgins[r]: these are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he[s] goeth[s]: these were redeemed[t] from among men, being the first-fruits unto God, and to the Lamb.[t] And in their mouth was found no guile[u]; for they are without fault before the throne of God.[v]

The Gospel. St. Matth. ii. 13-18.

THE Angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream,[a] saying, Arise, and take the young child, and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word[b]; for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him.[c] When he arose,[d] he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt, and was there until the death of Herod[e]; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I called my Son.[f] Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth[g]; and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof,[h] from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently enquired of the wise men.[i] Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremy the prophet,[j] saying, In Rama was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.[k]

The Collect.

ALMIGHTY God, who hast given us thy only-begotten Son to take our nature upon him,[a] and as at this time to be born of a pure Virgin[b]; Grant that we being regenerate,[c] and made thy children by adoption and grace,[d] may daily be renewed[e] by thy Holy Spirit, through the same our Lord Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with thee and the same Spirit, ever one God, world without end.[f] Amen.

The Epistle. Gal. iv. 1-7.

NOW I say, that the heir,[g] as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a servant, though he be lord of all; but is under tutors and governors,[h] until the time appointed of the father.[i] Even so we, when we were children,[j] were in bondage under the elements[l] of the world[k]: but when the fulness of the time was come,[l] God sent forth his Son, made of a woman,[m] made under the law,[n] to redeem them that were under the law,[o] that we might receive the adoption of sons.[p] And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts,[q] crying, Abba, Father.[r] Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son[s]; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.[t]

The Gospel. St. Matth. i. 18-25

THE birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise[a]: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, (before they came together) she was found with child[b] of the holy Ghost.[c] Then Joseph her husband,[d] being a just man,[e] and not willing to make her a public example,[f] was minded to put her away privily.[g] But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream,[h] saying, Joseph, thou son of David,[i] fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife[j]; for that which is conceived[l] in her is of the holy Ghost[k]: And she shall bring forth a Son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS[2]; for he shall save his people from their sins.[l] (Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled[m] which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet,[n] saying, Behold, a Virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a Son, and they shall call his name[3] Emmanuel,[o] which being interpreted is, God with us.[p]) Then Joseph, being raised from sleep, did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife: and knew her not till she had brought forth her first born son: and he called his name JESUS.[q]

The Collect.

ALMIGHTY God, who madest thy blessed Son to be circumcised,[a] and obedient to the law for man[b]; Grant us the true circumcision[c] of the Spirit[d]; that our hearts and all our members being mortified from all worldly and carnal lusts,[e] we may in all things obey thy blessed will,[f] through the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord.[g] Amen.

The Epistle. Rom. iv. 8-14.

BLESSED is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin.[h] Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also[i]? For we say, that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.[j] How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.[k] And he received the sign of circumcision,[l] a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised[m]; that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised[n]; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also[o]: and the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only,[p] but also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had being yet uncircumcised.[q] For the promise, that he should be the heir of the world,[r] was not to Abraham or to his seed, through the law,[s] but through the righteousness of faith.[t] For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect.[u]

The Gospel. St. Luke ii. 15-21.

AND it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven,[a] the shepherds[1] said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass,[b] which the Lord hath made known unto us.[c] And they came with haste,[d] and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.[e] And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.[f] And all they that heard it, wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.[g] But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.[h] And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.[i] And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child,[j] his name a 5 i Ch. 2; 7 Joh. 42.

WHEN Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea,[a] in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east[b] to Jerusalem,[c] saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews[d]? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him.[e] When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.[f] And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them, where Christ should be born.[g] And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea[h]: for thus it is written by the prophet,[i] And thou, Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor that shall rule[1] my people Israel.[j] Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the star appeared.[k] And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go, and search diligently for the young child, and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.[l] When they had heard the king, they departed; and lo, the star which they saw in the east went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.[m] When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.[n] And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down and worshipped him[o]: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented[2] unto him gifts[p]; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.[q] And being warned of God in a dream, that they should not return to Herod,[r] they departed into their own country another way.

The Gospel. St. Luke ii. 41-52.

NOW his parents went to Jerusalem[a] every year at the feast of the passover.[b] And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem, after the custom of the feast. And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and his mother knew not of it. But they, supposing him to have been in the company,[c] went a day's journey, and they sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance. And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jerusalem, seeking him. And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions. And all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers.[d] And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing. And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business[e]? And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.[f] And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth,[g] and was subject unto them[h]: but his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.[i] And Jesus increased in wisdom, and stature,[j] and in favour with God and man.[k]

HAVING then gifts[f] differing according to the grace that is given to us,[g] whether prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of faith[h]; or ministry, let us wait on our ministering[1]; or he that teacheth, on teaching[j]; or he that exhorteth, on exhortation[k]: he that giveth,[1] let him do it with simplicity[2]; he that ruleth, with diligence[l]; he that sheweth mercy, with cheerfulness.[m] Let love be without dissimulation.[n] Abhor that which is evil, cleave to that which is good.[o] Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love,[3] in honour preferring one another[p]: not slothful in business[q]; fervent in spirit[r]; serving the Lord[s]; rejoicing in hope[t]; patient in tribulation[u]; continuing instant in prayer[v]; distributing to the necessity of saints[w]; given to hospitality.[x] Bless them which persecute you; bless, and curse not.[y] Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep.[z] Be of the same mind one towards another.[aa] Mind not high things,[bb] but condescend to men of low estate.[4]

The Gospel. St. John ii. 1-11.

AND the third day there was a marriage[a] in Cana[b] of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there. And both Jesus was called,[c] and his disciples,[d] to the marriage. And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine. Jesus saith unto her, Woman,[e] what have I to do with thee[f]? mine hour is not yet come.[g] His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it. And there were set there six water-pots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews,[h] containing two or three firkins apiece. Jesus saith unto them, Fill the water-pots with water.[i] And they filled them up to the brim.[j] And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it. When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was, (but the servants which drew the water knew) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom, and saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine, and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now. This beginning of miracles did Jesus[k] in Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth his glory,[l] and his disciples believed on him.[m]

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God,[a] mercifully look upon[b] our infirmities,[c] and in all our dangers and necessities,[d] stretch forth thy right hand[e] to help and defend us,[f] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Epistle. Rom. xii. 16-21.

BE not wise in your own conceits.[g] Recompense to no man evil for evil.[h] Provide things honest in the sight of all men.[i] If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men.[j] Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves,[k] but rather give place unto wrath[l]; for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.[m] Therefore, if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head.[n] Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.[o]

(78.) The Gospel. St. Matth. viii. 1-13.

WHEN he was come down from the mountain,[a] great multitudes followed him.[b] And behold,[c] there came a leper[d] and worshipped him,[e] saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.[f] And Jesus put forth his hand and touched him,[g] saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.[h] And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man,[i] but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded,[j] for a testimony unto them.[k] And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum,[l] there came unto him a centurion[m] beseeching him, and saying, Lord, my servant[n] lieth at home[o] sick of the palsy, grievously tormented. And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him. The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof[p]; but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed.[q] For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say unto this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.[r] When Jesus heard it, he marvelled,[s] and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no not in Israel.[t] And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west,[u] and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven.[v] But LET every soul be subject unto the higher powers[g]; for there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained[1] of God.[h] Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God[i]: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation.[j] For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil.[k] Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good,[l] and thou shalt have praise of the same: for he is the minister of God to thee for good.[m] But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain[n]: for he is the minister of God,[o] a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.[p] Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience sake.[q] For, for this cause pay you tribute also[r]; for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing.[s] Render therefore to all their dues; tribute to whom tribute is due, custom to whom custom, fear to whom fear,[t] honour to whom honour.[u]

The Collect.

O LORD, we beseech thee favourably[a] to hear the prayers of thy people,[b] that we who are justly punished for our offences,[c] may be mercifully delivered by thy goodness,[d] for the glory of thy name,[e] through Jesus Christ our Saviour, who liveth and reigneth with thee and the holy Ghost ever one God, world without end.[f] Amen.

that ye may obtain.[h] And every man that striveth for the mastery[i] is temperate in all things: now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown, but we an incorruptible.[k] I therefore so run, not as uncertainly; so fight I,[m] not as one that beateth the air: but I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection,[n] lest that by any means when I have preached to others, I myself should be a cast-away.[o]

The Gospel. St. Matth. xx. 1-16.

THE kingdom of heaven[a] is like unto a man that is an householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.[b] And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny[1] a day, he sent them into his vineyard. And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle[c] in the market-place, and said unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard,[d] and whatsoever is right I will give you.[e] And they went their way.[f] Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise. And about the eleventh hour[g] he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us.[h] He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.[i] So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers and give them their hire,[j] beginning from the last unto the first. And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny.[k] But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received every man a penny.[2] And when they had received it, they murmured[l] against the good-man of the house, saying, These last have wrought but one hour,[2] and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day.[m] But he answered one of them, and said, Friend, I do thee no wrong;[n] didst not thou agree with me for a penny? Take that thine is, and go thy way; I will give unto this last even as unto thee.[o] Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own?[p] Is thine eye evil,[q] because I am good? So the last shall be first, and the first last:[r] for many be called, but few chosen.[s]

The Collect.

O LORD God, who seest[a] that we put not our trust in any thing that we do;[b] Mercifully grant[c] that by thy power[d] we may be defended against all adversity,[e] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Epistle. 2 Cor. xi. 19-31.

YE suffer fools gladly, seeing ye yourselves are wise.[f] For ye suffer if a man bring you into bondage, if a man devour you, if a man take of you, if a man exalt himself, if a man smite you on the face.[g] I speak as concerning reproach, as though we had been weak:[h] howbeit, whereinsoever any is bold (I speak foolishly) I am bold also.[i] Are they Hebrews? so am I. Are they Israelites? so am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? so am I.[j] Are they ministers of Christ?[k] (I speak as a fool) I am more: in labours more abundant; in stripes above measure; in prisons more frequent; in deaths oft.[l] Of the Jews five times received I forty stripes save one;[m] thrice was I beaten with rods; once was I stoned;[n] thrice I suffered shipwreck; a night and a day I have been in the deep; in journeying often;[o] in perils of waters; in perils of robbers; in perils by mine own countrymen;[p] in perils by the heathen;[q] in perils in the city;[r] in perils in the wilderness; in perils in the sea; in perils among false brethren; in weariness and painfulness; in watchings often; in hunger and thirst; in fastings often; in cold and nakedness;[s] besides those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, the care of all the churches.[t] Who is weak, and I am not weak?[u] who is offended, and I burn not?[v] If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things which concern mine infirmities.[w] The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,[x] which is blessed for evermore,[y] knoweth that I lie not.[z]

The Gospel. St. Luke viii. 4-15.

WHEN much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a parable:[a] A sower went out to sow his seed;[b] and as he sowed, some fell by the way-side, and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it.[c] And some fell upon a rock, and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture.[d] And some fell among thorns, and the thorns sprang up with it, and choked it.[e] And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit an

The Collect.

O LORD, who hast taught us that all our doings without charity are nothing worth;[a] Send thy Holy Ghost,[b] and pour into our hearts that most excellent gift of charity,[c] the very bond of peace and of all virtues,[d] without which whosoever liveth[e] is counted dead before thee:[f] Grant this for thine only Son Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

The Epistle. 1 Cor. xiii. 1-13.

THOUGH I speak with the tongues of men[g] and of angels,[h] and have not charity,[i] I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.[j] And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge;[k] and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains,[l] and have not charity, I am nothing.[m] And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor,[n] and though I give my body to be burned,[o] and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.[p] Charity suffereth long, and is kind;[q] charity envieth not;[r] charity vaunteth not itself,[1] is not puffed up,[s] doth not behave itself unseemly,[t] seeketh not her own,[u] is not easily provoked,[v] thinketh no evil,[w] rejoiceth not in iniquity,[x] but rejoiceth in[2] the truth;[y] beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things,[z] endureth all things.[a] Charity never faileth:[b] but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.[c] For we know in part, and we prophesy in part.[d] But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.[e] When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought[3] as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things. For now we see through a glass[f] darkly:[4] but then face to face:[5] now I know in part, but then shall I know even as also I am known.[h] And now abideth faith,[i] hope,[j] charity,[k] these three; but the greatest of these is charity.[l]

The Gospel. St. Luke xviii. 31-43.

THEN Jesus took unto him the twelve,[a] and said unto them,[b] Behold, we go up to Jerusalem,[c] and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished.[d] For he shall be delivered unto the Gentiles,[e] and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on:[f] and they shall scourge him, and put him to death;[g] and the third day he shall rise again.[h] And they understood none of these things: and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.[i] And it came to pass, that as he was come nigh unto Jericho,[j] a certain blind man sat by the way-side begging:[k] and hearing the multitude pass by, he asked what it meant.[l] And they told him, that Jesus of Nazareth[m] passeth by. And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou Son of David,[n] have mercy on me.[o] And they which went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace:[p] but he cried so much the more,[q] Thou Son of David, have mercy on me. And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him:[r] and when he was come near, he asked him, saying, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee?[s] And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.[t] And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight;[u] thy faith hath saved thee.[v] And immediately he received his sight,[w] and followed him,[x] glorifying God:[y] and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.[z]

THE FIRST DAY OF LENT, commonly called Ash-Wednesday.

The Collect.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, who hatest nothing that thou hast made,[a] and dost forgive the sins of all them that are penitent;[b] Create and make in us[c] new and contrite hearts,[d] that we worthily lamenting our sins,[e] and acknowledging our wretchedness,[f] may obtain of thee, the God of all mercy,[g] perfect remission and forgiveness,[h] through Jesus Christ our Lord.[i] Amen.

This Collect is to be read every day in Lent after the Collect appointed for the day.

For the Epistle. Joel ii. 12-17.

TURN ye even to me,[j] saith the Lord, with all your heart,[k] and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning.[l] And rend your heart, and not your garments,[m] and turn unto the Lord your God:[n] for he is gracious and merciful,[o] slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil.[p] Who knoweth if he will return, and repent,[q] and leave a blessing behind him,[r] even a meat-offering and a drink-offering unto the Lord your God?[s] Blow the trumpet in Zion,[t] sanctify a fast,[u] call a solemn assembly,[v] gather the people, sanctify the congregation, assemble the elders, gather the children, and those that suck the breasts;[w] let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet;[w] let the priests, the ministers of the Lord,[x] weep between the porch and the altar,[y] and let them say, Spare thy people, O Lord, and give not thine heritage to reproach,[z] that the heathen should rule[aa] over them:[z] wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God?[bb]

The Gospel. St. Matth. vi. 16-21.

WHEN ye fast,[a] be not as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast.[b] Verily I say unto you, they have their reward.[c] But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face, that thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.[d] Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth,[e] where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal.[f] But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven,[g] where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt,[h] and where thieves do not break through nor steal,[i] For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.[j]

The Collect.

O LORD, who for our sake[k] didst fast forty days and forty nights;[l] Give us grace to use such abstinence,[m] that our flesh being subdued to the Spirit,[n] we may ever obey thy godly motions[o] in righteousness and true holiness,[p] to thy honour and glory,[q] who livest and reignest with the Father and the holy Ghost, one God, world without end.[r] Amen.

The Epistle. 2 Cor. vi. 1-10.

WE then, as workers together with him,[a] beseech you also,[b] that ye receive not the grace of God in vain,[c] (for he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee:[d] behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation[e];) giving no offence in any thing, that the ministry be not blamed:[f] but in all things approving[1] ourselves as the ministers of God,[g] in much patience,[h] in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses, in stripes, in imprisonments,[i] in tumults,[2] in labours, in watchings, in fastings;[j] by pureness,[k] by knowledge,[l] by long-suffering,[m] by kindness,[n] by the holy Ghost,[o] by love unfeigned,[p] by the word of truth,[q] by the power of God,[r] by the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left,[s] by honour and dishonour,[t] by evil report and good report;[u] as deceivers, and yet true;[v] as unknown, and yet well known;[w] as dying, and, behold, we live;[x] as chastened, and not killed;[y] as sorrowful, yet alway rejoicing;[z] as poor, yet making many rich;[aa] as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.[bb]

The Gospel. St. Matth. iv. 1-11.[a]

THEN[b] was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness,[c] to be tempted of the devil.[d] And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights,[e] he was afterward an hungered.[f] And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God,[g] command that these stones be made bread.[h] But he answered and said, It is written,[i] Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.[j] Then the devil taketh him up into the holy city,[k] and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple,[l] and saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God,[m] cast thyself down; for it is written,[n] He shall give his angels charge concerning thee, and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.[o] Jesus said unto him, It is written[p] again, Thou shalt not tempt

WE beseech[1] you, brethren, and exhort[2] you[i] by the Lord Jesus,[j] that as ye have received of us how ye ought to walk,[k] and to please God,[l] so ye would abound more and more.[m] For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Jesus.[n] For this is the will of God,[o] even your sanctification,[p] that ye should abstain from fornication;[q] that every one of you should know how to possess his vessel[r] in sanctification and honour;[s] not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the Gentiles which know not God;[t] that no man go beyond and defraud[3] his brother in any matter[4];[u] because that the Lord is the avenger of all such,[v] as we also have forewarned you, and testified.[w] For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, but unto holiness.[x] He therefore that despiseth,[5] despiseth not man, but God,[y] who hath also given unto us his holy Spirit.[z]

BE ye therefore followers of God, as dear children;[a] and walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us,[b] and hath given himself for us,[c] an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet-smelling savour.[d] But fornication, and all uncleanness,[e] or covetousness,[f] let it not be once named amongst you,[g] as becometh saints;[h] neither filthiness, nor foolish-talking, nor jesting, which are not convenient;[i] but rather giving of thanks.[j] For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater,[k] hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ, and of God.[l] Let no man deceive you with vain words:[m] for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience.[1n] Be not ye therefore partakers with them:[o] for ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord:[p] walk as children of light;[q] (for the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness, and righteousness, and truth;[r]) proving what is acceptable unto the Lord.[s] And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness,[t] but rather reprove them:[u] for it is a shame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret.[v] But all things that are reproved[2] are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest is light.[w] Wherefore he[3] saith, Awake thou that sleepest,[x] and arise from the dead,[y] and Christ shall give thee light.[z]

The Gospel. St. Luke xi. 14-28.

JESUS was casting out a devil,[a] and it was dumb. And it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, the dumb spake; and the people wondered.[b] But some of them said, He casteth out devils through Beelzebub,[1] the chief of the devils.[c] And other tempting him, sought of him a sign from heaven.[d] But he, knowing their thoughts,[e] said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house falleth.[f] If Satan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out devils through Beelzebub. And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your sons cast them out?[g] therefore shall they be your judges. But if I with the finger of God[h] cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.[i] When a strong man armed keepeth his palace,[j] his goods are in peace;[k] but when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils.[l] He that is not with me is against me: and he that gathereth not with me scattereth.[m] When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest;[n] and finding none, he saith, I will return unto my house whence I came out.[o] And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished.[p] Then goeth he and taketh to him seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in, and dwell there; and the last state of that man is worse than the first.[q] And it came to pass, as he spake these things, a certain woman of the company lift up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast sucked.[r] But he said, Yea, rather blessed are they that hear[s] the word of God, and keep it.[t]

WHEN the morning was come, all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus, to put him to death.[a] And when they had bound him,[b] they led him away, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor.[c] Then Judas who had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself,[d] and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders,[e] saying, I have sinned,[f] in that I have betrayed the innocent blood.[g] And they said, What is that to us?[h] see thou to that. And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself.[i] And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood.[j] And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day. (Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremy the prophet, saying, And they took the thirty pieces of silver,[k] the price of him that was valued, whom they of the children of Israel did value,[l] and gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.[l]) And Jesus stood before the governor; and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews?[m] And Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest.[n] And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders,[o] he answered nothing.[p] Then saith Pilate unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee? And he answered him to never a word, insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly.[q] Now at that feast the governor was wont to release unto the people a prisoner, whom they would.[r] And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ? For he knew that for envy they had delivered him.[s] When he was set down on the judgement-seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man:[t] for I have suffered many things this day in a dream[u] because of him. But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said, Barabbas.[v] Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus, which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified. And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done[w]? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.[x] When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude,[y] saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person:[z] see ye to it. Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on us,[a] and on our children.[b] Then released he Barabbas unto them: and when he had scourged Jesus[c], he delivered him to be crucified. Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall,[1] and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers. And they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe.[d] And when they had platted a crown of thorns they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews.[e] And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head.[f] And after that they had mocked him they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, and led him away to crucify him.[g] And as they came out they found a man of Cyrene,[h] Simon by name; him they compelled to bear his cross. And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, a place of a scull, they gave him vinegar to drink mingled with gall[i]: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink. And they crucified him,[j] and parted his garments, casting lots: that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the prophet, They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots.[k] And sitting down they watched him there; and set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.[l] Then were there two thieves crucified with him; one on the right hand, and another on the left.[m] And they that passed by reviled him,[n] wagging their heads, and saying, Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days,[o] save thyself: if thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.[p] Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said, He saved others, himself he cannot save[q]: if he be the King of Israel,[r] let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him.[s] He trusted in God; let him deliver him now, if he will have him[t]: for he said, I am the Son of God.[u] The thieves also, which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.[v] Now from the sixth hour there was darkness [w] over all the land unto the ninth hour.[w] And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani[x]? that is to say, My God, my God,[y] why hast thou forsaken me[z]? Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, said, This man (107.) calleth for Elias.[a] And straightway one of them ran, and took a spunge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.[b] The rest said, Let be, let us see whether Elias will come to save him.[c] Jesus, when he had cried again with a loud voice,[d] yielded up the ghost.[e] And behold, the vail of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom,[f] and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent,[g] and the graves were opened, and many bodies of saints which slept arose, and came out of the graves after his resurrection,[h] and went into the holy city,[i] and appeared unto many. Now when the centurion, and they that were with him, watching Jesus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done,[j] they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Son of God.[k]

MONDAY BEFORE EASTER.

For the Epistle. Isaiah lxiii. 1-19.

WHO is this[l] that cometh from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah[m]? this that is glorious[l] in his apparel, travelling in the greatness of his strength[n]? I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save.[o] Wherefore art thou red in thine apparel,[p] and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine-fat[q]? I have trodden the wine-press alone, and of the people there was none with me[r]: for I will tread them in mine anger, and trample them in my fury, and their blood shall be sprinkled upon my garments, and I will stain all my raiment.[s] For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come.[t] And I looked, and there was none to help; and I wondered that there was none to uphold[u]: therefore mine own arm brought salvation unto me, and my fury it upheld me.[v] And I will tread down the people in mine anger, and make them drunk in my fury,[w] and I will bring down their strength to the earth.[x] I will mention the loving-kindnesses of the Lord, and the praises of the Lord, according to all that the Lord hath bestowed on us,[y] and the great goodness towards the house of Israel,[z] which he hath bestowed on them, according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his loving-kindnesses.[a] For he said, Surely they are my people,[b] children that will not lie[c]: so he was their Saviour.[d] In all their affliction he was afflicted,[e] and the angel of his presence saved them[f]: in his love, and in his pity, he redeemed them,[g] and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old.[h] But they rebelled, and vexed his holy Spirit[i]; therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he fought against them.[j] Then he remembered the days of old,[k] Moses and his people, saying, Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the shepherd[l] of his flock? where is he that put his holy Spirit within him[m]? that led them by the right hand of Moses, with his glorious arm, dividing the water before them,[n] to make himself an everlasting name[o]? that led them through the deep as an horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble[p]? As a beast goeth down into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord caused him to rest[q]: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name.[r] Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holiness, and of thy glory[s]: where is thy zeal, and thy strength, the sounding[2] of thy bowels, and of thy mercies towards me[t]? Are they restrained[u]? Doubtless thou art our Father,[v] though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Israel acknowledge us not[w]: Thou, O Lord, art our Father, our Redeemer, thy name is from everlasting.[3x] O Lord, why hast thou made us to err from thy ways? and hardened our heart from thy fear[y]? Return for thy servants' sake, the tribes of thine inheritance.[z] The people of thy holiness[aa] have possessed it but a little while[bb]: our adversaries have trodden down thy sanctuary.[cc] We are thine: thou never barest rule over them; they were not called by thy name.[4 dd]

The Gospel. St. Mark xiv. 1-72.

AFTER two days was the feast of the Passover, and of unleavened bread[a]: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.[b] But they said, Not on the feast-day, lest there be an uproar of the people.[c] And being in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper,[d] as he sat at meat, there came a woman having an alabaster box of ointment of spikenard,[1] very precious[e]; and she brake the box, and poured it on his head.[f]

And there were some that had indignation within themselves, and said, Why was this waste of the ointment made[g]? for it might have been sold for more than three hundred pence,[h] and have been given to the poor[i]: and they murmured against her.[j] And Jesus said, Let her alone, why trouble ye her[k]? she hath wrought a good work on me.[l] For ye have the poor with you always,[m] and whensoever ye will ye may do them good[n]: but me ye have not always.[o] She hath done what she could[p]; she is come aforehand to anoint my body to the burying.[q] Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world,[r] this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.[s] And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve,[t] went unto the chief priests, to betray him unto them.[u] And when they heard it they were glad,[v] and promised to give him money.[w] And he sought how he might conveniently betray him.[x] And the first day of unleavened bread, when they killed[1] the passover,[a] his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayest eat the passover[b]? And he sendeth forth two of his disciples,[c] and saith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water[d]: follow him. And wheresoever he shall go in, say ye to the good-man of the house, The Master[e] saith, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples[f]? And he will shew you a large upper room furnished, and prepared[g]: there make ready for us. And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them[h]: and they made ready the passover. And in the evening he cometh with the twelve. And as they sat, and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, one of you which eateth with me shall betray me.[i] And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? and another said, Is it I[j]? And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve that dippeth with me in the dish.[k] The Son of Man indeed goeth, as it is written of him[l]: but woe to that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed: good were it for that man if he had never been born.[m] And as they did eat,[n] Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake it,[o] and gave to them, and said, Take, eat[p]: this is[q] my body. And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks he gave it to them: and they all drank of it.[r] And he said unto them, This is my blood of the new testament,[s] which is shed for many.[t] Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.[u] And when they had sung an hymn[2v] they went out into the mount of Olives.[w] And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night[x]: for it is written,[y] I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.[z] But, after that I am risen,[a] I will go before you into Galilee.[b] But Peter[c] said unto him, Although all shall be offended,[d] yet will not I.[e] And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this day, even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.[f] But he spake the more vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise.[g] Likewise also said they all.[h] And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane[i]: and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.[j] And he taketh with him Peter, and James, and John,[k] and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy,[l] and saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death[m]; tarry ye here, and watch.[n] And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground,[o] and prayed, that if it were possible the hour might pass from him.[p] And he said, Abba, Father,[q] all things are possible unto thee[r]; take away this cup[s] from me; nevertheless, not what I will, but what thou wilt.[t] And he cometh and findeth them sleeping,[u] and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one hour[v]? Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation[w]: the spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak.[x] And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.[y] And when he returned he found them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy,) neither wist they what to answer him. And he cometh the third time,[z] and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest[a]: it is enough, the hour is come[b]; behold, the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.[c] Rise up, let us go[d]; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand. And immediately, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve,[e] and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders.[f] And he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss,[g] that same is he; take him, and lead him away safely. And as soon as he was come he goeth straightway to him, and saith, Master, master[h]; and kissed him.[i] And they laid their hands on him, and took him.[j] And one of them that stood by drew a sword, and smote a servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.[k] And Jesus answered, and said unto them, Are ye come out as against a thief, with swords and with staves, to take me[l]? I was daily with you in the temple teaching,[m] and ye took me not: but the Scriptures must be fulfilled.[n] And they all forsook him, and fled.[o] And there followed him a certain young man, having a linen cloth cast about his naked body; and the young men laid hold on him: and he left the linen cloth, and fled from them naked.[p] And they led Jesus away to the high priest: and with him were assembled all the chief priests, and the elders, and the scribes.[q] And Peter followed him afar off, even into the palace of the high priest; and he sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire.[r] And the chief priests and all the council sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death[s]; and found none.[t] For many bare false witness against him,[u] but their witness agreed not together.[v] And there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying, We heard him say, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands.[w] But neither so did their witness agree together.[x] And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee[y]? But he held his peace, and answered nothing.[z] Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed[a]? And Jesus said, I am; and ye shall see the Son of Man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.[b] Then the high priest rent his clothes,[c] and saith, What need we any further witnesses? ye have heard the blasphemy[d]: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death.[e] And some began to spit on him,[f] and to cover his face, and to buffet him,[g] and to say unto him, Prophesy[h]: and the servants did strike him with the palms of their hands.[i] And as Peter was beneath in the palace[j] there cometh one of the maids of the high priest; and when she saw Peter warming himself,[k] she looked upon him, and said, And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth.[l] But he denied,[m] saying, I know not, neither understand I what thou sayest.[n] And he went out into the porch; and the cock crew. For the Epistle. Isaiah L. 5-11.

THE Lord God hath opened mine ear,[a] and I was not rebellious, neither turned away back.[b] I gave my back to the smiters,[c] and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair[d]: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.[e] For the Lord God will help me, therefore shall I not be confounded[f]: therefore have I set my face like a flint,[g] and I know that I shall not be ashamed.[h] He is near that justifieth me[i]; who will contend with me[j]? Let us stand together[k]; who is mine adversary[1]? let him come near to me.[l] Behold, the Lord God will help me[m]; who is he that shall condemn me[n]? Lo, they all shall wax old as a garment: the moth shall eat them up.[o] Who is among you that feareth the Lord,[p] that obeyeth the voice of his servant,[q] that walketh in darkness, and hath no light[r]? let him trust in the name of the Lord, and stay upon his God.[s] Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that compass yourselves about with sparks[t]; walk in the light of your fire, and in the sparks that ye have kindled.[u] This shall ye have of mine hand, ye shall lie down in sorrow.[v]

AND straightway in the morning the chief priests held a consultation with the elders, and scribes, and the whole council, and bound Jesus, and carried him away, and delivered him to Pilate.[a] And Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering said unto him, Thou sayest it.[b] And the chief priests accused him of many things: but he answered nothing.[c] And Pilate asked him again, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they witness against thee.[d] But Jesus yet answered nothing: so that Pilate marvelled. And the multitude, crying aloud, began to desire him to do as he had ever done unto them.[f] But Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews? (For he knew that the

And they cried out again, Crucify him. Then Pilate

NOW the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the Passover.[a] And the chief priests and scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people.[b] Then entered Satan into Judas[c] surnamed Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve. And he went his way, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray him unto them. And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money. And he promised, and sought opportunity to betray him unto them in the absence of the multitude.[1d] Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the passover must be killed.[e] And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare us the passover, that we may eat. And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare? And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house where he entereth in. And ye shall say unto the good-man of the house, The Master[f] saith unto thee, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples[g]? And he shall shew you a large upper-room furnished[h]; there make ready. And they went, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover. And when the hour was come[i] he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him. And he said unto them, With desire I have desired[2] to eat this passover with you[j] before I suffer: for I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God.[k] And he took the cup,[l] and gave thanks,[m] and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves. For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.[n] And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is[o] my body, which is given for you[p]: this do in remembrance of me.[q] Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament[r] in my blood, which is shed for you.[s] But

But ye shall not be so[b]: but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve. For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that sitteth at meat? but I am among you as he that serveth.[c] Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations.[d] And I appoint unto you a kingdom,[e] as my Father hath appointed unto me[f]; that ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom,[g] and sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.[h] And the Lord said, Simon, Simon,[i] behold, Satan hath desired to have you,[j] that he may sift you as wheat[k]: but I have prayed for thee,[l] that thy faith fail not[m]; and when thou art converted,[n] strengthen thy brethren.[o] And he said unto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee both into prison and to death.[p] And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.[q] And he said unto them, When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing[r]? And they said, Nothing. Then said he unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one.[s] For I say unto you, That this that is written must yet be accomplished in me, And he was reckoned among the transgressors[t]: for the things concerning me have an end.[u] And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.[v] And he came out, and went, as he was wont, to the mount of Olives,[w] and his disciples also followed him. And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray, that ye enter not into temptation.[x] And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and kneeled down and prayed, saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove[1] this cup[y] from me: nevertheless, not my will, but thine be done.[z] And there appeared an angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him.[a] And being in an agony, he prayed more earnestly[b]; and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground.[c] And when he rose up from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found them sleeping for sorrow, and said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and pray, lest ye enter into temptation.[d] And while he yet spake, behold, a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near unto Jesus to kiss him.[e] But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss? When they who were about him saw what would follow, they said unto him, Lord, shall we smite with the sword[f]? And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear.[g] And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him.[h] Then Jesus said unto the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and the elders who were come to him, Be ye come out as against a thief, with swords and staves? When I was daily with you in the temple,[i] ye stretched forth no hands against me: but this is your hour, and the power of darkness.[j] Then took they him, and led him, and brought him into the high priest's house[k]: and Peter followed afar off. And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the hall, and were set down together, Peter sat down among them.[l] But a certain maid beheld him, as he sat by the fire, and earnestly looked upon him, and said, This man was also with him. And he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not.[m] And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou art also of them. And Peter said, Man, I am not. And about the space of one hour after, another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this fellow also was with him; for he is a Galilean. And Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew. And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter[n]; and Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.[o] And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.[p] And the men that held Jesus mocked him, and smote him.[q] And when they had blindfolded him, they struck him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophesy, who is it that smote thee? And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.[r] And as soon as it was day, the elders of the people, and the chief priests, and the scribes, came together, and led him into

THURSDAY BEFORE EASTER.

The Epistle. 1 Cor. xi. 17-34.

(120.)

IN this that I declare unto you, I praise you not[a]; that ye come together[b] not for the better, but for the worse.[c] For first of all, when ye come together in the church, I hear that there be divisions[1] among you,[d] and I partly believe it. For there must be[e] also heresies[2] among you,[f] that they who are approved may be made manifest among you.[g] When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat[3] the Lord's supper: for in eating every one taketh before other his own supper; and one is hungry, and another is drunken.[h] What, have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye the church of God,[i] and shame them that have not[4]? What shall I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I praise you not. For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you,[j] That the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread; and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat[k]; this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance[5] of me.[l] After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament[m] in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew[6] the Lord's death till he come.[n] Wherefore, whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily,[o] shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.[p] But let a man examine himself,[q] and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.[r] For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily eateth and drinketh damnation[7] to himself, not discerning the Lord's body. For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep.[s] For if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged.[t] But when we are judged, we

The Gospel. St. Luke xxiii. 1-49.

(121.) THE whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate.[a] And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow perverting the nation,[b] and forbidding to give tribute to Cæsar,[c] saying, That he himself is Christ a King.[d] And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him, and said, Thou sayest it.[e] Then said Pilate to the chief priests, and to the people, I find no fault in this man.[f] And they were the more fierce,[g] saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jewry, beginning from Galilee to this place.[h] When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilean. And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Herod's jurisdiction,[i] he sent him to Herod, who himself was also at Jerusalem at that time. And when Herod saw Jesus he was exceeding glad; for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him[j]; and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him.[k] Then he questioned with him in many words; but he answered him nothing.[l] And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him.[m] And Herod with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him,[n] and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe,[o] and sent him again to Pilate. And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together[p]; for before they were at enmity between themselves. And Pilate, when he had called together the chief priests, and the rulers, and the people, said unto them, Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people: and behold, I, having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him: No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him; and, lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him.[q] I will therefore chastise him, and release him. For of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast. And they cried out all at once, saying, Away with this man,[r] and release unto us Barabbas: (who for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison.)

Pilate therefore, willing to release Jesus, spake again to them. But they cried, saying, Crucify him, crucify him.[s] And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him[t]: I will therefore chastise him, and let him go. And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified: and the voices of them and of the chief priests prevailed. And Pilate gave sentence[1] that it should be as they required. And he released unto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired; but he delivered Jesus to their will. And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus.[u] And there followed him a great company of people, and of women,[v] which also bewailed and lamented him. But Jesus, turning unto them, said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children. For, behold, the days are coming,[w] in [the] which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck. Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us.[x] For if they do these things in a green tree, what shall be done in the dry[y]? And there were also two other, malefactors, led with him to be put to death. And when they were come to the place which is called Calvary,[2] there they crucified him[z]; and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left. Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them,[a] for they know not what they do.[b] And they parted his raiment, and cast lots.[c] And the people stood beholding; and the rulers also with them derided him, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if he be Christ, the chosen of God.[d] And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vinegar, and saying, If thou be the King of the Jews, save thyself. And a superscription also was written over him in letters of Greek, and Latin, and Hebrew,[e] THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS. And one of the malefactors,[f] which were hanged, railed on him, saying, If thou be Christ, save thyself, and us. But the other answering rebuked him,[g] saying, Dost not thou fear God,[h] seeing thou art in the same condemnation? And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds,[i] but this man hath done nothing amiss.[j] And he said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom.[k] And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To-day shalt thou be with me in paradise.[l] And it was about the sixth hour: and there was darkness over all the earth[1] until the ninth hour. THE law having a shadow of good things to come,[a] and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices, which they offered year by year continually,[b] make the comers thereunto perfect[c]: for then would they not[1] have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins.[d] But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.[e] For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins.[f] Wherefore when he cometh into the world,[g] he saith,[h] Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not,[i] but a body hast thou prepared me[2j]: In burnt-offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure[k]: Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me) to do thy will, O God.[l] Above, when he said, Sacrifice and offering, and burnt-offerings, and offering for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein, which are offered by the law[m]: then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.[n] By the which will[o] we are sanctified,[p] through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ[q] once for all.[r] And every priest standeth daily ministering, and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices,[s] which can never take away sins.[t] But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins, for ever sat down on the right hand of God[u]; from henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool.[v] For by one offering he hath perfected for ever[w] them that are sanctified: Whereof the holy Ghost also is a witness to us[x]: for after that he had said before,[y] This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days,[z] saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them; and their[1] sins and iniquities will I remember no more.[a] Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.[b] Having therefore, brethren, boldness[2] to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus,[c] by a new and living way,[d] which he hath consecrated[3] for us, through the vail,[e] that is to say, his flesh[f]; and having an high Priest over the house of God[g]; let us draw near[h] with a true heart,[i] in full assurance of faith,[j] having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience,[k] and our bodies washed with pure water.[l] Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering[m]; (for he is faithful that pro-

The Gospel. St. John xix. 1-37.

(126.) PILATE therefore took Jesus, and scourged him.[a] And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple robe, and said, Hail, King of the Jews! and they smote him with their hands.[b] Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I find no fault in him.[c] Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man[d]! When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him.[e] Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him.[f] The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God.[g] When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid[h]; and went again into the judgement-hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer.[i] Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee[j]? Jesus answered, Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above[k]: therefore he that delivered me unto thee[l] hath the greater sin.[m] And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him[n]: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Cæsar's friend: whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Cæsar.[o] When Pilate therefore heard that saying,[p] he brought Jesus forth, and sat down in the judgement-seat,[q] in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the Hebrew, Gabbatha. And it was the preparation[r] of the passover, and about the sixth hour: and he saith unto the Jews, Behold your King[s]! But they cried out, Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, We have no king but Cæsar.[t] Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified: and they took Jesus, and led him away. And he, bearing his cross,[u] went forth into a place called the place of a scull, which is called in the Hebrew, Golgotha: where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst. And Pilate[v] wrote a title, and put it on the cross; and the writing was, JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS. This title then read many of the Jews: for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew,[w] and Greek,[x] and Latin.[y] Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but that he said, I am the King of the Jews. Pilate answered, What I have written, I have written.[z] Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also his coat: now the coat was without seam, woven[1] from the top throughout.[a] They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the Scripture might be fulfilled,[b] which saith, They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots.[c] These things therefore the soldiers did. Now there stood by the cross of Jesus, his mother,[d] and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas,[e] and Mary Magdalene.[f] When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved,[g] he saith unto his mother, Woman, behold thy son. Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother. And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home.[h] After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished,[i] that the Scripture might be fulfilled,[j] saith, I thirst.[k] Now there was set a vessel full of vinegar: and they filled a spunge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop,[l] and put it to his mouth. When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished[m]: and he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost.[n] The Jews therefore, because it was the preparation,[o] that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath-day, (for that sabbath-day was an high day) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.[p] Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him. But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs. But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came thereout blood and water.[q] And he that saw it[r] bare record, and his record is true: and he knoweth that he saith true,[s] that ye might believe.[t]

The Collect.

(128.) GRANT, O Lord, that as we are baptized into the death[a] of thy blessed Son our Saviour Jesus Christ; so by continual mortifying our corrupt affections,[b] we may be buried with him,[c] and that through the grave, and gate of death[d] we may pass to our joyful resurrection,[e] for his merits, who died, and was buried, and rose again for us,[f] thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

IT is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well-doing, than for evil-doing.[g] For Christ also hath once suffered for sins,[h] the just[i] for the unjust,[j] that he might bring us to God,[k] being put to death in the flesh,[l] but quickened by the Spirit.[m] By which[n] also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison[o]; which sometime were disobedient, when once the long-suffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing[p]; wherein few, that is, eight souls, were saved by water.[q] The like figure whereunto, even baptism,[r] doth also now save us, (not the putting away the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience towards God,[s]) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ[t]: who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God,[u] angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.[v]

(129.) WHEN the even was come,[a] there came a rich man[b] of Arimathæa, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' disciple. He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.[c] Then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered. And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth,[d] and laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock[e]; and he rolled a great stone[f] to the door of the sepulchre, and departed. And there was Mary Magdalene,[g] and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre. Now the next day that followed the day of the preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees[h] came together unto Pilate, saying, Sir, we remember

The Gospel. St. John xx. 1-10.

THE first day of the week[a] cometh Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone[b] taken away from the sepulchre. Then she runneth and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved,[c] and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him. Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre. So they ran both together; and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre; and he, stooping down and looking in, saw the linen clothes lying[d]; yet went he not in. Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie; and the napkin that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself. Then went in also that other disciple which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw, and believed.[e] For as yet they knew not the Scripture, that he must rise again from the dead.[f] Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.[g]

BEHOLD, two of his disciples went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Jerusalem about threescore furlongs.[m] And they talked together of all these things which had happened.[n] And it came to pass, that while they communed together, and reasoned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them.[o] But their eyes were holden, that they should not know him.[p] And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad[q]? And the one of them, whose name was Cleopas,[r] answering, said unto him, Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days? And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, who was a prophet mighty in deed and word,[s] before God and all the people[t]: and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him.[u] But we trusted that it had been he which should have redeemed Israel[v]: and beside all this, to-day is the third day since these things were done.[w] Yea, and certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at the sepulchre; and when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive. And certain of them which were with us went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said; but him they saw not.[x] Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart[a] to believe all that the prophets have spoken: ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory[b]? And beginning at Moses,[c] and all the prophets,[d] he expounded unto them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself. And they drew nigh unto the village whither they went; and he made as though he would have gone further[e]: but they constrained him,[f] saying, Abide with us, for it is towards evening, and the day is far spent. And he went in to tarry with them. And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them,[g] he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them.[h] And their eyes were opened, and they knew him,[i] and he vanished out of their sight.[1,j] And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us,[k] while he talked with us by the way,[l] and while he opened to us the Scriptures[m]? And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon.[n] And they told what things were done in the way, and how he was known of them in breaking of bread.

MEN and brethren, children of the stock of Abraham,[a] and whosoever among you feareth God,[b] to you is the word of this salvation sent.[c] For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not,[d] nor yet the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath-day,[e] they have fulfilled them in condemning him.[f] And though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate that he should be slain.[g] And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a sepulchre.[h] But God raised him from the dead[i]: and he was seen many days of them which came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem,[j] who are his witnesses unto the people.[k] And we declare unto you glad tidings,[l] how that the promise which was made unto the fathers, God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children,[m] in that he hath raised up Jesus again[n]; as it is also written in the second Psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.[o] And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption,[p] he said on this wise, I will give you the sure mercies[1] of David.[q] Wherefore he saith also in another Psalm, Thou shalt not suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.[r] For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God,[2s] fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption[t]: but he whom God raised again saw no corruption.[u] Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins[v]: And by him all that believe are justified from all things,[w] from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses.[x] Beware therefore, lest that come upon you which is spoken of in the prophets[y]; Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish[z]; for I work a work in your days,[aa] a work which ye shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it unto you.[bb]

WHATSOEVER is born of God[a] overcometh the world[b]; and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.[c] Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God[d]? This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood[e]: and it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.[f] For there are three that bear record in heaven,[g] the Father,[h] the Word,[i] and the holy Ghost[j]: and these three are one.[k] And there are three that bear witness in earth, the spirit,[l] and the water, and the blood[m]: and these three agree in one.[n] If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater[o]: for this is the witness of God, which he hath testified of his Son.[p] He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself[q]: he that believeth not God hath made him a liar,[r] because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.[s]

THE same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut, where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews,[a] came Jesus and stood in the midst,[b] and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.[c] And when he had so said, he shewed unto them his hands and his side.[d] Then were the disciples glad when they saw the Lord.[e] Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you[f]: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.[g] And when he had said this, he breathed on them,[h] and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost.[i] Whosesoever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whosesoever sins ye retain, they are retained.[j]

THIS is thank-worthy,[1] if a man for conscience toward God endure grief,[o] suffering wrongfully.[p] For what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently[q]? But if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently[r]; this is acceptable[2] with God.[s] For even hereunto were ye called[t]: because Christ also suffered for us,[3] leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps[u]: who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth[v]: who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not[w]; but committed himself[4] to him that judgeth righteously[x]: who his own self bare our sins in his own body[y] on the tree,[z] that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness[aa]: by whose stripes ye were healed.[bb] For ye were as sheep going astray[cc]; but are now returned unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.[dd]

JESUS said to his disciples, A little while, and ye shall not see me; and again, a little while and ye shall see me[q]; because I go to the Father.[r] Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while and ye shall not see me; and again, a little while and ye shall see me; and, Because I go to the Father? they said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we cannot tell what he saith.[s] Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him,[t] and said unto them, Do ye enquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while and ye shall not see me; and again, a little while and ye shall see me? Verily, verily I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament,[u] but the world shall rejoice[v]: and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.[w] A woman, when she is in travail, hath sorrow,[x] because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.[y] And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice,[z] and your joy no man taketh from you.[aa]

But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart.[c] Nevertheless, I tell you the truth; it is expedient for you that I go away[d]: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you.[e] And when he is come, he will reprove[1] the world[f] of sin,[g] and of righteousness,[h] and of judgement[i]: of sin, because they believe not on me[j]; of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more[k]; of judgement, because the prince of this world is judged.[l] I have yet many things to say unto you,[m] but ye cannot bear them now.[n] Howbeit, when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth[o]: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak[p]: and he will shew you things to come.[q] He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you.[r] All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you.[s]

The Gospel. St. John xvi. 23-33.

VERILY, verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you.[a] Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name[b]: ask, and ye shall receive,[c] that your joy may be full.[d] These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs[1e]: the time cometh when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.[f] At that day ye shall ask in my name[g]: and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you[h]; for the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me,[i] and have believed that I came out from God. I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world[j]: again, I leave the world, and go to the Father.[k] His disciples said unto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no proverb.[2] Now are we sure that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee[l]: by this we believe that thou camest forth from God.[m] Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe[n]? Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered every man to his own,[3] and shall leave me alone[o]: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.[p] These things I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace.[q] In the world ye shall have tribulation[r]; but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world.[s]

This same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.[t]

The Gospel. St. Mark xvi. 14-20.

JESUS appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat,[1] and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen.[a] And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.[b] He that believeth[c] and is baptized[d] shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned.[e] And these signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.[f] So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.[g] And they went forth and preached every where,[h] the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following.[i]

For the Epistle. Acts ii. 1-11.

WHEN the day of Pentecost[a] was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.[b] And suddenly there came a sound from heaven,[c] as of a rushing mighty wind,[d] and it filled all the house where they were sitting.[e] And there appeared unto them cloven tongues, like as of fire,[f] and it sat upon each of them: and they were all filled with the holy Ghost,[g] and began to speak with other tongues,[h] as the Spirit gave them utterance.[i] And there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men,[j] out of every nation under heaven.[k] Now when this was noised abroad,[1] the multitude came together, and were confounded,[2] because that every man heard them speak in his own language.[l] And they were all amazed, and marvelled,[m] saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speak Galileans[n]? And how hear we every man in our own tongue wherein we were born[o]? Parthians, and Medes,[p] and Elamites,[q] and the dwellers in Mesopotamia,[r] and in Judea, and Cappadocia, in Pontus, and Asia,[s] Phrygia,[t] and Pamphylia,[u] in Egypt, and in the parts of Libya[v] about Cyrene,[w] and strangers of Rome, Jews, and Proselytes,[x] Cretes,[y] and Arabians,[z] we do hear them speak in our tongues the wonderful works of God.[aa] anointed[g] Jesus of Nazareth with the holy Ghost[h] and with power[i]; who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil[j]: for God was with him.[k] And we are witnesses[l] of all things which he did, both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom they slew[m] and hanged on a tree: Him God raised up[n] the third day, and shewed him openly; not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God[o]; even to us who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. And he commanded us to preach unto the people,[p] and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead. To him give all the prophets witness,[q] that through his name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins.[r] While Peter yet spake these words, the holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.[s] And they of the circumcision,[t] which believed, were astonished, as many as came with Peter,[u] because that on the Gentiles[v] also was poured out the gift of the holy Ghost.[w] For they heard them speak with tongues, and magnify God.[x] Then answered Peter, Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the holy Ghost as well as we[y]? And he commanded[z] them to be baptized in the name of the Lord.[aa] Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.[bb]

The Gospel. St. John iii. 16-21.

GOD so loved the world,[a] that he gave his only-begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.[b] For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world,[c] but that the world through him might be saved.[d] He that believeth on him is not condemned[e]: but he that believeth not is condemned already; because he hath not believed in the name of the only-begotten Son of God.[f] And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light,[g] because their deeds were evil.[h] For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved.[1 i] But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest,[j] that they are wrought in God.[k]

The Gospel. St. John x. 1-10.

VERILY, verily I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheep-fold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.[a] But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep[b]: to him the porter openeth[c]; and the sheep hear his voice,[d] and he calleth his own sheep by name,[e] and leadeth them out.[f] And, when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them,[g] and the sheep follow him[h]; for they know his voice.[i] And a stranger will they not follow; but will flee from him; for they know not the voice of strangers.[j] This parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.[k] Then said Jesus unto them again; Verily, verily I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep.[l] All that ever came before me are thieves and robbers[m]; but the sheep did not hear them. I am the door; by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture.[n] The thief cometh not but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy[o]: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.[p]

ALMIGHTY, and everlasting God, who hast given unto us thy servants grace by the confession of a true faith[q] to acknowledge the glory of the eternal Trinity, and in the power of the divine Majesty to worship the Unity[r]; We beseech thee, that thou wouldst keep us stedfast in this faith,[s] and evermore defend us from all adversities,[t] who livest, and reignest[u] one God world without end.[v] Amen.

For the Epistle. Rev. iv. 1-11.

AFTER this I looked, and behold, a door was opened in heaven[a]: and the first voice which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with me[b]; which said, Come up hither,[c] and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter.[d] And immediately I was in the Spirit[e]; and behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne[f]: and he that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine stone[g]: and there was a rainbow[h] round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald. And round about the throne were four and twenty seats[1]; and upon the seats I saw four and twenty elders sitting,[i] clothed in white raiment[j]; and they had on their heads crowns of gold.[k] And out of the throne proceeded lightnings, and thunderings, and voices.[l] And there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne,[m] which are the seven spirits of God.[n] And before the throne there was a sea of glass like unto crystal[o]: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four beasts[2] full of eyes before and behind.[p] And the first beast was like a lion,[q] and the second beast like a calf,[r] and the third beast had a face as a man,[s] and the fourth beast was like a flying eagle.[t] And the four beasts had each of them six wings about him[u]; and they were full of eyes within[v]: and they rest not[3] day and night,[w] saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.[x] And when those beasts give glory, and honour, and thanks, to him that sat on the throne, who liveth for ever and ever,[y] the four and twenty elders fall down before him that sat on the throne, and worship him that liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns before the throne,[z] saying, Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory, and honour, and power; for thou hast created all things,[aa] and for thy pleasure they are and were created.[bb]

The Gospel. St. John iii. 1-15.

THERE was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews[a]: the same came to Jesus by night,[b] and said unto him, Rabbi,[c] we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him.[d] Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again,[1e] he cannot see[f] the kingdom of God.[g] Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born[h]? Jesus answered, Verily, verily I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water,[i] and of the Spirit,[j] he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.[k] That which is born of the flesh is flesh[l]; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.[m] Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.[2n] The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth[o]; so is every one that is born of the Spirit.[p] Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be[q]? Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things[r]? Verily, verily I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen[s]; and ye receive not our witness.[t] If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not; how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things[u]? And no man hath ascended up to heaven,[v] but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of Man,[w] who is in heaven.[x] And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness,[y] even so must the Son of Man be lifted up[z]: that whosoever believeth in him should not perish,[aa] but have eternal life.[bb] f 4 i Th. 9. See 89 b, &c.

God, and knoweth God.[g] He that loveth not knoweth not God[h]; for God is love.[i] In this was manifested the love of God towards us, because that God sent his only-begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.[j] Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us,[k] and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.[l] Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.[m] No man hath seen God at any time.[n] If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us.[o] Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us[p]; because he hath given us of his Spirit.[q] And we have seen, and do testify,[r] that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.[s] Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.[t] And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us.[u] God is love[v]; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him.[w] Herein is our love[1] made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgement[x]; because as he is, so are we in this world.[y] There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear[z]; because fear hath torment: He that feareth is not made perfect in love.[aa] We love him, because he first loved us.[bb] If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar[cc]: for he that loveth not his brother, whom he hath seen,[dd] how can he love God, whom he hath not seen[ee]? And this commandment have we from him, that he who loveth God love his brother also.[ff]

The Gospel. St. Luke xvi. 19-31.

THERE was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple, and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day.[a] And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate full of sores, and desiring to be fed with the crumbs, which fell from the rich man's table[b]: moreover, the dogs came and licked his sores. And it came to pass, that the beggar died,[c] and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom.[d] The rich man also died,[e] and was buried[f]: and in hell he lift up his eyes being in torments,[g] and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.[h] And he cried and said, Father Abraham,[i] have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue[j]; for I am tormented in this flame.[k] But Abraham said, Son, remember, that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things,[l] and likewise Lazarus evil things[m]; but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.[n] And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed[o]: so that they who would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence.[p] Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house: for I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment. Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.[q] And he said, Nay, father Abraham; but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent.[r] And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.[s]

MARVEL not, my brethren, if the world hate you.[a] We know that we have passed from death unto life,[b] because we love the brethren.[c] He that loveth not his brother abideth in death.[d] Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer[e]: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.[f] Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us[g]: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.[h] But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him; how dwelleth the love of God in him[i]? My little children,[j] let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed, and in truth.[k] And hereby we know that we are of the truth,[l] and shall assure[1] our hearts before him.[m] For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart,[n] and knoweth all things.[o] Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, then have we confidence towards God.[p] And whatsoever we ask, we

(158.)

A CERTAIN man made a great supper,[a] and bade many[b]; and sent his servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come, for all things are now ready.[c] And they all with one consent began to make excuse.[d] The first said unto him, I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it; I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them; I pray thee have me excused. And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.[e] So that servant came, and shewed his lord these things.[f] Then the master of the house being angry[g] said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind.[h] And the servant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room.[i] And the lord said unto the servant, Go out into the highways and hedges,[j] and compel them to come in,[k] that my house may be filled.[l] For I say unto you, that none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.[m]

THE THIRD SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY.

The Collect.

O LORD, we beseech thee mercifully to hear us[n]; and grant that we, to whom thou hast given an hearty desire to pray,[o] may by thy mighty aid[p] be defended[q] and comforted[r] in all dangers and adversities,[s] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(159.)

ALL of you be subject one to another,[a] and be clothed[b] with humility[c]: for God resisteth the proud,[d] and giveth grace to the humble.[e] Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time[f]; casting all your care upon him, for he careth for you.[g] Be sober, be vigilant[h]; because your adversary the devil,[i] as a roaring lion, walketh about seeking whom he may devour[j]: whom resist[k] stedfast in the faith,[l] knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.[m] But the God of all grace,[n] who hath called us into his eternal glory by Christ Jesus,[o] after that ye have suffered a while,[p] make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you.[q] To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever.[r] Amen.

The Gospel. St. Luke xv. 1-10.

THEN drew near unto him all the Publicans and sinners for to hear him.[a] And the Pharisees and Scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.[b] And he spake this parable[c] unto them, saying, What man of you[d] having an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it[e]? And when he hath found it,[f] he layeth it on his shoulders,[g] rejoicing.[h] And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me,[i] for I have found my sheep which was lost.[j] I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven[k] over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance.[l] Either what woman having ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece,[1] doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek diligently till she find it? And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Rejoice with me, for I have found the piece which I had lost. Likewise, I say unto you, There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

BE ye all of one mind,[c] having compassion one of another,[f] love as brethren,[1] be pitiful,[g] be courteous[h]; not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing; but contrariwise blessing[i]; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing.[j] For he that will love life,[k] and see good days,[l] let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile[m]: let him eschew evil, and do good[n]; let him seek peace, and ensue it.[o] For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous,[p] and his ears are open unto their prayers[q]: but the face of the Lord is against[2] them that do evil.[r] And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good[s]? But and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye[t]: and be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled[u]; but sanctify the Lord God in your hearts.[v]

The Gospel. St. Luke v. 1-11.

IT came to pass, that as the people pressed upon him[a] to hear the word of God, he stood by the lake of Gennesareth,[b] and saw two ships standing by the lake; but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets.[c] And he entered into one of the ships, which was Simon's, and prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land: and he sat down, and taught the people out of the ship.[d] Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught.[e] And Simon answering said unto him, Master, we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing[f]; nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net.[g] And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes,[h] and their net brake. And they beckoned unto their partners which were in the other ship, that they should come and help them.[i] And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they began to sink. When Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus' knees,[j] saying, Depart from me,[k] for I am a sinful man, O Lord.[l] For he was astonished,[m] and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken; and so was also James, and John, the sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon.[n] And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not, from henceforth thou shalt catch men.[o] And when they had brought their ships to land, they forsook all, and followed him.[p]

KNOW ye not, that so many of us as were[1] baptized into Jesus Christ[a] were baptized into his death[b]? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death[c]; that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father,[d] even so we also should walk in newness of life.[e] For if we have been planted[f] together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection[g]: knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him,[h] that the body of sin might be destroyed,[i] that henceforth we should not serve sin.[j] For he that is dead is freed[2] from sin.[k] Now if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him[l]; knowing that Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him.[m] For in that he died, he died unto sin once[n]; but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.[o] Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin,[p] but alive unto God[q] through Jesus Christ our Lord.

And his disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfy these men with bread here in the wilderness[r]? And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven.[s] And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground. And he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks,[t] and brake, and gave to his disciples to set before them; and they did set them before the people. The Epistle. Rom. viii. 12-17.

BRETHREN, we are debtors,[f] not to the flesh,[g] to live after the flesh. For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die[h]; but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body,[i] ye shall live.[j] For as many as are led by the Spirit of God,[k] they are the sons of God.[l] For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear[m]; but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father.[n] The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God[o]: and if children, then heirs[p]; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ[q]: if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.[r]

The Gospel. St. Matth. vii. 15-21.

BEWARE of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.[s] Ye shall know them by their fruits[t]: do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles[u]? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.[v] A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit; neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.[w] Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them. Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven[x]; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.[y]

The Epistle. 1 Cor. x. 1-13.

BRETHREN, I would not that ye should be ignorant,[h] how that all our fathers were under the cloud,[i] and all passed through the sea[j]; and were all baptized unto Moses[k] in the cloud, and in the sea; and did all eat the same spiritual meat,[l] and did all drink the same spiritual drink[m]: (for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed[1] them; and that Rock was Christ.[n]) But with many of them God was not well pleased; for they were overthrown in the wilderness.[o] Now these things were our examples,[2] to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted.[p] Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.[q] Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand.[r] Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted,[s] and were destroyed of serpents.[t] Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured,[u] and were destroyed of the destroyer.[v] Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples[3]: and they are written for our admonition,[w] upon whom the ends of the world are come.[x] Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.[y] There hath no temptation taken you, but such as is common[4] to man[z]; but God is faithful,[aa] who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.[bb]

The Gospel. St. Luke xvi. 1-9.

JESUS said unto his disciples, There was a certain rich man which had a steward[a]; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods.[b] And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? Give an account of thy stewardship[c]; for thou mayest be no longer steward.[d] Then the steward said within himself, What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship[e]: I cannot dig,[f] to beg I am ashamed. I am resolved what to do, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses. So he called every one of his lord's debtors[g] unto him, and said

Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, An hundred measures[2] of wheat. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and write fourscore. And the lord commended the unjust steward, because he had done wisely[h]: for the children of this world are in their generation wiser[i] than the children of light.[j] And I say unto you, Make to yourselves friends of the mammon[3] of unrighteousness[k]; that when ye fail,[l] they may receive you into everlasting habitations.[m]

CONCERNING spiritual[a] gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.[b] Ye know that ye were Gentiles,[c] carried away unto these dumb idols,[d] even as ye were led.[e] Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jesus accursed[1][f]; and that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghost.[g] Now there are diversities of gifts,[h] but the same Spirit. And there are differences of administrations,[2][i] but the same Lord.[j] And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God, who worketh all in all.[k] But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal.[l] For to one is given by the Spirit the word of wisdom[m]; to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit[n]; to another faith by the same Spirit[o]; to another the gifts of healing by the same Spirit[p]; to another the working of miracles[q]; to another prophecy[r]; to another discerning of spirits[s]; to another divers kinds of tongues[t]; to another the interpretation of tongues.[u] But all these worketh that one and the self-same Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will.[v]

JESUS spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were[l] righteous,[a] and despised others[b]: Two men went up into the temple to pray[c]; the one a Pharisee, and the other a Publican. The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this Publican[d]: I fast twice in the week,[e] I give tithes of all that I possess.[f] And the Publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven,[g] but smote upon his breast,[h] saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.[i] I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other[j]: for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased[k]; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.[l]

The Gospel. St. Mark vii. 31-37.

JESUS departing from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, came unto the sea of Galilee,[p] through the midst of the coasts of Decapolis.[q] And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech[r]; and they beseech him to put his hand upon him.[s] And he took him aside from the multitude,[t] and put his fingers into his ears, and he spit, and touched his tongue[u]; and looking up to heaven, he sighed,[v] and saith unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.[w] And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain.[x] And he charged them that they should tell no man: but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it[y]; and were beyond measure astonished,[z] saying, He hath done all things well; he maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.[aa]

THE THIRTEENTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY.

The Collect.

ALMIGHTY and merciful God, of whose only gift[a] it cometh, that thy faithful people[b] do unto thee true and laudable service[c]; Grant, we beseech thee, that we may so faithfully serve thee[d] in this life,[e] that we fail not finally to attain thy heavenly promises,[f] through the merits of Jesus Christ our Lord.[g] Amen.

The Epistle. Gal. iii. 16-22.

TO Abraham and his seed were the promises made.[h] He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one; And to thy seed,[i] which is Christ.[j] And this I say, that the covenant that was confirmed before of God in Christ,[k] the law, which was four hundred and thirty years after,[l] cannot disannul, that it should make the promise of none effect.[m] For if the inheritance be of the law, it is no more of promise[n]; but God gave it to Abraham by promise.[o] Wherefore then serveth the law? It was added because of transgressions,[p] till the seed should come, to whom the promise was made[q]; and it was ordained by angels[r] in the hand of a mediator.[s] Now a mediator is not a mediator[t] of one, but God is one.[u] Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid[v]: for if there had been a law given, which could have given life,[w] verily righteousness should have been by the law.[x] But the Scripture hath concluded all under sin,[y] that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ[z] might be given to them that believe.[aa]

BLESSED are the eyes which see the things that ye see.[a] For I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.[b] And behold, a certain Lawyer stood up, and tempted him,[c] saying, Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life[d]? He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou[e]? And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind[f]; and thy neighbour as thyself.[g] And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right[h]; this do, and thou shalt live.[i] But he willing to justify himself,[j] said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour[k]? And Jesus answering said, A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed leaving him half dead.[l] And by chance[m] there came down a certain Priest that way, and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side.[n] And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.[o] But a certain Samaritan,[p] as he journeyed, came where he was[q]; and when he saw him, he had compassion on him, and went to him,[r] and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence,[s] and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again I will repay thee. Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves[t]? And he said, He that shewed mercy on him.[u] Then said Jesus unto him, Go and do thou likewise.[v]

The Collect.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, give unto us the increase of faith,[a] hope,[b] and charity[c]; and that we may obtain that which thou dost promise,[d] make us to love that which thou dost command,[e] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Epistle. Gal. v. 16-24.

I SAY then, Walk in the Spirit,[f] and ye shall not fulfil[1] the lust of the flesh.[g] For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit,[h] and the Spirit against the flesh[i]; and these are contrary the one to the other[j]; so that ye cannot do the things that ye would.[k] But if ye be led by the Spirit, ye are not under the law.[l] Now the works of the flesh[m] are manifest, which are these, adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,[n] idolatry,[o] witchcraft,[p] hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife,[q] seditions,[r] heresies,[s] envyings, murders,[t] drunkenness, revellings,[u] and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they who do such things shall not inherit[v] the kingdom of God.[w] But the fruit[x] of the Spirit is love,[y] joy, peace,[z] long-suffering, gentleness, goodness,[aa] faith,[bb] meekness,[cc] temperance[dd]: against such there is no law.[ee] And they that are Christ's[ff] have crucified the flesh with the affections[2] and lusts.[gg]

(178.)

AND it came to pass, as Jesus went to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria, and Galilee.[a] And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off:[b] And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus Master, have mercy on us.[c] And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go, shew yourselves unto the priests.[d] And it came to pass, that as they went, they were cleansed.[e] And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God,[f] and fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks[g]; and he was a Samaritan.[h] And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine[i]? There are not found that returned to give glory to God,[j] save this stranger.[k] And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way,[l] thy faith hath made thee whole.[m]

The Collect.

KEEP, we beseech thee, O Lord, thy Church with thy perpetual mercy.[n] And, because the frailty of man without thee cannot but fall,[o] keep us ever by thy help from all things hurtful,[p] and lead us to all things profitable to our salvation,[q] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(179.)

The Epistle. Gal. vi. 11-18.

YE see how large a letter I have written nnto you with mine own hand.[a] As many as desire to make a fair shew in the flesh,[b] they constrain you to be circumcised[c]; only lest they should suffer persecution for the cross of Christ.[d] For neither they themselves who are circumcised keep the law[e]; but desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.[f] But God forbid that I should glory,[g] save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ,[h] by whom[i] the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world.[k] For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision,[j] but a new creature.[k] And as many as walk according to this rule,[l] peace be on them,[m] and mercy,[n] and upon the Israel of God.[o] From henceforth let no man trouble me[p]; for I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus.[q] Brethren, the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.[r] Amen.

The Gospel. St. Matth. vi. 24-34.

NO man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other.[a] Ye cannot serve God and mammon.[b] Therefore I say unto you,[c] Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on[d]: Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment[e]? Behold the fowls of the air; for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them.[f] Are ye not much better than they? Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature[g]? And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field how they grow: they toil not, neither do they spin: and yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory[h] was not arrayed like one of these. Wherefore if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven[i]; shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of

IT came to pass, as Jesus went into the house of one of the chief Pharisees to eat bread[a] on the sabbath-day, that they watched him.[b] And behold, there was a certain man before him which had the dropsy. And Jesus answering spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath-day[c]? And they held their peace.[d] And he took him, and healed him, and let him go; and answered them, saying, Which of you shall have an ass, or an ox, fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath day[e]? And they could not answer him again to these things.[f] And he put forth a parable to those which were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief rooms,[g] saying unto them, When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not down in the highest room[h]; lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him; and he that

THIS I say therefore, and testify in the Lord,[c] that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk,[d] in the vanity of their mind; having the understanding darkened,[e] being alienated from the life of God[f] through the ignorance that is in them,[g] because of the blindness[1] of their heart[h]: who, being past feeling,[i] have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness.[j] But ye have not so learned Christ[k]: if so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him,[l] as the truth is in Jesus[m]: that ye put off concerning the former conversation, the old man,[n] which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts[o]; and be renewed in the spirit of your mind[p]; and that ye put on the new man,[q] which after God[r] is created in righteousness and true holiness.[2s] Wherefore, putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbour[t]: for we are members one of another.[u] Be ye angry and sin not[v]: let not the sun go down upon your wrath[w]: neither give place to the devil.[x] Let him that stole steal no more[y]; but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good,[z] that he may have to give[3] to him that needeth.[aa] Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth,[a] but that which is good to the use of edifying,[1] that it may minister grace unto the hearers.[b] And grieve not the holy Spirit of God,[c] whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption.[d] Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger,[e] and clamour, and evil-speaking,[f] be put away from you, with all malice.[g] And be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted,[h] forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake[2] hath forgiven you.[i]

For whether is easier to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee? or to say, Arise, and walk?[q] But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins,[r] (then saith he to the sick of the palsy) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house.[s] And he arose, and departed to his house.[t] But when the multitude saw it, they marvelled,[u] and glorified God, who had given such power unto men.[v]

The Gospel. St. Matth. xxii. 1-14.

JESUS said, The kingdom of heaven[a] is like unto a certain king, who made a marriage for his son[b]; and sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding[c]; and they would not come.[d] Again, he sent forth other servants,[e] saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner; my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready; come unto the marriage.[f] But they made light of it,[g] and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise[h]: and the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.[i] But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth; and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burnt up their city.[j] Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they who were bidden were not worthy.[k] Go ye therefore into the high-ways, and as many as ye shall find bid to the marriage.[l] So those servants went out into the high-ways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good[m]; and the wedding was furnished with guests.[n] And when the king came in to see the guests,[o] he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment.[p] And he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither, not having a wedding garment[q]? And he was speechless.[r] Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.[s] For many are called, but few are chosen.[t]

The Gospel. St. John iv. 46-54.

THERE was a certain nobleman,[1] whose son was sick[a] at Capernaum.[b] When he heard that Jesus was come ont of Judea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down and heal his son[c]; for he was at the point of death. Then said Jesus unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe.[d] The nobleman saith unto him, Sir, come down ere my child die.[e] Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way, thy son liveth.[f] And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way.[g] And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth.[h] Then enquired he of them the hour when he began to amend: and they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.[i] So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth; and himself believed, and his whole house.[j] This is again the second miracle that Jesus did when he was come out of Judea into Galilee.[k]

PETER said unto Jesus, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him[a]? till seven[b] times? Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, until seven times; but, until seventy times seven.[c] Therefore is the kingdom of heaven[d] likened unto a certain king, which would take account of his servants.[e] And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ten thousand talents.[1f] But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.[g] The servant therefore fell down and worshipped[2] him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.[h] Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt.[i] But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, which owed him an hundred pence[3]; and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest.[j] And his fellow-servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. And he would not; but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt. So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were very sorry,[k] and came and told unto their lord all that was done.[l] Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant,[m] I forgive thee all that

The Gospel. St. John vi. 5-14.

WHEN Jesus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him,[s] he saith unto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread that these may eat? (And this he said to prove him[t]; for he himself knew what he would do.[u]) Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little. One of his disciples, Andrew,[v] Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him, There is a lad here, which hath five barley-loaves, and two small fishes; but what are they among so many[w]? And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand. And Jesus took the loaves, and when he had given thanks,[x] he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down, and likewise of the fishes, as much as they would. When they were filled, he said unto

SAINT ANDREW'S DAY.

ALMIGHTY God,[a] who didst give such grace[b] unto thy holy apostle Saint Andrew,[c] that he readily obeyed the calling of thy Son Jesus Christ, and followed him without delay[d]; Grant unto us all, that we being called by thy holy word,[e] may forthwith give up ourselves[f] obediently to fulfil[g] thy holy commandments,[h] through the same Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Epistle. Rom. x. 9-21.

IF thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus,[i] and shalt believe in thine heart, that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.[j] For with the heart man believeth[k] unto righteousness,[l] and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.[m] For the Scripture saith,[n] Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.[o] For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek[p]: for the same Lord over all[q] is rich[r] unto all that call upon him.[s] For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.[t] How then shall they call on him, in whom they have not believed[u]? And how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard[v]? And how shall they hear without a preacher[w]? And how shall they preach, except they be sent[x]? As it is written,[y] How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace,[z] and bring glad tidings of good things[aa]! But they have not all obeyed the gospel.[a] For Esaias saith,[b] Lord, who hath believed our report[1]? So then faith cometh by hearing,[c] and hearing by the word of God.[d] But I say, Have they not heard[e]? Yes, verily, their sound went into all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world.[f] But I say, Did

The Gospel. St. Matth. iv. 18-22.

JESUS walking by the sea of Galilee,[r] saw two brethren, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother,[t] casting a net into the sea, (for they were fishers[u]) and he saith unto them, Follow me[v]; and I will make you fishers of men.[w] And they straightway[x] left their nets, and followed him.[y] And going on from thence, he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and he called them. And they immediately left the ship and their father, and followed him.[z]

SAINT THOMAS THE APOSTLE.

The Collect.

ALMIGHTY and everliving[a] God, who for the more confirmation of the faith[b] didst suffer[c] thy holy apostle Thomas[d] to be doubtful in thy Son's resurrection[e]; Grant us so perfectly,[f] and without all doubt[g] to believe in thy Son Jesus Christ,[h] that our faith in thy sight may never be reproved.[i] Hear us, O Lord, through the same Jesus Christ,[j] to whom with thee and the holy Ghost, be all honour and glory now and for evermore.[k] Amen.

The Epistle. Ephes. ii. 19-22.

The Collect.

GOD,[a] who, through the preaching[b] of the blessed apostle[c] Saint Paul,[d] hast caused the light of the gospel to shine[e] throughout the world[f]; Grant, we beseech thee, that we having his wonderful conversion[g] in remembrance,[h] may shew forth our thankfulness unto thee for the same,[i] by following the holy[j] doctrine which he taught,[k] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

AND Saul,[l] yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord,[m] went unto the high priest, and desired of him letters[n] to Damascus to the synagogues,[o] that, if he found any of this[1] way,[p] whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem. And as he journeyed he came near Damascus, and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven.[q] And he fell to the earth,[r] and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul,[s] why persecutest thou me[t]? And he said, Who art thou, Lord[u]? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.[v] And he trembling and astonished,[w] said, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do[x]? And the Lord said unto him, Arise,[y] and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.[z] And the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a[1] voice, but seeing no man.[a] And Saul arose from the earth, and when his eyes were opened he saw no man; but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.[b] And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.[c] And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias, and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias.[d] And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.[e] And the Lord said unto him, Arise,[f] and go into the street which is called Straight, and enquire in the house of Judas for one called Saul, of Tarsus[g]: for bchold, he prayeth,[h] and hath seen in a vision[i] a man named Ananias, coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight. Then Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man,[j] how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Jerusalem[k]; and here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all that call on thy name.[l] But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way[m]; for he is a chosen vessel unto me,[n] to bear my name before the Gentiles,[o] and kings,[p] and the children of Israel[q]: for I will shew him how great things he must suffer[r] for my name's sake.[s] And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house; and putting his hands on him,[t] said, Brother Saul,[u] the Lord, (even Jesus that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest,[v]) hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight,[w] and be filled with the holy Ghost.[x] And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales; and he received sight forthwith,[y] and arose, and was baptized.[z] And when he had received meat, he was strengthened.[a]

Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus.[b] And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues,[c] that he is the Son of God.[d] But all that heard him were amazed,[e] and said, Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name[f] in Jerusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests[g]? But Saul increased the more in strength,[h] and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus,[i] proving that this is very Christ.[j]

THE PRESENTATION OF CHRIST IN THE TEMPLE, commonly called, The Purification of Saint Mary the Virgin.

The Collect.

ALMIGHTY and everliving God, we humbly beseech thy Majesty,[a] that, as thy only-begotten Son[b] was this day presented in the temple[c] in substance of our flesh,[d] so we may be presented unto thee[e] with pure and clean hearts,[f] by the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For the Epistle. Mal. iii. 1-5.

BEHOLD, I will send my messenger,[g] and he shall prepare the way before me[h]: and the Lord, whom ye seek,[i] shall suddenly come to his temple[j]; even the messenger of the covenant,[k] whom ye delight in[l]; behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts.[m] But who may abide the day of his coming[n]? and who shall stand when he appeareth[o]? for he is like a refiner's fire,[p] and like fullers' soap.[q] And he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver[r]; and he shall purify the sons of Levi,[s] and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness.[t] Then shall the offerings of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the Lord,[u] as in the days of old, and as in former[1] years.[v] And I will come near to you to judgement,[w] and I will be a swift witness[x] against the sorcerers,[y] and against the adulterers,[z] and against false-swearers,[aa] and against those that oppress[2] the hireling in his wages,[bb] the widow, and the fatherless,[cc] and that turn aside the stranger from his right,[dd] and fear not me,[ee] saith the Lord of hosts.

SAINT MATTHIAS'S DAY.

The Collect.

(208.)

O ALMIGHTY God, who into the place of the traitor Judas[a] didst choose thy faithful servant Matthias to be of the number of the twelve apostles[b]; Grant that thy Church being alway preserved from false apostles,[c] may be ordered and guided by faithful and true pastors,[d] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For the Epistle. Acts i. 15-26.

IN those days[c] Peter stood up in the midst of the disciples,[f] and said, (the number of the names[g] together were about an hundred and twenty[h]) Men and brethren,[i] this Scripture must needs have been fulfilled,[j] which the holy Ghost by the mouth of David[k] spake before concerning Judas,[l] which was guide to them that took Jesus[m]: for he was numbered with us,[n] and had obtained part of this ministry.[o] Now this man purchased a field with the reward of iniquity[p]; and falling headlong he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.[q] And it was known unto all the dwellers at Jerusalem,[r] insomuch as that field is called in their proper tongue, Aceldama, that is to say, The field of blood.[s] For it is written in the book of Psalms, Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein[t]; and, His bishoprick[1] let another take.[u] Wherefore of these men which have companied with us[v] all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out[w] among us, beginning from the baptism of John,[x] unto that same day that he was taken up from us,[y] must one be ordained to be a witness with us of his resurrection.[z] And they appointed two, Joseph called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias.[a] And they prayed,[a] and said, Thou Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men,[b] shew whether of these two thou hast chosen[c]; that he may take part of this ministry and apostleship,[d] from which Judas by transgression fell,[e] that he might go to his own place.[f] And they gave forth their lots[g]; and the lot fell upon Matthias, and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.[h]

The Gospel. St. Matth. xi. 25-30.

AT that time[i] Jesus answered and said,[j] I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth,[k] because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent,[l] and hast revealed them unto babes.[m] Even so, Father, for so it seemed good in thy sight.[n] All things are delivered unto me of my Father[o]: and no man[1] knoweth the Son but the Father[p]; neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son,[q] and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him.[r] Come unto me,[s] all ye that labour and heavy laden,[t] and I will give you rest.[u] Take my yoke upon you,[v] and learn of me[w]; for I am meek and lowly in heart[x]: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.[y] For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.[z]

THE ANNUNCIATION OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY.—March 25.

The Collect.

WE beseech thee, O Lord, pour thy grace into our hearts,[a] that as we have known the incarnation[b] of thy Son Jesus Christ by the message of an angel[c]; so by his cross and passion we may be brought unto the glory of his resurrection,[d] through the same Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For the Epistle. Isaiah vii. 10-15.

MOREOVER, the Lord spake again[1] unto Ahaz,[f] saying, Ask thee a sign of the Lord thy God[g]; ask it either in the depth,[2] or in the height above.[h] But Ahaz said, I will not ask,[i] neither will I tempt the Lord.[j] And he said, Hear ye now, O house of David[k]; Is it a small thing for you to weary men,[l] but will ye weary my God also[m]? Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign[n]; Behold, a virgin shall conceive and bear a Son,[o] and shall call[3] his name Immanuel.[p] Butter and honey shall he eat,[q] that he may know to refuse the evil, and choose the good.[r]

The Gospel. St. Luke i. 26-38.

AND in the sixth month[a] the angel Gabriel was sent from God[b] unto a city of Galilee named Nazareth,[c] to a virgin[d] espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David[e]; and the virgin's name was Mary.[f] And the angel came in unto her, and said,[g] Hail, thou that art highly favoured,[1] the Lord is with thee[h]: blessed art thou among women.[i] And when she saw him she was troubled at his saying,[j] and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.[k] And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary; for thou hast found favour with God.[l] And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a Son,[m] and shalt call his name JESUS.[n] He shall be great,[o] and shall be called the Son of the Highest[p]; and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David.[q] And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever[r]; and of his kingdom there shall be no end.[s] Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man[t]? And the angel answered and said unto her, The holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee[u]: therefore also that holy thing[v] which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God.[w] And behold, thy cousin Elizabeth, she hath also conceived a son in

UNTO every one of us[g] is given grace,[h] according to the measure of the gift of Christ.[i] Wherefore he saith,[j] When he ascended up on high,[k] he led captivity[l] captive,[l] and gave gifts unto men.[m] (Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first[n] into the lower parts of the earth[o]? He that descended is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens,[p] that he might fill[2] all things.[q]) And he gave some apostles,[r] and some prophets,[s] and some evangelists,[t] and some pastors[u] and teachers[v]; for the perfecting of the saints,[w] for the work of the ministry,[x] for the edifying[y] of the body of Christ[z]; till we all come in[1] the unity of the faith,[a] and of the knowledge of the Son of God,[b] unto a perfect man,[c] unto the measure of the stature[2] of the fulness of Christ[d]; that we henceforth be no more children,[e] tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine,[f] by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive[g]; but speaking the truth[3] in love,[h] may grow up[i] into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ[j]: from whom[k] the whole body fitly joined together, and compacted by that which every joint supplieth,[l] according to the effectual working in the measure of every part,[m] maketh increase[n] of the body, unto the edifying of itself in love.[o]

(216.) AND Jesus said unto his disciples, Let not your heart be troubled[a]; ye believe in God,[b] believe also in me.[c] In my Father's house are many mansions[d]; if it were not so, I would have told you.[e] I go to prepare a place for you[f]: and if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself,[g] that where I am, there ye may be also.[h] And whither I go ye know,[i] and the way ye know.[j] Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest, and how can we know the way[k]? Jesus saith unto him, I am the way,[l] the truth,[m] and the life[n]: no man cometh unto the Father but by me.[o] If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also[p]: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.[q] Philip[r] saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.[s] Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me,[t] Philip? He that hath seen me hath seen the Father[u]; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father[v]? Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me[w]? The words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself[x]; but the Father that dwelleth in me,[y] he doeth the works.[z] Believe me, that I am in the Father, and the Father in me[aa]; or else believe me for the very works' sake.[bb] Verily, verily I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also[cc]; and greater works than these shall he do[dd]; because I go unto my Father.[ee] And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do,[ff] that the Father may be glorified in the Son.[gg] If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it.[hh] holy Ghost[b]; Leave us not, we beseech thee, destitute of thy manifold gifts,[c] nor yet of grace to use them alway to thy honour and glory,[d] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For the Epistle. Acts xi. 22-30.

TIDINGS of these things came unto the ears of the Church which was in Jerusalem[e]; and they sent forth Barnabas,[f] that he should go as far as Antioch.[g] Who, when he came, and had seen the grace of God,[h] was glad[i]; and exhorted them all,[j] that with purpose of heart[k] they would cleave unto the Lord.[l] For he was a good man,[m] and full of the holy Ghost, and of faith[n]: and much people was added unto the Lord.[o] Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus, for to seek Saul.[p] And when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves with[1] the Church,[q] and taught much people[r]: and the disciples were called Christians[s] first in Antioch. And in these days came prophets from Jerusalem unto Antioch.[t] And there stood up one of them named Agabus,[u] and signified by the Spirit,[v] that there should be great dearth throughout all the world[w]; which came to pass in the days of Claudius Cesar. Then the disciples, every man according to his ability,[x] determined[y] to send relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Judea.[z] Which also they did, and sent it to the elders[aa] by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

THIS is my commandment,[a] That ye love one another,[b] as I have loved you.[c] Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.[d] Ye are my friends,[e] if ye do whatsoever I command you.[f] Henceforth I call you not servants[g]; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth[h]: but I have called you friends[i]; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.[j] Ye have not chosen me,[k] but I have chosen you,[l] and ordained you,[m] that ye should go and bring forth fruit,[n] and that your fruit should remain[o]: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.[p]

COMFORT ye, comfort ye my people,[a] saith your God.[b] Speak ye comfortably[1] to Jerusalem,[c] and cry unto her,[d] that her warfare[2] is accomplished[e]; that her iniquity is pardoned[f]: for she hath received of the Lord's hand double for all her sins.[g] The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness,[h] Prepare ye the way of the Lord,[i] make straight in the desert a highway for our God.[j] Every valley shall be exalted,[k] and every mountain and hill shall be made low,[l] and the crooked shall be made straight,[3] and the rough places plain.[4m] And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed,[n] and all flesh shall see it together[o]: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.[p] The voice said, Cry.[q] And he said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass,[r] and all the goodliness thereof is as the flower of the field.[s] The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, because the Spirit of the Lord bloweth upon it[t]: surely the people is grass. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; but the word of our God shall stand for ever.[u] O Zion, that bringest good tidings,[5v] get thee up into the high mountain[w]: O Jerusalem, that bringest good tidings,[6] lift up thy voice with strength; lift it up, be not afraid[x]: say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God.[y] Behold, the Lord God will come with strong hand,[7] and his arm shall rule for him[z]: behold, his reward is with him, and his work[8] before him.[aa] He shall feed his flock like a shepherd[bb]; he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young.[9cc]

but he shall be called John. And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name. And they made signs to his father, how he would have him called. And he asked for a writing-table,[d] and wrote, saying, His name is John. And they marvelled all. And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed,[e] and he spake and praised God.[f] And fear came on all that dwelt round about them[g]; and all these sayings[1] were noised abroad throughout all the hill-country of Judea. And all they that had heard them laid them up in their hearts,[h] saying, What manner of child shall this be? And the hand of the Lord was with him.[i] And his father Zacharias was filled with the holy Ghost, and prophesied,[j] saying, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel[k]: for he hath visited and redeemed his people,[l] and hath raised up an horn of salvation[m] for us in the house of his servant David[n]; as he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets,[o] which have been since the world began; that we should be saved from our enemies,[p] and from the hand of all that hate us; to perform the mercy promised to our fathers,[q] and to remember his holy covenant[r]; the oath which he sware to our father Abraham,[s] that he would grant unto us, that we, being delivered out of the hands of our enemies, might serve him without fear,[t] in holiness and righteousness[u] before him all the days of our life.[v] And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest[w]: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways[x]; to give knowledge of salvation unto his people,[y] by the remission of their sins,[z] through the tender mercy of our God,[aa] whereby the Day-spring from on high hath visited us[bb]; to give light to them that sit in darkness[cc] and in the shadow of death,[dd] to guide our feet into the way of peace.[ee] And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit; and was in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.[ff]

For the Epistle. Acts xii. 1-11.

ABOUT that time Herod the king stretched forth his hands[1] to vex certain of the Church.[g] And he killed James the brother of John[h] with the sword.[i] And, because he saw it pleased the Jews,[j] he proceeded further to take Peter also.[k] (Then were the days of unleavened bread.[l]) And when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison,[m] and delivered him to four quarternions of soldiers to keep him,[n] intending after Easter[2] to bring him forth to the people.[o] Peter therefore was kept in prison; but prayer was made without ceasing[3] of the church unto God for him.[p] And when Herod would have brought him forth, the same night[q] Peter was sleeping[r] between two soldiers, bound with two chains[s]; and the keepers before the door kept the prison.[t] And behold, the angel of the Lord came upon him,[u] and a light shined in the prison[v]; and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly.[w] And his chains fell off from his hands.[x] And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals: and so he did.[y] And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me. And he went out and followed him[z]; and wist[4] not that it was true which was done by the angel; but thought he saw a vision.[a] When they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city, which opened to them of his own accord[b]; and they went out, and passed on through one street, and forthwith the angel departed from him.[c] And when Peter was come to himself,[d] he said, Now I know of a surety, that the Lord hath sent his angel,[e] and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod,[f] and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.[g]

The Gospel. St. Matth. xvi. 13-19.

WHEN Jesus came into the coasts of Cesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples,[h] saying, Whom do men say that I, the Son of man, am[i]? And they said, Some say that thou art John the Baptist,[j] some Elias,[k] and others Jeremias, or one of the prophets.[l] He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am[m]? And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art [the] Christ,[n] the Son of the living God.[o] And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou,[p] Simon Bar jona[q]: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee,[r]

BY the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people[h]: (and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch[i]: and of the rest durst no man join himself to them[j]: but the people magnified them[k]: and believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women[l]:) insomuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets,[1] and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them.[m] There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits; and they were healed every one.[n]

THERE was war in heaven[a]: Michael[b] and his angels fought against the dragon,[c] and the dragon fought and his angels[d]; and prevailed not,[e] neither was their place found any more in heaven.[f] And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent,[g] called the devil[h] and Satan,[i] which deceiveth the whole world[j]; he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.[k] And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven,[l] Now is come salvation,[m] and strength, and the kingdom of our God,[n] and the power of his Christ[o]: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.[p] And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb,[q] and by the word of their testimony[r]; and they loved not their lives unto the death.[s] Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them.[t] Woe to the inhabiters of the earth and of the sea[u]: for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.[v]

THE ORDER FOR THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE LORD'S SUPPER, OR HOLY COMMUNION.

So many as intend to be partakers of the holy Communion shall signify their names to the Curate, at least some time the day before.

And if any of those be an open and notorious evil liver, or have done any wrong to his neighbours by word or deed, so that the Congregation be thereby offended; the Curate, having knowledge thereof, shall call him and advertise him, that in any wise he presume not to come to the Lord's Table, until he hath openly declared himself to have truly repented and amended his former naughty life, that the Congregation may thereby be satisfied, which before were offended; and that he hath recompensed the parties, to whom he hath done wrong; or at least declare himself to be in full purpose so to do, as soon as he conveniently may. [See Nos. 245 & 246.]

The same order shall the Curate use with those betwixt whom he perceiveth malice and hatred to reign; not suffering them to be partakers of the Lord's Table, until he know them to be reconciled. And if one of the parties so at variance be content to forgive from the bottom of his heart all that the other hath trespassed against him, and to make amends for that he himself hath offended; and the other party will not be persuaded to a godly unity, but remain still in his frowardness and malice: the Minister in that case ought to admit the penitent person to the holy Communion, and not him that is obstinate. Provided that every Minister so repelling any, as is specified in this, or the next precedent paragraph of this Rubrick, shall be obliged to give an account of the same to the Ordinary within fourteen days after at the farthest. And the Ordinary shall proceed against the offending person according to the Canon.

The Table, at the Communion-time having a fair white linen cloth upon it, shall stand in the body of the Church, or in the Chancel, where Morning and Evening Prayer are appointed to be said. And the Priest standing at the north side of the Table shall say the Lord's Prayer, with the Collect following, the People kneeling.

OUR Father,[a] which art in heaven,[b] Hallowed be thy Name.[c] Thy kingdom come.[d] Thy will be done[e] in earth, As it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses,[f] As we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; But deliver us from evil.[g] Amen.

The Collect.

ALMIGHTY God, unto whom all hearts be open,[h] all desires known,[i] and from whom no secrets are hid[j]; Cleanse the thoughts of our hearts[k] by the inspiration of thy holy Spirit,[l] that we may perfectly love thee,[m] and worthily magnify thy holy Name,[n] through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Then shall the Priest, turning to the People, rehearse distinctly all the TEN COMMANDMENTS [31 De. 11-13; 8 Ne. 1, &c.]; and the People still kneeling shall, after every Commandment, ask God mercy for their transgression thereof for the time past, and grace to keep the same for the time to come, as followeth.

GOD spake these words,[o] and said; I am the Lord[p] thy God[q]:

Thou shalt have none other gods but me.[r]

People. Lord, have mercy upon us,[s] and incline our hearts to keep this law.[t]

Minister. Thou shalt not make to thyself any graven image,[a] nor the likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or in the earth beneath, or in the water under the earth.[b] Thou shalt not bow down to them,[c] nor worship them[d]: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God,[e] and visit the sins of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me,[f] and shew mercy unto thousands in them that love me, and keep my commandments.[g]

People. Lord, have mercy upon us,[h] and incline our hearts to keep this law.[i]

Minister. Thou shalt not take the Name of the Lord thy God in vain[j]: for the Lord will not hold him guiltless, that taketh his Name in vain.[k]

People. Lord, have mercy upon us,[l] and incline our hearts to keep this law.[m]

Minister. Remember[n] that thou keep holy the Sabbath-day.[o] Six days shalt thou labour, and do all that thou hast to do[p]; but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God.[q] In it thou shalt do no manner of work,[r] thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, (241.) I BELIEVE in one God[a] the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth, And of all things visible and invisible[b]:

And in one Lord[c] Jesus Christ, the only-begotten Son of God,[d] Begotten of his Father before all worlds,[e] God of God,[f] Light of Light,[g] Very God of very God, Begotten, not made, Being of one substance with the Father,[h] By whom all things were made[i]: Who for us men, and for our salvation came down from heaven,[j] And was incarnate by the holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, And was made man,[k] And was crucified also for us[l] under Pontius Pilate.[m] He suffered[n] and was buried,[o] And the third day he rose again according to the Scriptures,[p] And ascended into heaven,[q] And sitteth on the right hand of the Father.[r] And he shall come again with glory to judge both the quick and the dead[s]: Whose kingdom shall have no end.[t]

And I believe in the holy[u] Ghost, The Lord[v] and Giver of life,[w] Who proceedeth from the Father and the Son,[x] Who with the Father and the Son together is worshipped and glorified,[y] Who spake by the Prophets.[z] And I believe one Catholick and Apostolick Church.[aa] I acknowledge one Baptism for the

Then the Curate shall declare unto the people what Holy-days or Fasting-days, are in the week following to be observed. And then also (if occasion be) shall notice be given of the Communion; and Briefs, Citations, and Excommunications read. And nothing shall be proclaimed or published in the Church, during the time of Divine Service, but by the Minister: nor by him any thing, but what is prescribed in the Rules of this Book, or enjoined by the Queen, or by the Ordinary of the place.

Then shall follow the Sermon, or one of the Homilies already set forth, or hereafter to be set forth, by authority.

Then shall the Priest return to the Lord's Table, and begin the Offertory, saying one or more of these Sentences following, as he thinketh most convenient in his discretion.

When the Minister giveth warning [cf. 23 Le. 4.] for the celebration of the holy Communion, (which he shall always do upon the Sunday or some Holy-day, immediately preceding) after the Sermon or Homily ended, he shall read this Exhortation following.

(245.) DEARLY beloved, on —— day next I purpose, through God's assistance,[a] to administer to all such as shall be religiously and devoutly disposed,[b] the most comfortable[c] Sacrament of the Body and Blood of Christ,[d] to be by them received in remembrance[e] of his meritorious Cross and Passion,[f] whereby alone[g] we obtain remission of our sins,[h] and are made partakers of the kingdom of heaven.[i] Wherefore it is our duty to render most humble and hearty thanks to Almighty God our heavenly Father,[j] for that he hath given his Son our Saviour Jesus Christ,[k] not only to die for us,[l] but also to be our spiritual food and sustenance in that holy Sacrament.[m] Which being so divine and comfortable a thing to them who receive it worthily,[n] and so dangerous to them that will presume to receive it unworthily[o]; my duty is to exhort you[p] in the mean season to consider the dignity of that holy mystery,[q] and the great peril of the unworthy receiving thereof; and so to search and examine your own consciences,[r] (and that not lightly, and after the manner of dissemblers with God[s]; but so) that ye may come holy and clean[t] to such a heavenly feast, in the marriage-garment required by God in holy Scripture,[u] and be received as worthy partakers of that holy Table.[v]

DEARLY beloved brethren, on —— I intend, by

Christ's sake, that ye will not refuse to come thereto,[c] being so lovingly called and bidden by God himself.[d] Ye know how grievous and unkind a thing it is, when a man hath prepared a rich feast, decked his table with all kind of provision, so that there lacketh nothing but the guests to sit down; and yet they who are called (without any cause) most unthankfully refuse

[g] 3 He. 12. beloved in Christ, take ye good heed,[g] lest ye withdrawing yourselves from this holy Supper, provoke God's indignation against you.[h] It is an easy matter
[i] 16 Mat. 26; 9 Lu. 62; 17Lu.27-29; 2 ii Ti. 4. for a man to say, I will not communicate, because I am otherwise hindered with worldly business.[i] But such excuses are not so easily accepted and allowed

Consider earnestly with yourselves how little such feigned excuses will avail before God.[n] They that refused the feast in the Gospel, because they had bought a farm, or would try their yokes of oxen, or because they were married, were not so excused, but counted unworthy of the heavenly feast.[o] I for my part, shall be ready[p]; and according to mine office,[q] I bid you in the name of God, I call you in Christ's behalf,[r] I exhort you, as ye love your own salvation,[s] that ye will be partakers of this holy Communion.[t] And as the Son of God did vouchsafe to yield up his soul by death upon the Cross for your salvation[u]; so it is your duty to receive the Communion in remembrance of the sacrifice of his death, as he himself hath commanded[v]: which if ye shall neglect to do, consider with yourselves how great injury ye do unto God, and how sore punishment hangeth over your heads for the same[w]; when ye wilfully abstain from the Lord's Table, and separate from your brethren,[x] who come to feed on the banquet of that most heavenly food.[y] These things if ye earnestly consider,[z] ye will by God's grace return to a better mind[aa]: for the obtaining whereof we shall not cease to make our humble petitions unto Almighty God our heavenly Father.[bb]

At the time of the celebration of the Communion, the Communicants being conveniently placed for the receiving of the holy Sacrament, the Priest shall say this Exhortation.

(248.) DEARLY beloved in the Lord,[a] ye that mind to come[b] to the holy Communion of the Body and Blood of our Saviour Christ, must consider how Saint Paul exhorteth all persons diligently to try and examine themselves, before they presume to eat of that Bread, and drink of that Cup.[c] For as the benefit is great, if with a true penitent heart and lively faith[d] we receive that holy Sacrament; (for then we spiritually eat the flesh of Christ, and drink his blood[e]; then we dwell in Christ, and Christ in us[f]; we are one with Christ, and Christ with us[g];) so is the danger great, if we receive the same unworthily. For then we are guilty of the Body and Blood of Christ our Saviour[h]; we eat and drink our own damnation, not considering the Lord's Body; we kindle God's wrath against us; we provoke him to plague us with divers diseases, and sundry kinds of death.[i]

Judge therefore yourselves, brethren, that ye be not judged of the Lord[j]; repent you truly for your sins past[k]; have a lively[l] and stedfast[m] faith in Christ our Saviour[n]; amend your lives,[o] and be in perfect charity with all men[p]; so shall ye be meet partakers of those holy mysteries.[q] And above all things ye must give most humble and hearty thanks[r] to God the Father, the Son, and the holy Ghost,[s] for the redemption of the world by the death and passion of our Saviour Christ,[t] both God and man[u]; who did humble himself, even to the death upon the Cross,[v] for us miserable sinners, who lay in darkness and the shadow of death[w]; that he might make us the children of God,[x] and exalt us to everlasting life.[y]

(249.) And to the end that we should alway remember the exceeding great love[a] of our Master,[b] and only Saviour,[c] Jesus Christ, thus dying for us,[d] and the innumerable benefits[e] which by his precious blood-shedding[f] he hath obtained to us[g]; he hath instituted and ordained holy mysteries,[h] as pledges of his love,[i] and for a continual remembrance of his death,[j] to our great and endless comfort.[k] To him therefore, with the Father and the holy Ghost, let us give (as we are most bounden[l]) continual thanks[m]; submitting ourselves wholly to his holy will and pleasure,[n] and studying to serve him[o] in true holiness and righteousness all the days of our life.[p] Amen.

Amen.

Then shall the Priest (or the Bishop, being present,) stand up, and turning himself to the people, pronounce this absolution.

Lift up your hearts.[p]

Priest. Let us give thanks unto our Lord God.[r]

Answer. It is meet and right so to do.[s]

Then shall the Priest turn to the Lord's Table, and say,

IT is very meet, right, and our bounden duty,[t] that we should at all times,[u] and in all places,[v] give thanks unto thee, O Lord,[w] Holy Father,[x] Almighty,[y] Everlasting God.[z]

After shall be said as followeth.

O LORD and heavenly Father, we thy humble servants entirely desire thy fatherly goodness mercifully to accept this our sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving[l]; most humbly beseeching thee to grant, that by the merits[m] and death of thy Son Jesus Christ, and through faith in his blood,[n] we and all thy whole Church may obtain remission of our sins,[o] and all other benefits of his passion.[p] And here we offer and present unto thee, O Lord, ourselves, our souls and bodies,[q] to be a reasonable, holy, and lively sacrifice unto thee[r]; humbly beseeching thee, that all we who are partakers of this holy Communion, may be fulfilled with thy grace and heavenly benediction.[s] And although we be unworthy, through our manifold sins, to offer unto thee any sacrifice,[t] yet we beseech thee to accept this our bounden duty and service; not weighing our merits, but pardoning our offences,[u] through Jesus Christ our Lord[v]; by whom, and with whom, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, all honour and glory be unto thee, O Father Almighty, world without end. Amen.[w]

Or this.

(256.) ALMIGHTY and everliving[a] God, we most heartily thank thee, for that thou dost vouchsafe to feed us,[b] who have duly received these holy mysteries, with the spiritual food of the most precious Body and Blood of thy Son our Saviour Jesus Christ[c]; and dost assure[d] us thereby of thy favour and goodness towards us[e]; and that we are very members incorporate in the mystical body of thy Son,[f] which is the blessed company of all faithful people[g]; and are also heirs[h] through hope[i] of thy everlasting kingdom,[j] by the merits of the most precious death and passion of thy dear Son.[k] And we most humbly beseech thee, O heavenly Father, so to assist us with thy grace,[l] that we may continue in that holy fellowship,[m] and do all such good works as thou hast prepared for us to walk in[n]; through Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom with thee and the holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end.[o] Amen.

Then shall be said or sung,

(257.) GLORY be to God on high,[a] and in earth peace, good will towards men.[b] We praise thee,[c] we bless thee,[d] we worship thee,[e] we glorify thee,[f] we give thanks to thee for thy great glory,[g] O Lord God, heavenly King,[h] God the Father Almighty.[i]

O Lord, the only-begotten Son Jesu Christ[j]; O Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, that takest away the sins of the world,[k] have mercy upon us. Thou that takest away the sins of the world,[l] have mercy upon us. Thou that takest away the sins of the world, receive our prayer.[m] Thou that sittest at the right hand of God the Father, have mercy upon us.[n]

For thou only art holy[o]; thou only art the Lord[p]; thou only, O Christ, with the holy Ghost, art most high in the glory of God the Father.[q] Amen.

Then the Priest (or Bishop if he be present) shall let them depart with this Blessing.

THE peace of God,[r] which passeth all understanding,[s] keep your hearts and minds[t] in the knowledge and love of God, and of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord[u]: and the blessing of God Almighty,[v] the Father, the Son, and the holy Ghost, be amongst you and remain with you always.[w] Amen.

Collects to be said after the Offertory, when there is no Communion, every such day one or more; and the same may be said also, as often as occasion shall serve, after the Collects either of Morning or Evening Prayer, Communion, or Litany, by the discretion of the Minister.

ASSIST us mercifully, O Lord, in these our supplications and prayers,[a] and dispose the way of thy servants towards the attainment of everlasting salvation[b]; that, among all the changes and chances of this mortal life,[c] they may ever be defended by thy most gracious and ready help,[d] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O ALMIGHTY Lord, and everlasting God, vouchsafe, we beseech thee, to direct,[e] sanctify,[f] and govern[g] both our hearts and bodies, in the ways of thy laws, and in the works of thy commandments[h]; that through thy most mighty protection,[i] both here and ever, we may be preserved in body and soul,[j] through our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

GRANT, we beseech thee, Almighty God, that the words, which we have heard this day with our outward ears,[k] may through thy grace be so grafted inwardly in our hearts,[l] that they may bring forth in us the fruit of good living,[m] to the honour and praise of thy name,[n] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

o 38 Is. 20,

Upon the Sundays and other Holy-days (if there be no Communion) shall be said all that is appointed at the Communion, until the end of the general Prayer. For the whole state of Christ's Church militant here in earth together with one or more of these Collects last before rehearsed, concluding with the Blessing.

And there shall be no celebration of the Lord's Supper, except there be a convenient number to communicate with the Priest, according to his discretion.

And if there be not above twenty persons in the Parish of discretion to receive the Communion; yet there shall be no Communion, except four (or three at the least) communicate with the Priest.

And in Cathedral and Collegiate Churches, and Colleges, where there are many Priests and Deacons, they shall all receive the Communion with the Priest every Sunday at the least, except they have a reasonable cause to the contrary.

And to take away all occasion of dissension, and superstition, which any person hath or might have concerning the Bread and Wine, it shall suffice that the Bread be such as is usual to be eaten; but the best and purest Wheat Bread that conveniently may be gotten.

And if any of the Bread and Wine remain unconsecrated, the Curate shall have it to his own use: but if any remain of that which was consecrated, it shall not be carried out of the Church, but the Priest and such other of the Communicants as he shall then call unto him, shall, immediately after the Blessing, reverently eat and drink the same.

The Bread and Wine for the Communion shall be provided by the Curate and the Church-wardens at the charges of the Parish.

And note, that every Parishioner shall communicate at the least three times in the year, of which Easter to be one. And yearly at Easter every Parishioner shall reckon with the Parson, Vicar, or Curate, or his or their Deputy or Deputies; and pay to them or him all Ecclesiastical Duties, accustomably due, then and at that time to be paid.

After the Divine Service ended, the money given at the Offertory shall be disposed of to such pious and charitable uses, as the Minister and Church-wardens shall think fit. Wherein if they disagree, it shall be disposed of as the Ordinary shall appoint.

WHEREAS it is ordained[q] in this Office for the Administration of the Lord's Supper, that the Communicants should receive the same kneeling; (which order is well meant, for a signification of our humble and grateful acknowledgement of the benefits of Christ therein given to all worthy receivers, and for the avoiding of such profanation and disorder[r] in the holy Communion, as might otherwise ensue;) yet, lest the same kneeling should by any persons, either out of ignorance and infirmity, or out of malice and obstinacy, be misconstrued and depraved; It is here declared, that thereby no adoration is intended, or ought to be done, either unto the Sacramental Bread or Wine, there bodily received, or unto any Corporal Presence of Christ's natural Flesh and Blood. For the Sacramental Bread and Wine remain still in their very natural substances, and therefore may not be adored; (for that were Idolatry, to be abhorred of all faithful Christians;) and the natural Body and Blood of our Saviour Christ are in Heaven, and not here; it being against the truth of Christ's natural Body to be at one time in more places than one.[s]

THE MINISTRATION OF

PUBLICK BAPTISM OF INFANTS

TO BE USED IN THE CHURCH.

The people are to be admonished, that it is most convenient that Baptism should not be administered but upon Sundays, and other Holy-days, when the most number of people come together; as well for that the Congregation there present may testify the receiving of them that be newly baptized into the number of Christ's Church; as also because in the Baptism of Infants every man present may be put in remembrance of his own profession made to God in his Baptism. For which cause also it is expedient that Baptism be ministered in the vulgar tongue. Nevertheless, (if necessity so require) Children may be baptized upon any other day.

And note, that there shall be for every Male-child to be baptized two Godfathers and one Godmother; and for every Female, one Godfather and two Godmothers.

When there are Children to be baptized, the Parents shall give knowledge thereof over night, or in the morning before the beginning of Morning Prayer, to the Curate. And then the Godfathers and Godmothers, and the people with the Children, must be ready at the Font, either immediately after the last Lesson at Morning Prayer, or else immediately after the last Lesson at Evening Prayer, as the Curate by his discretion shall appoint. And the Priest coming to the Font, (which is then to be filled with pure water) and standing there, shall say,

If they answer No; Then shall the Priest proceed as followeth.

DEARLY beloved, forasmuch as all men are conceived and born in sin[b]; and that our Saviour Christ[c] saith, None can enter into the kingdom of God, except he be regenerate and born anew of water and of the holy Ghost[d]; I beseech you to call upon God the Father, through our Lord Jesus Christ,[e] that of his bounteous mercy[f] he will grant to this Child that thing[g] which by nature he cannot have[h]; that he may be baptized with water[i] and the holy Ghost,[j] and received into Christ's holy Church,[k] and be made a lively member of the same.[l]

See 274*a*-k.

Then shall the Priest say,

Let us pray.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, who of thy great mercy didst save Noah and his family in the ark from perishing by water[m]; and also didst safely lead the children of Israel thy people through the Red Sea,[n] figuring thereby thy holy Baptism[o]; and by the Baptism of thy well-beloved Son Jesus Christ, in the river Jordan,[p] didst sanctify water to the mystical washing away of sin[q]; We beseech thee,[r] for thine

ALMIGHTY and immortal God, the aid of all that need,[a] the helper of all that flee to thee for succour,[b] the life of them that believe,[c] and the resurrection of the dead[d]; We call upon thee for this Infant,[e] that he, coming to thy holy Baptism, may receive remission of his sins by spiritual regeneration.[f] Receive him,[g] O Lord, as thou hast promised by thy well-beloved Son, saying,[h] Ask, and ye shall have[i]; seek, and ye shall find[j]; knock, and it shall be opened unto you[k]: So give now unto us that ask; let us that seek find; open the gate unto us that knock[l]; that this Infant may enjoy the everlasting benediction of thy heavenly washing,[m] and may come to the eternal kingdom which thou hast promised by Christ our Lord.[n] Amen.

Then shall the people stand up, and the Priest shall say,

Hear the words of the Gospel,[o] written by St. Mark, in the tenth Chapter, at the thirteenth Verse.[p]

THEY brought young children[q] to Christ, that he should touch them[r]; and his disciples rebuked[s] those that brought them. But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased,[t] and said unto them, Suffer[the] little children[u] to come unto me, and forbid them not[v]; for of such is the kingdom of God.[w] Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.[x] And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.[y]

After the Gospel is read, the Minister shall make this brief Exhortation upon the words of the Gospel.

(262.) BELOVED, ye hear in this Gospel the words of our Saviour Christ, that he commanded the children to be brought unto him; how he blamed those that would have kept them from him[a]; how he exhorteth all men to follow their innocency.[b] Ye perceive how by his outward gesture and deed[c] he declared his good will toward them; for he embraced them in his arms, he laid his hands upon them, and blessed them. Doubt ye not therefore, but earnestly believe,[d] that he will likewise favourably receive this present Infant; that he will embrace him with the arms of his mercy[e]; that he will give unto him the blessing of eternal life,[f] and make him partaker of his everlasting kingdom. Wherefore we being thus persuaded of the good will of our heavenly Father towards this Infant,[g] declared by his Son Jesus Christ; and nothing doubting but that he favourably alloweth this charitable work of our's[h] in bringing this Infant to his holy Baptism; let us faithfully and devoutly give thanks unto him, and say,

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God,[k] heavenly Father, we give thee humble thanks, that thou hast vouchsafed to call us[l] to the knowledge of thy grace,[m] and faith in thee[n]: Increase this knowledge,[o] and confirm this faith in us evermore.[p] Give thy holy Spirit to this Infant,[q] that he may be born again,[r] and be made an heir of everlasting salvation[s]; through our Lord Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth[t] with thee and the Holy Spirit, now and for ever. Amen.

Then shall the Priest speak unto the Godfathers and Godmothers on this wise.

(263.) DEARLY beloved, ye have brought this Child here to be baptized,[a] ye have prayed that our Lord Jesus Christ would vouchsafe to receive him, to release him of his sins, to sanctify him with the holy Ghost,[b] to give him the kingdom of heaven, and everlasting life.[c] Ye have heard also that our Lord Jesus Christ hath promised in his Gospel to grant all these things that ye have prayed for[d]: which promise he for his part will most surely keep and perform.[e] Wherefore after this promise made by Christ, this Infant must also faithfully for his part,[f] promise[g] by you that are his sureties, (until he come of age to take it upon himself) that he will renounce[h] the devil and all his works,[i] and constantly believe God's holy word,[j] and obediently keep his commandments.[k]

I demand therefore,

DOST thou, in the name of this Child, renounce the devil and all his works, the vain pomp and glory of the world,[l] with all covetous desires of the same,[m] and the carnal desires of the flesh,[n] so that thou wilt not follow nor be led by them?

Answer. I renounce them all.[o]

And dost thou believe in the holy Ghost[m]; the holy Catholick Church[n]; the Communion of Saints[o]; the remission of sins[p]; the resurrection of the flesh[q]; and everlasting life after death[r]?

Minister.

Then shall he add and say,

YE are to take care that this Child be brought to the Bishop to be confirmed by him,[s] so soon as he can say the Creed, the Lord's Prayer, and the Ten Commandments in the vulgar tongue, and be further instructed in the Church-Catechism set forth for that purpose.

IT is certain by God's word, that Children which are baptized, dying before they commit actual sin, are undoubtedly saved. [See Homily 3. part 1.]

To take away all scruple concerning the use of the sign of the Cross in Baptism; the true explication thereof, and the just reasons for the retaining of it, may be seen in the xxxth Canon, first published in the Year MDCIV.

PRIVATE BAPTISM OF CHILDREN IN HOUSES.

The Curates of every Parish shall often admonish the people, that they defer not the Baptism of their Children longer than the first or second Sunday next after their birth, or other Holy-day falling between, unless upon a great and reasonable cause, to be approved by the Curate.

And also they shall warn them, that without like great cause and necessity they procure not their Children to be baptized at home in their houses. But when need shall compel them so to do, then Baptism shall be administered on this fashion.

First let the Minister of the Parish (or in his absence, any other lawful Minister that can be procured) with them that are present call upon God, and say the Lord's Prayer, and so many of the Collects appointed to be said before in the Form of Publick Baptism, as the time and present exigence will suffer. And then, the Child being named by some one that is present, the Minister shall pour water upon it, saying these words;

(269.) N.[a] I baptize thee In the Name[b] of the Father, and of the Son, and of the holy Ghost. Amen.

a 1 Lu. 59, &c. 2 Lu. 21.

b 14 Je. 9; 1 iCo. 13, 15.

See 280 a-c.

Then, all kneeling down, the Minister shall give thanks unto God, and say,

WE yield thee hearty thanks,[c] most merciful Father, that it hath pleased thee to regenerate this Infant with thy holy Spirit, to receive him for thine own Child by adoption,[d] and to incorporate him into thy holy Church. And we humbly beseech thee to grant, that as he is now made partaker of the death of thy Son, so he may be also of his resurrection; and that finally, with the residue of thy Saints,[e] he may inherit thine everlasting kingdom, through the same thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

e 10 Is. 21, 22; 11 Ro. 5.

See 281 a-f.

And let them not doubt, but that the Child so baptized is lawfully and sufficiently baptized, and ought not to be baptized again. Yet nevertheless, if the Child, which is after this sort baptized, do afterward live, it is expedient that it be brought into the Church, to the intent that, if the Minister of the same Parish did himself baptize that Child, the Congregation may be certified of the true Form of Baptism, by him privately before used: In which case he shall say thus,

I CERTIFY you, that according to the due and prescribed Order of the Church, at such a time, and at such a place, before divers witnesses I baptized this Child.

But if the Child were baptized by any other lawful Minister, then the Minister of the Parish, where the Child was born or christened, shall examine and try whether the Child be lawfully baptized, or no. In which case, if those that bring any Child to the Church do answer, that the same Child is already baptized, then shall the Minister examine them further, saying,

BY whom was this Child baptized?
Who was present when this Child was baptized?

Because some things essential to this Sacrament may happen to be omitted through fear or haste, in such times of extremity; therefore I demand further of you,

With what matter was this Child baptized?

With what words was this Child baptized?

And if the Minister shall find by the answers of such as bring the Child, that all things were done as they ought to be; then shall not he christen the Child again, but shall receive him as one of the flock of true christian people, saying thus,

I CERTIFY you, that in this case all is well done, and according unto due order, concerning the baptizing of this Child; who being born in original sin, and in the wrath of God,[f] is now by the laver of Regeneration in Baptism, received into the number of the children of God, and heirs of everlasting life[g]: for our Lord Jesus Christ doth not deny his grace and mercy unto such Infants,[h] but most lovingly doth call them unto him, as the holy Gospel doth witness to our comfort on this wise.

After the Gospel is read, the Minister shall make this brief Exhortation upon the words of the Gospel.

BELOVED,[n] ye hear in this Gospel the words of our Saviour Christ, that he commanded the children to be brought unto him; how he blamed those that would have kept them from him; how he exhorted all men to follow their innocency. Ye perceive how by his outward gesture and deed he declared his good will toward them; for he embraced them in his arms, he laid his hands upon them, and blessed them. Doubt ye not therefore, but earnestly believe, that he hath likewise favourably received this present Infant; that he hath embraced him with the arms of his mercy; and (as he hath promised in his holy word) will give unto him the blessing of eternal life, and make him partaker of his everlasting kingdom. Wherefore we being thus persuaded of the good will of our heavenly Father, declared by his Son Jesus Christ, towards this Infant, let us faithfully and devoutly give thanks unto him, and say the Prayer which the Lord himself taught us:

OUR Father[a] which art in heaven,[b] Hallowed be thy Name.[c] Thy kingdom come.[d] Thy will be done in earth,[e] As it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread.[f] And forgive us our trespasses,[g] As we forgive them that trespass against us.[h] And lead us not into temptation[i]; But deliver us from evil.[j] Amen.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, heavenly Father, we give thee humble thanks,[k] that thou hast vouchsafed to call us[l] to the knowledge of thy grace,[m] and faith in thee[n]; Increase this knowledge, and confirm this faith in us evermore.[o] Give thy holy Spirit to this Infant,[p] that he, being born again,[q] and being made an heir of everlasting salvation,[r] through our Lord Jesus Christ, may continue thy servant, and attain thy promise[s]; through the same our Lord Jesus Christ thy Son, who liveth and reigneth[t] with thee and the holy Spirit, now and for ever. Amen.

Then shall the Priest demand the Name of the Child; which being by the Godfathers and Godmothers pronounced, the Minister shall say,

DOST thou, in the name of this Child, renounce the devil and all his works, the vain pomp and glory of this world, with all covetous desires of the same, and the carnal desires of the flesh, so that thou wilt not follow, nor be led by them?

Answer. I renounce them all.

Minister.

(271.)

DOST thou believe in God the Father[a] Almighty,[b] Maker of heaven and earth[c]?

And in Jesus Christ[d] his only begotten Son our Lord[e]? And that he was conceived by the holy Ghost; born of the Virgin Mary[f]; that he suffered under Pontius Pilate,[g] was crucified,[h] dead,[i] and buried; that he went down into hell, and also did rise again the third day[j]; that he ascended into heaven,[k] and sitteth at the right hand of God the Father Almighty[l]; and from thence shall come again at the end of the world, to judge the quick and the dead?[m]

And dost thou believe in the holy Ghost[n]; the holy Catholick Church[o]; the Communion of saints[p]; the remission of sins[q]; the resurrection of the flesh[r]; and everlasting life after death[s]?

Answer. All this I stedfastly believe.

Minister.

WILT thou then obediently keep God's holy will

AND ABLE TO ANSWER FOR THEMSELVES.

When any such persons, as are of riper years, are to be baptized, timely notice shall be given to the Bishop, or whom he shall appoint for that purpose, a week before at the least, by the Parents, or some other discreet persons; that so due care may be taken for their Examination, whether they be sufficiently instructed in the Principles of the Christian Religion; and that they may be exhorted to prepare themselves with Prayers and Fasting for the receiving of this holy Sacrament.

And if they shall be found fit, then the Godfathers and Godmothers (the people being assembled upon the Sunday or Holy-day appointed) shall be ready to present them at the Font immediately after the second Lesson, either at Morning or Evening Prayer, as the Curate in his discretion shall think fit.

And standing there, the Priest shall ask, whether any of the persons here presented be baptized, or no: If they shall answer, No; then shall the Priest say thus,

(274.) DEARLY beloved, forasmuch as all men are conceived and born in sin,[a] (and that which is born of the flesh is flesh,[b]) and they that are in the flesh cannot please God,[c] but live in sin, committing many actual transgressions[d]; and that our Saviour Christ saith, None can enter into the kingdom of God, except he be regenerate and born anew of water and of the holy Ghost[e]; I beseech you to call upon God the Father, through our Lord Jesus Christ,[f] that of his bounteous goodness[g] he will grant to these persons

Let us pray.

ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, who of thy great mercy didst save Noah and his family in the ark from perishing by water[l]; and also didst safely lead the children of Israel thy people through the Red Sea,[m] figuring thereby thy holy Baptism; and by the Baptism of thy well-beloved Son Jesus Christ,[n] in the river Jordan, didst sanctify the element of Water to the mystical washing away of sin[o]; We beseech thee, for thine infinite mercies,[p] that thou wilt mercifully look upon these thy servants[q]; wash them and sanctify them with the holy Ghost, that they, being delivered from thy wrath,[r] may be received into the ark of Christ's Church; and being stedfast in faith,[s] joyful through hope,[t] and rooted in charity,[u] may so pass the waves[v] of this troublesome world,[w] that finally[x] they may come to the land of everlasting life,[y] there to reign with thee world without end,[z] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(275.)

ALMIGHTY and immortal God, the aid of all that need,[a] the helper of all that flee to thee[b] for succour,[c] the life of them that believe,[d] and the resurrection of the dead[e]; We call upon thee for these persons,[f] that they coming to thy holy Baptism, may receive remission of their sins by spiritual regeneration.[g] Receive them,[h] O Lord, as thou hast promised by thy well-beloved Son, saying, Ask, and ye shall receive[i]; seek, and ye shall find[j]; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: So give now unto us that ask[k]; let us that seek find; open the gate unto us that knock[l]; that these persons may enjoy the everlasting benediction of thy heavenly washing,[m] and may come to the eternal kingdom which thou hast promised by Christ our Lord.[n] Amen.

BELOVED, ye hear in this Gospel the express words of our Saviour Christ, that except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. Whereby ye may perceive the great necessity of this Sacrament, where it may be had.[a] Likewise, immediately before his ascension into heaven, (as we read in the last Chapter of Saint Mark's Gospel,[b]) he gave command to his disciples, saying, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved[c]; but he that believeth not shall be damned. Which also sheweth unto us the great benefit we reap thereby.[d] For which cause Saint Peter the Apostle, when upon his first preaching of the gospel[e] many were pricked at the heart,[f] and said to him and the rest of the Apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do[g]? replied and said unto them, Repent,[h] and be baptized every one of you for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.[i] For the promise[j] is to you and your children,[k] and to all that are afar off,[l] even as many as the Lord our God shall call.[m] And with many other words exhorted he them, saying, Save yourselves[n] from this untoward generation.[o] For (as the same Apostle testifieth in another place[p]) even Baptism doth also now save us, (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh,[q] but the answer of a good conscience towards God,[r]) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ.[s] Doubt ye not therefore,[t] but earnestly believe, that he will favourably receive these present persons, truly repenting, and coming unto him by faith; that he will grant them remission of their sins, and bestow upon them the holy Ghost; that he will give them the blessing of eternal life, and make them partakers of his everlasting kingdom.

Wherefore we being thus persuaded of the good will of our heavenly Father towards these persons, declared by his Son Jesus Christ; let us faithfully and devoutly give thanks to him, and say, (277.) ALMIGHTY and everlasting God, heavenly Father, we give thee humble thanks, for that thou hast vouchsafed to call us[a] to the knowledge[b] of thy grace, and faith[c] in thee: Increase this knowledge, and confirm this faith in us evermore.[d] Give thy holy Spirit to these persons,[e] that they may be born again, and be made heirs of everlasting salvation[f]; through our Lord Jesus Christ, who liveth[g] and reigneth with thee and the holy Spirit, now and for ever. Amen.

Then the Priest shall speak to the persons to be baptized on this wise.

WELL-BELOVED, who are come hither desiring to receive holy Baptism,[h] ye have heard how the congregation hath prayed that our Lord Jesus Christ would vouchsafe to receive you and bless you, to release you of your sins, to give you the kingdom of heaven, and everlasting life. Ye have heard also, that our Lord Jesus Christ hath promised in his holy word to grant all those things that we have prayed for,[i] which promise he for his part will most surely keep and perform.[j]

Wherefore, after this promise made by Christ, ye must also faithfully, for your part, promise[k] in the presence of these your witnesses, and this whole congregation, that ye will renounce the devil and all his works, and constantly believe God's holy word, and obediently keep his commandments.[l] k 19 Ex. 8; 24 Ex. 3, 7. l 7 Mat. 21.

Then shall the Priest demand of each of the persons to be baptized, severally, these Questions following:

Question.

DOST thou renounce the devil and all his works, the vain pomp and glory of the world, with all covetous desires of the same, and the carnal desires of the flesh, so that thou wilt not follow, nor be led by them?

Answer. I renounce them all.

Question.

a 1 Mat. 1. 27. cf. 2 Is. 19, w. 25 Is. 1, & 8 Ro. 28, 31. b 40 Is. 12, &c. 28; 17 Ac. 24; 3 He. 4.

And in Jesus[c] Christ his only begotten Son our Lord[d]? And that he was conceived by the holy Ghost; born[e] of the Virgin Mary; that he suffered under Pontius Pilate,[f] was crucified[g] dead,[h] and buried; that he went down into hell, and also did rise again the third day[i]; that he ascended into heaven,[j] and sitteth at the right hand of God the Father Almighty[k]; and from thence shall come again at the end of the world, to judge the quick and the dead[l]?

And dost thou believe in the holy Ghost[m]; the holy Catholick[n] Church; the Communion of saints[o]; the remission of sins[p]; the resurrection of the flesh[q]; and everlasting life after death[r]?

Answer. All this I stedfastly believe.[s]

Question.

WILT thou be baptized in this faith?

Answer. That is my desire.

Question.

WILT thou then obediently keep God's holy will and commandments, and walk in the same all the days of thy life[t]?

Ans. I will endeavour so to do, God being my helper.

(279.)

Then shall the Priest say,

OMERCIFUL God, grant that the old Adam in these persons may be so buried, that the new man may be raised up in them.[a] Amen.

Grant that all carnal affections may die in them, and that all things belonging to the Spirit may live and grow in them.[b] Amen.

Grant that they may have power and strength[c] to have victory, and to triumph,[d] against the devil,[e] the world, and the flesh.[f] Amen.

Grant[g] that they being here dedicated to thee by our office and ministry,[h] may also be endued with heavenly virtues,[i] and everlastingly rewarded,[j] through thy mercy,[k] O blessed Lord God, who dost live, and govern all things,[l] world without end. Amen.

Then shall the Priest take each person to be baptized by the right hand, and placing him conveniently by the Font, according to his discretion, shall ask the Godfathers and Godmothers the Name; and then shall dip him in the water, or pour water upon him, saying,

* Here the Priest shall make a Cross upon the person's forehead.

Then shall the Priest say,

SEEING now, dearly beloved brethren, that these persons are regenerate, and grafted[l] into the body of Christ's Church, let us give thanks unto Almighty God for these benefits,[m] and with one accord make our prayers unto him, that they may lead the rest of their life according to this beginning.[n]

Then shall be said the Lord's Prayer, all kneeling.

OUR Father[o] which art in heaven,[p] Hallowed be thy Name.[q] Thy kingdom come.[r] Thy will be done in earth,[s] As it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread.[t] And forgive us our trespasses,[u] As we forgive them that trespass against us.[v] And lead us not into temptation[w]; But deliver us from evil. Amen.[x]

(281.) WE yield thee humble thanks,[a] O heavenly Father, that thou hast vouchsafed to call us[b] to the knowledge of thy grace, and faith in thee[c]; Increase this knowledge, and confirm this faith[d] in us evermore. Give thy holy Spirit to these persons[e]; that being now born again, and made heirs of everlasting salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, they may continue thy servants, and attain thy promises; through the same Lord Jesus Christ thy Son, who liveth and reigneth with thee in the unity of the same Holy Spirit everlastingly.[f] Amen.

Then, all standing up, the Priest shall use this Exhortation following; speaking to the Godfathers and Godmothers first.

FORASMUCH as these persons have promised in your presence to renounce the devil and all his works, to believe in God, and to serve him; ye must remember that it is your part and duty to put them in mind, what a solemn vow, promise, and g 50 Ps. 14. profession[g] they have now made before this congregation, and especially before you their chosen witnesses. And ye are also to call upon them to use all diligence to be rightly instructed in God's holy word[h]; that so they may grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ, and live godly, righteously, and soberly in this present world.[i] i See Homily 3, part 3.

(And then, speaking to the new baptized persons, he shall proceed, and say,)

AND as for you, who have now by Baptism put on Christ, it is your part and duty also, being made the children of God[j] and of the light, by faith in Jesus Christ, to walk answerably to your Christian calling, and as becometh the children of light[k]; remembering always that Baptism representeth unto us our profession; which is, to follow the example of our Saviour Christ,[l] and to be made like unto him[m]; that as he died, and rose again for us; so should we, who are baptized, die from sin,[n] and rise again unto righteousness: continually mortifying all our evil and corrupt affections, and daily proceeding in all virtue and godliness of living.

It is expedient that every person thus baptized should be confirmed by the Bishop so soon after his Baptism as conveniently may be; that so he may be admitted to the holy Communion.

Question. Which be they?

Answer.

THE same which God spake in the twentieth Chapter of Exodus,[b] saying, I am the Lord thy God,[c] who brought thee out of the land of Egypt,[d] out of the house of bondage.[e]

I. Thou shalt have none other gods but me.[f]

II. Thou shalt not make to thyself any graven image,[g] nor the likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or in the earth beneath, or in the water under the earth.[h] Thou shalt not bow down to them,[i] nor worship them.[j] For I the Lord thy God am a jealous God,[k] and visit the sins of the fathers upon the children, unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me,[l] and shew mercy unto thousands in them that love me, and keep my commandments.[m]

III. Thou shalt not take the Name of the Lord thy God in vain[n]: for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his Name in vain.[o]

IV. Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath-day.[p] Six days shalt thou labour, and do all that thou hast to do[q]; but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God.[r] In it thou shalt do no manner of work,[s] thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, thy manservant, and thy maid-servant, thy cattle, and the stranger that is within thy gates.[t] For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is,[u] and rested the seventh day; wherefore the Lord blessed the seventh day, and hallowed it.[v]

V. Honour thy father and thy mother,[a] that thy days may be long in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.[b]

VI. Thou shalt do no murder.[c]

VII. Thou shalt not commit adultery.[d]

VIII. Thou shalt not steal.[e]

IX. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour.[f]

X. Thou shalt not covet[g] thy neighbour's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife, nor his servant, nor his maid, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is his.[h]

Question. What dost thou chiefly learn by these Commandments?

Answer. I learn two things: my duty towards God, and my duty towards my neighbour.[i]

Question. What is thy duty towards God?

Answer. My duty towards God, is to believe in him,[j] to fear him,[k] and to love him[l] with all my heart, with all my mind, with all my soul, and with all my strength[m]; to worship him,[n] to give him thanks,[o] to put my whole trust in him,[p] to call upon him,[q] to honour his holy name[r] and his word,[s] and to serve him truly all the days of my life.[t]

Quest. What is thy duty towards thy neighbour?

Answer. My duty towards my neighbour, is to love him as myself,[a] and to do to all men, as I would they should do unto me.[b] To love, honour and succour my father and mother[c]: To honour and obey the Queen, and all that are put in authority under her[d]: To submit myself to all my governours,[e] teachers, spiritual pastors[f] and masters[g]; To order myself lowly and reverently to all my betters[h]: To hurt no body by word nor deed[i]: To be true and just in all my dealing[j]: To bear no malice nor hatred in my heart[k]: To keep my hands from picking and stealing,[l] and my tongue from evil-speaking, lying and slandering[m]: To keep my body in temperance, soberness,[n] and chastity[o]: Not to covet nor desire other men's goods[p]; but to learn and labour truly to get mine own living,[q] and to do my duty in that state of life, unto which it shall please God to call me.[r]

Catechist. My good Child, know this, that thou art not able to do these things of thyself, nor to walk in the commandments of God, and to serve him without his special grace[s]; which thou must learn at all times[t] to call for by diligent[u] prayer.[v] Let me hear therefore, if thou canst say the Lord's Prayer.

Answer.

OUR Father[a] which art in heaven,[b] Hallowed be thy Name.[c] Thy kingdom come.[d] Thy will be done[e] in earth, As it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread.[f] And forgive us our trespasses,[g] As we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation[h]: But deliver us from evil.[i] Amen.

Question. What desirest thou of God in this prayer?

Answer. I desire my Lord God our heavenly Father,[j] who is the giver of all goodness,[k] to send his grace unto me, and to all people,[l] that we may worship him, serve him, and obey him as we ought to do.[m] And I pray unto God, that he will send us all things that be needful both for our souls[n] and bodies[o]; and that he will be merciful unto us, and forgive us our sins[p]; and that it will please him to save and defend us in all dangers ghostly and bodily[q]; and that he will

The Curate of every Parish shall diligently upon Sundays and Holy-days, after the second Lesson at Evening Prayer openly in the Church instruct and examine so many Children of his Parish sent unto him, as he shall think convenient, in some part of this Catechism.

And all Fathers, Mothers, Masters and Dames, shall cause their Children, Servants, and Apprentices, (which have not learned their Catechism,) to come to the Church at the time appointed, and obediently to hear, and be ordered by the Curate, until such time as they have learned all that is here appointed for them to learn.

So soon as Children are come to a competent age, and can say, in their Mother Tongue, the Creed, the Lord's Prayer, and the Ten Commandments; and also can answer to the other Questions of this short Catechism; they shall be brought to the Bishop. And every one shall have a Godfather, or a Godmother, as a Witness of their Confirmation.

And whensoever the Bishop shall give knowledge for Children to be brought unto him for their Confirmation, the Curate of every Parish shall either bring, or send in writing, with his hand subscribed thereunto, the names of all such persons within his Parish, as he shall think fit to be presented to the Bishop to be confirmed. And, if the Bishop approve of them, he shall confirm them in manner following.

THE ORDER OF

CONFIRMATION,

OR LAYING ON OF HANDS UPON THOSE THAT ARE BAPTIZED AND COME TO YEARS OF DISCRETION.

Upon the day appointed, all that are to be then confirmed, being placed, and standing in order, before the Bishop; he (or some other Minister appointed by him) shall read this Preface following.

(289.) TO the end that Confirmation may be ministered to the more edifying[a] of such as shall receive it, a 1 Cor. 14. 26.

the Church hath thought good to order, That none hereafter shall be Confirmed, but such as can say the Creed, the Lord's Prayer, and the Ten Commandments; and can also answer to such other Questions, as in the short Catechism are contained: which order is very convenient to be observed; to the end, that children, being now come to the years of discretion,[b] and having learned what their Godfathers and Godmothers promised for them in Baptism, they may themselves, with their own mouth and consent, openly before the Church, ratify and confirm the same; and also promise, that by the grace of God they will evermore endeavour themselves faithfully to observe such things as they by their own confession have assented unto.

b cf 13 iCo. 11.

Then shall the Bishop say,

DO ye here, in the presence of God,[c] and of this congregation,[d] renew the solemn promise and vow that was made in your name at your Baptism[e]; ratifying and confirming the same in your own persons, and acknowledging yourselves bound to believe and to do all those things, which your Godfathers and Godmothers then undertook for you[f]?

SOLEMNIZATION OF MATRIMONY.

First the Banns of all that are to be married together. must be published in the Church three several Sundays, during the time of Morning Service, or of Evening Service, (if there be no Morning Service,) immediately after the second Lesson; the Curate saying after the accustomed manner, (291.) I PUBLISH the Banns of Marriage between M. of —— and N. of ——. If any of you know cause, or just impediment, why these two persons should not be joined together in holy Matrimony, ye are to declare it. This is the first [second, or third] time of asking.

And if the persons that are to be married dwell in divers Parishes, the Banns must be asked in both Parishes; and the Curate of the one Parish shall not solemnize Matrimony betwixt them, without a Certificate of the Banns being thrice asked, from the Curate of the other Parish.

At the day and time appointed for solemnization of Matrimony, the persons to be married shall come into the body of the Church with their friends and neighbours: and there standing together, the Man on the right hand, and the Woman on the left, the Priest shall say,

DEARLY beloved, we are gathered together here in the sight of God, and in the face of this congregation,[a] to join together this Man and this Woman in holy Matrimony; which is an honourable estate,[b] instituted of God in the time of man's innocency,[c] signifying unto us the mystical union that is betwixt Christ and his Church[d]; which holy estate Christ adorned and beautified with his presence, and first miracle that he wrought, in Cana of Galilee[e]; and is commended of Saint Paul to be honourable among all men[f]: and therefore is not by any to be enterprised, nor taken in hand, unadvisedly, lightly, or wantonly, to satisfy men's carnal lusts and appetites,[g] like brute beasts that have no understanding[h]; but reverently, discreetly, advisedly, soberly, and in the fear of God[i]; duly considering the causes for which Matrimony was ordained.

First, It was ordained for the procreation of children,[j] to be brought up in the fear and nurture of the Lord, and to the praise of his holy Name.[k]

Secondly, It was ordained for a remedy against sin, and to avoid fornication[l]; that such persons as have not the gift of continency might marry, and keep themselves undefiled members of Christ's body.[m]

Thirdly, It was ordained for the mutual society, help, and comfort, that the one ought to have of the other, both in prosperity and adversity.[n] Into which holy estate these two persons present come now to be joined.

And also, speaking unto the persons that shall be married, he shall say,

I REQUIRE and charge you both, (as ye will answer at the dreadful day of judgement when the secrets of all hearts shall be disclosed[o]) that if either of you know any impediment, why ye may not be lawfully joined together in Matrimony, ye do now confess it. If no impediment be alledged, then shall the Curate say unto the Man, (292.) M. WILT thou have this Woman to thy wedded wife, to live together after God's ordinance in the holy estate of Matrimony? Wilt thou love her, comfort her, honour, and keep her in sickness and in health; and forsaking all other, keep thee only unto her, so long as ye both shall live[a]?

(296.) ALL ye that are married, or that intend to take the holy estate of Matrimony upon you, hear what the holy Scripture doth say as touching the duty of husbands towards their wives, and wives towards their husbands.[a] a See Hom. Of the State of Matrimony.

Saint Paul, in his Epistle to the Ephesians, the fifth Chapter, doth give this commandment to all married men; Husbands, love your wives,[b] even as Christ also loved the Church, and gave himself for it,[c] that he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water, by the word[d]; that he might present it to himself[e] a glorious Church[f], not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing[g]; but that it should be holy, and without blemish.[h] So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself: for no man ever yet hated his own flesh, but nourisheth and cherisheth it,[i] even as the Lord the Church[j]: for we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.[k] For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife; and they two shall be one flesh.[l] This is a great mystery[m]; but I speak concerning Christ and the Church.[n] Nevertheless, let every one of you in particular so love his wife, even as himself.[o]

Hear also what Saint Peter, the Apostle of Christ, who was himself a married man,[s] saith unto them that are married[t]; Ye husbands, dwell with your wives according to knowledge[u]; giving honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker vessel,[v] and as being heirs together of the grace of life,[w] that your prayers be not hindered.[x]

Hitherto ye have heard the duty of the husband toward the wife. Now likewise, ye wives, hear and learn your duties toward your husbands, even as it is plainly set forth in holy Scripture.

(297.)

Saint Paul, in the aforenamed Epistle to the Ephesians,[a] teacheth you thus; Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands,[b] as unto the Lord.[c] For the husband is the head of the wife,[d] even as Christ is the head of the Church[e]: and he is the Saviour of the body.[f] Therefore as the Church is subject unto Christ,[g] so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing.[h] And again he saith, Let the wife see that she reverence her husband.[i]

And in his Epistle to the Colossians,[j] Saint Paul giveth you this short lesson; Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as it is fit in the Lord.[k]

Saint Peter also doth instruct you very well, thus saying[l]; Ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands[m]; that, if any obey not the word,[n] they also may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives[o]; while they behold your chaste conversation[p] coupled with fear.[q] Whose adorning, let it not be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel[r]; but let it be the hidden man of the heart,[s] in that which is not corruptible[t]; even the ornament of a meek[u] and quiet[v] spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.[w] For after this manner in the old time the holy women also, who trusted in God,[x] adorned themselves,[y] being in subjection unto their own husbands; even as Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him lord[z]; whose daughters ye are as long as ye do well, and are not afraid with any amazement.[aa]

It is convenient that the new-married persons should receive the holy Communion at the time of their Marriage, or at the first opportunity after their Marriage.

THE VISITATION OF THE SICK.

When any person is sick, notice shall be given thereof to the Minister of the Parish [5 Ja. f. 14.]; who, coming into the sick person's house, shall say,

(298.) PEACE be to this house, and to all that dwell in it.[a]

[a] 25 i Sa. 6; 10 Lu. 5; iii Jo. 14.

When he cometh into the sick man's presence he shall say, kneeling down,

REMEMBER not, Lord, our iniquities,[b] nor the iniquities of our forefathers[c]: Spare us, good Lord, spare thy people,[d] whom thou hast redeemed with thy most precious blood,[e] and be not angry with us for ever.[f]

Answer. Spare us, good Lord.[g]

Then the Minister shall say,

Let us pray.[h]

Lord, have mercy upon us.[i]

Christ, have mercy upon us.[j]

Lord, have mercy upon us.[k]

(300.) DEARLY beloved, know this, that Almighty God is the Lord of life and death,[a] and of all things to them pertaining, as youth, strength, health,[b] age, weakness, and sickness.[c] Wherefore, whatsoever your sickness is, know you certainly, that it is God's visitation.[d] And for what cause soever this sickness is sent unto you[e]; whether it be to try your patience for the example of others,[f] and that your faith may be found in the day of the Lord laudable, glorious,[g] and honourable,[g] to the increase of glory and endless felicity[h]; or else it be sent unto you to correct and amend in you whatsoever doth offend the eyes of your heavenly Father[i]; know you certainly, that if you truly repent you of your sins, and bear your sickness patiently,[j] trusting in God's mercy, for his dear Son Jesus Christ's sake,[k] and render unto him humble thanks for his fatherly visitation,[l] submitting yourself wholly unto his will,[m] it shall turn to your profit,[n] and help you forward in the right way[o] that leadeth unto everlasting life.[p]

If the person visited be very sick, then the Curate may end his exhortation in this place, or else proceed.

(301.) TAKE therefore in good part the chastisement of the Lord[a]: For (as Saint Paul saith in the twelfth Chapter to the Hebrews[b]) whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.[c] If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons[d]; for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not[e]? But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers,[f] then are ye bastards, and not sons.[g] Furthermore, we have had fathers of our flesh,[h] which corrected us, and we gave them reverence[i]: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits,[j] and live[k]? For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure[l]; but he for our profit,[l] that we might be partakers of his holiness.[m] These words, good brother,[n] are written in holy Scripture for our comfort[o] and instruction[p]; that we should patiently,[q] and with thanksgiving,[r] bear our heavenly Father's correction,[s] whensoever by any manner of adversity it shall please his gracious goodness to visit us.[t] And there should be no greater comfort to Christian persons, than to be made like unto Christ, by suffering patiently adversities, troubles, and sicknesses.[u] For he himself went not up to joy, but first he suffered pain[v]; he entered not into his glory before he was crucified.[w] So truly our way to eternal joy is to suffer here with Christ[x]; and our door to enter into eternal life is gladly to die with Christ[y]; that we may rise again from death, and dwell with him in everlasting life.[z] Now therefore taking your sickness, which is thus profitable for you, patiently,[a] I exhort you, in the Name of God,[b] to remember the profession which you made unto God in your Baptism.[c] And forasmuch as after this life there is an account to be given[d] unto the righteous Judge,[e] by whom all must be judged[f] without respect of persons,[g] I require you[h] to examine yourself and your estate,[i] both toward God[j] and man[k]; so that accusing and condemning yourself for your own faults, you may find mercy at our heavenly Father's hand for Christ's sake,[l] and not be accused and condemned in that fearful judgement.[m] Therefore I shall rehearse to you the Articles of our Faith, that you may know whether you do believe as a Christian man should, or no.[n]

Here the Minister shall rehearse the Articles of the Faith, saying thus,

(303.)

DOST thou believe[a] in God the Father Almighty,[b] Maker of heaven and earth[c]?

And in Jesus Christ his only-begotten Son our Lord[d]? And that he was conceived by the holy Ghost, born[e] of the Virgin Mary; that he suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified,[f] dead,[g] and buried; that he went down into hell, and also did rise again[h] the third day; that he ascended into heaven,[i] and sitteth at the right hand of God the Father Almighty[j]; and from thence shall come again[k] at the end of the world, to judge the quick and the dead[l]?

And dost thou believe in the holy Ghost[m]; the holy Catholick Church[n]; the Communion of saints[o]; the remission of sins[p]; the resurrection of the flesh[q] and everlasting life after death[r]?

The sick person shall answer,

All this I stedfastly believe.[s]

Then shall the Minister examine whether he repent him truly of his sins, and be in charity with all the world; exhorting him to forgive, from the bottom of his heart, all persons that have offended him; and if he hath offended any other, to ask them forgiveness; and where he hath done injury or wrong to any man, that he make amends to the uttermost of his power. And if he hath not before disposed of his goods, let him then be admonished to make his Will, and to declare his Debts, what he oweth, and what is owing unto him; for the better discharging of his conscience, and the quietness of his Executors. [cf 38 Is. 1.] But men should often be put in remembrance to take order for the settling of their temporal estates, whilst they are in health.

These words before rehearsed may be said before the Minister begin his Prayer, as he shall see cause.

The Minister should not omit earnestly to move such sick persons as are of ability to be liberal to the poor.

Here shall the sick person be moved to make a special confession of his sins, if he feel his conscience troubled with any weighty matter. After which confession, the Priest shall absolve him (if he humbly and heartily desire it) after this sort.

OUR Lord Jesus Christ, who hath left power to his Church to absolve[t] all sinners who truly repent and believe in him,[u] of his great mercy forgive thee thine offences[v]: And by his authority committed to me, I absolve thee from all thy sins,[w] In the Name of the Father,[x] and of the Son,[y] and of the holy Ghost.[z] Amen.

Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the ungodly : out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.[h]

For thou, O Lord God, art the thing that I long for[i] : thou art my hope, even from my youth.[j]

Through thee have I been holden up ever since I was born : thou art he that took me out of my mother's womb[k]; my praise shall alway be of thee.[l]

(306.)

My mouth shall daily speak of thy righteousness and salvation[a] : for I know no end thereof.[b]

I will go forth in the strength of the Lord God[c] : and will make mention of thy righteousness only.[d]

Thou, O God, hast taught me from my youth up until now[e] therefore will I tell of thy wondrous works.[f]

Forsake me not, O God, in mine old age, when I am gray-headed[g] : until I have shewed thy strength unto this generation, and thy power to all them that are yet for to come.[h]

Thy righteousness, O God, is very high,[i] and great things are they that thou hast done[j] : O God, who is like unto thee[k] ?

Glory[l] be to the Father, &c.

Then shall the Minister say,

THE Almighty Lord, who is a most strong tower[p] to all them that put their trust in him,[q] to whom all things in heaven, in earth, and under the earth, do bow and obey,[r] be now and evermore thy defence[s]; and make thee know and feel,[t] that there is none other name under heaven given to man,[u] in whom, and through whom, thou mayest receive health and salvation,[v] but only the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.[w] Amen.

And after that shall say,

(307.) UNTO God's gracious mercy and protection we commit thee.[a] The Lord bless thee,[b] and keep thee.[c] The Lord make his face to shine upon thee,[d] and be gracious unto thee.[e] The Lord lift up his countenance upon thee,[f] and give thee peace,[g] both now and evermore.[h] Amen.

A Prayer for a sick Child.

O ALMIGHTY God and merciful Father, to whom alone belong the issues of life and death[i]; Look down from heaven, we humbly beseech thee, with the eyes of mercy upon this child now lying upon the bed of sickness[j]: Visit him, O Lord, with thy salvation[k]; deliver him in thy good appointed time[l] from his bodily pain, and save his soul for thy mercies' sake[m]: That, if it shall be thy pleasure[n] to prolong his days here on earth,[o] he may live to thee,[p] and be an instrument of thy glory,[q] by serving thee faithfully, and doing good in his generation[r]; or else receive him into those heavenly habitations,[s] where the souls of them that sleep in the Lord Jesus enjoy perpetual rest and felicity.[t] Grant this, O Lord, for thy mercies' sake, in the same thy Son our Lord Jesus Christ,[u] who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end.[v] Amen.

A Prayer for a sick person, when there appeareth small hope of recovery.

(308.) O FATHER of mercies, and God of all comfort,[a] our only help in time of need[b]; We fly unto thee for succour in behalf of this thy servant,[c] here lying under thy hand in great weakness of body.[d] Look graciously upon him, O Lord; and the more the outward man decayeth[e], strengthen him,[f] we beseech thee, so much the more continually with thy grace and holy Spirit in the inner man.[g] Give him unfeigned repentance for all the errors of his life past,[h] and stedfast faith in thy Son Jesus[i]; that his sins may be done away by thy mercy,[j] and his pardon sealed in heaven,[k] before he go hence, and be no more seen.[l] We know, O Lord, that there is no word impossible with thee[m]; and that, if thou wilt,[n] thou canst even yet raise him up, and grant him a longer continuance amongst us[o]: Yet, forasmuch as in all appearance the time of his dissolution draweth near,[p] so fit and prepare him, we beseech thee, against the hour of death,[q] that after his departure hence in peace,[r] and in thy favour,[s] his soul may be received into thine everlasting kingdom,[t] through the merits and mediation of Jesus Christ, thine only Son, our Lord and Saviour.[u] Amen.

A commendatory Prayer for a sick person at the point of departure.

(309.) O ALMIGHTY God, with whom do live the spirits of just men made perfect,[a] after they are delivered from their earthly prisons[b]; We humbly commend the soul of this thy servant,[c] our dear brother, into thy hands,[d] as into the hands of a faithful Creator,[e] and most merciful Saviour[f]; most humbly beseeching thee that it may be precious in thy sight.[g] Wash it,[h] we pray thee, in the blood of that immaculate[i] Lamb[j] that was slain to take away the sins of the world[k]; that whatsoever defilements it may have contracted in the midst of this miserable[l] and naughty world,[m] through the lusts of the flesh,[n] or the wiles of Satan,[o] being purged and done away,[p] it may be presented pure and without spot[q] before thee.[r] And teach us who survive,[s] in this and other like daily spectacles of mortality,[t] to see how frail and uncertain our own condition is[u]; and so to number our days,[v] that we may seriously apply our hearts[w] to that holy and heavenly wisdom,[x] whilst we live here,[y] which may in the end bring us to life everlasting,[z] through the merits of Jesus Christ thine only Son our Lord. Amen.

THE COMMUNION OF THE SICK.

Forasmuch as all mortal men be subject to many sudden perils, diseases, and sicknesses, and ever uncertain what time they shall depart out of this life; therefore, to the intent they may be always in a readiness to die, whensoever it shall please Almighty God to call them, the Curates shall diligently from time to time (but especially in the time of pestilence, or other infectious sickness) exhort their Parishioners to the often receiving of the holy Communion of the Body and Blood of our Saviour Christ, when it shall be publickly administered in the Church; that so doing, they may, in case of sudden visitation, have the less cause to be disquieted for lack of the same. But if the sick person be not able to come to the Church, and yet is desirous to receive the Communion in his house; then he must give timely notice to the Curate, signifying also how many there are to communicate with him, (which shall be three, or two at the least,) and having a convenient place in the sick man's house, with all things necessary so prepared, that the Curate may reverently minister, he shall there celebrate the holy Communion, beginning with the Collect, Epistle, and Gospel, here following.

ALMIGHTY, everliving God, Maker of mankind,[a] who dost correct those whom thou dost love, and chastise every one whom thou dost receive[b]; We beseech thee to have mercy upon this thy servant[c] visited with thine hand,[d] and to grant that he may take his sickness patiently,[e] and recover his bodily health,[f] (if it be thy gracious will[g];) and whensoever his soul shall depart from the body,[h] it may be without spot presented unto thee[i]; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

After which the Priest shall proceed according to the form before prescribed for the holy Communion, beginning at these words Ye that do truly &c.

At the time of the distribution of the holy Sacrament, the Priest shall first receive the Communion himself, and after minister unto them that are appointed to communicate with the sick, and last of all to the sick person.

But if a man, either by reason of extremity of sickness, or for want of warning in due time to the Curate, or for lack of company to receive with him, or by any other just impediment, do not receive the Sacrament of Christ's Body and Blood, the Curate shall instruct him, that if he do truly repent him of his sins, and stedfastly believe that Jesus Christ hath suffered death upon the Cross for him, and shed his Blood for his redemption, earnestly remembering the benefits he hath thereby, and giving him hearty thanks therefore, he doth eat and drink the Body and Blood of our Saviour Christ profitably to his Soul's health [6 Joh. 51, &c.], although he do not receive the Sacrament with his mouth.

When the sick person is visited, and receiveth the holy Communion all at one time, then the Priest, for more expedition, shall cut off the form of the Visitation at the Psalm In thee, O Lord, have I put my trust, &c. and go straight to the Communion.

In the time of the Plague, Sweat, or such other like contagious times of sickness or diseases, when none of the Parish or neighbours can be gotten to communicate with the sick in their houses, for fear of the infection, upon special request of the diseased, the Minister may only communicate with him.

THE ORDER FOR THE BURIAL OF THE DEAD.

Here is to be noted, that the Office ensuing is not to be used for any that die unbaptized, or excommunicate, or have laid violent hands upon themselves.

The Priest and Clerks meeting the Corpse at the entrance of the Church-yard, and going before it, either into the Church, or towards the Grave, shall say, or sing, (312.) I AM the resurrection[e] and the life,[b] saith the Lord: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live[c]: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die.[d] St. John xi. 25, 26.

I SAID, I will take heed to my ways[a] : that I offend not in my tongue.

I will keep my mouth as it were with a bridle[b] : while the ungodly is in my sight.[c]

I held my tongue, and spake nothing[d] : I kept silence, yea, even from good words[e]; but it was pain and grief to me.[f]

My heart was hot within me, and while I was thus musing, the fire kindled[g] : and at the last I spake with my tongue.[h]

Lord, let me know mine end, and the number of my days : that I may be certified how long I have to live.[i]

Behold, thou hast made my days as it were a span long[j] : and mine age is even as nothing in respect of thee[k]; and verily every man living is altogether vanity.[l]

For man walketh in a vain shadow, and disquieteth himself in vain[m] : he heapeth up riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.[n]

And now, Lord, what is my hope[o] : truly my hope is even in thee.[p]

Deliver me from all mine offences[q] : and make me not a rebuke unto the foolish.[r]

I became dumb, and opened not my mouth : for it was thy doing.[s]

Take thy plague away from me[t] : I am even consumed by means of thy heavy hand.[u]

When thou with rebukes dost chasten man for sin,[v] thou makest his beauty to consume away, like as it were a moth fretting a garment[w] : every man therefore is but vanity.[x]

Hear my prayer, O Lord, and with thine ears consider my calling[y] : hold not thy peace at my tears.[z]

For I am a stranger with thee : and a sojourner, as all my fathers were.[aa]

O spare me a little, that I may recover my strength : before I go hence, and be no more seen.[bb]

LORD, thou hast been our refuge[a] : from one generation to another.[b]

Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever the earth and the world were made[c] : thou art God from everlasting, and world without end.[d]

Thou turnest man to destruction : again thou sayest, Come again, ye children of men.[e]

For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday : seeing that is past as a watch in the night.[f]

As soon as thou scatterest them,[g] they are even as a sleep : and fade away suddenly like the grass.[h]

In the morning it is green, and groweth up : but in the evening it is cut down, dried up, and withered.[i]

For we consume away in thy displeasure[j] : and are afraid at thy wrathful indignation.[k]

Thou hast set our misdeeds before thee : and our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.[l]

For when thou art angry all our days are gone : we bring our years to an end, as it were a tale that is told.[m]

The days of our age are threescore years and ten; and though men be so strong, that they come to four-score years[n] : yet is their strength then but labour and sorrow[o]; so soon passeth it away, and we are gone.[p]

But who regardeth the power of thy wrath[q] : for even thereafter as a man feareth, so is thy displeasure.[r]

O teach us to number our days[s] : that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.[t]

Turn thee again, O Lord, at the last[u] : and be gracious unto thy servants.[v]

O satisfy us with thy mercy, and that soon[w] : so shall we rejoice and be glad all the days of our life.[x]

Comfort us again now after the time that thou hast plagued us : and for the years wherein we have suffered adversity.[y]

Shew thy servants thy work : and their children thy glory.[z]

And the glorious majesty of the Lord our God be upon us[aa] : prosper thou the work of our hands upon us, O prosper thou our handy-work.[bb]

Glory be to the Father, &c.

As it was in the beginning, &c.

man came death,[d] by man came also the resurrection of the dead.[e] For as in Adam all die,[f] even so in Christ shall all be made alive.[g] But every man[1] in his own order: Christ the first-fruits[h]; afterward they that are Christ's,[i] at his coming.[j] Then cometh the end,[k] when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father[l]; when he shall have put down[2] all rule, and all authority and power.[m] For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.[n] The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.[o] For he hath put all things under his feet.[p] But when he saith all things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.[q] And when all things shall be subdued unto him,[r] then shall the Son also himself be subject[s] unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.[t] Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? Why are they then baptized for the dead[u]? and why stand we in jeopardy every hour[v]? I protest[w] by your[3] rejoicing, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord,[x] I die daily.[y] If after[4] the manner of men[z] I have fought with beasts at Ephesus,[a] what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not[b]? Let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we die.[c] Be not deceived[d]: evil communications corrupt good manners.[e] Awake to righteousness,[f] and sin not[g]; for some have not the knowledge of God.[h] I speak this to your shame.[i] But some man will say, How are the dead raised up[j]? and with what body do they come[k]? Thou fool,[l] that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die.[m] And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain: But God giveth it a body, as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.[n] All flesh is not the same flesh; but there is one kind of flesh of men,[o] another flesh of beasts,[p] another of fishes,[q] and another of birds.[r] There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial; but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another. There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for one star differeth from another star in glory.[s] So also is the resurrection of the dead[t]: It is sown in corruption[u]; it is raised in incorruption[v]: It is sown in dishonour[w]; it is raised in glory[x]: It is sown in weakness[y]; it is raised in power[z]: It is sown a natural body[a]; it is raised a spiritual body.[b] There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.[c] And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul[d]; the last Adam[e] was made a quickening Spirit.[f] Howbeit, that was not first which is spiritual: but that which is natural, and afterward that which is spiritual.[g] The first man is of the earth, earthy[h]: the second man is the Lord from heaven.[i] As is the earthy, such are they [also] that are earthy[j]: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.[k] And as we have borne the image of the earthy,[l] we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.[m] Now this I say,[n] brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.[o] Behold, I shew you a mystery[p]: We shall not all sleep,[q] but we shall all be changed,[r] in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye,[s] at the last trump, (for the trumpet shall sound,[t] and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.[u]) For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.[v] So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written,[w] Death is swallowed up in victory.[x] O death, where is thy sting[y]? O grave,[z] where is thy victory[aa]? The sting of death is sin,[aa] and the strength of sin is the law.[bb] But thanks be to God,[cc] which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.[dd] Therefore, my beloved brethren,[ee] be ye stedfast, unmoveable,[ff] always abounding in the work of the Lord,[gg] forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain[hh] in the Lord.[ii]

When they come to the Grave, while the Corpse is made ready to be laid into the earth, the Priest shall say, or the Priest and Clerks shall sing:

(318.) MAN that is born of a woman hath but a short time to live,[a] and is full of misery.[b] He cometh up, and is cut down like a flower[c]; he fleeth as it were a shadow,[d] and never continueth in one stay.[e]

In the midst of life we are in death[f]; of whom may we seek for succonr, but of thee, O Lord,[g] who for our sins art justly displeased[h]?

Yet, O Lord God most holy,[i] O Lord most mighty, O holy and most merciful Saviour,[j] deliver us not into the bitter pains of eternal death.[k]

Thou knowest, Lord, the secrets of our hearts[l]; shut not thy merciful ears to our prayer[m]; but spare us, Lord most holy,[n] O God most mighty,[o] O holy and

Then, while the earth shall be cast upon the Body by some standing by, the Priest shall say,

THE

THANKSGIVING OF WOMEN AFTER CHILD-BIRTH,

COMMONLY CALLED,

THE CHURCHING OF WOMEN.

The Woman, at the usual time after her Delivery, shall come into the Church decently apparelled, and there shall kneel down in some convenient place, as hath been accustomed, or as the Ordinary shall direct: And then the Priest shall say unto her,

(322.) FORASMUCH as it hath pleased Almighty God of his goodness to give you safe deliverance,[a] and hath preserved you in the great danger of childbirth[b]; you shall therefore give hearty thanks unto God, and say,[c]

(Then shall the Priest say the CXVIth Psalm [vv. 1-13, and 16.])

Dilexi quoniam.

I AM well pleased[d] : that the Lord hath heard the voice of my prayer[e] :

That he hath inclined his ear unto me[f] : therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.[g]

The snares of death compassed me round about : and the pains of hell gat hold upon me.[h]

I found trouble and heaviness, and I called upon the name of the Lord[i] : O Lord, I beseech thee, deliver my soul.[j]

Gracious is the Lord, and righteous : yea, our God is merciful.[k]

The Lord preserveth the simple[l] : I was in misery, and he helped me.[m]

Turn again then unto thy rest,[n] O my soul : for the Lord hath rewarded thee.[o]

And why? thou hast delivered my soul from death[p] : mine eyes from tears,[q] and my feet from falling.[r]

I will walk before the Lord[s] : in the land of the living.[t]

I believed, and therefore will I speak[u]; but I was sore troubled : I said in my haste, All men are liars.[v]

What reward shall I give unto the Lord : for all the benefits that he hath done unto me[w]?

I will receive the cup of salvation[x] : and call upon the name of the Lord.[y]

I will pay my vows now in the presence of all his people[z] : in the courts of the Lord's house, even in the midst of thee, O Jerusalem.[aa] Praise the Lord.

Glory be to the Father, &c.

As it was in the beginning, &c.

Except the Lord keep the city : the watchman waketh but in vain.[b]

It is but lost labour[c] that ye haste to rise up early, and so late take rest, and eat the bread of carefulness[d] : for so he giveth his beloved sleep.[e]

Lo, children and the fruit of the womb : are an heritage and gift that cometh of the Lord.[f]

Like as the arrows in the hand of the giant[g] : even so are the young children.[h]

Happy is the man that hath his quiver full of them[i] : they shall not be ashamed when they speak with their enemies in the gate.[j]

BRETHREN, in the primitive Church there was a godly discipline, that, at the beginning of Lent, such persons as stood convicted of notorious sin were put to open penance, and punished in this world,[a] that their souls might be saved in the day of the Lord[b]; and that others, admonished by their example, might be the more afraid to offend.[c]

Instead whereof, (until the said discipline may be restored again, which is much to be wished,) it is thought good, that at this time (in the presence of you all) should be read the general sentences of God's go astray from the commandments of God[b]; let us (remembering the dreadful judgement hanging over our heads, and always ready to fall upon us[c]) return unto our Lord God, with all contrition and meekness of heart[d]; bewailing and lamenting our sinful life, acknowledging and confessing our offences,[e] and seeking to bring forth worthy fruits of penance.[f] For now is the ax put unto the root of the trees, so that every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.[g] It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God[h]: he shall pour down rain upon the sinners, snares, fire and brimstone, storm and tempest; this shall be their portion to drink.[i] For lo, the Lord is come out of his place to visit the wickedness of such as dwell upon the earth.[j] But who may abide the day of his coming? Who shall be able to endure when he appeareth[k]? His fan is in his hand, and he will purge his floor,[l] and gather his wheat into the barn[m]; but he will burn the chaff with unquenchable fire.[n] The day of the Lord cometh as a thief in the night[o]: and when men shall say, Peace, and all things are safe,[p] then shall sudden destruction come upon them,[q] as sorrow cometh upon a woman travailing with child,[r] and they shall not escape.[s] Then shall appear the wrath of God in the day of vengeance,[t] which obstinate sinners, through the stubbornness of their heart, have heaped unto themselves[u]; which despised the goodness, patience, and long-sufferance of God, when he calleth them continually to repentance.[v] Then shall they call upon me, (saith the Lord,) but I will not hear[w]; they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me[x]; and that, because they hated knowledge, and received not the fear of the Lord,[y] but abhorred my counsel, and despised my correction.[z] Then shall it be too late to knock when the door shall be shut[a]; and too late to cry for mercy when it is the time of justice.[b] O terrible voice of most just judgement,[c] which shall be pronounced upon them, when it shall be said unto them, Go, ye cursed,[d] into the fire everlasting,[e] which is prepared for the devil and his angels.[f] Therefore, brethren, take we heed betime, while the day of salvation lasteth[g]; for the night cometh, when none can work.[h] But let us, while we have the light, believe in the light,[i] and walk as children of the light[j]; that we be not cast into utter darkness, where is weeping and gnashing of teeth.[k] Let us not abuse the goodness of God,[l] who calleth us mercifully to amendment,[m] and of his endless pity promiseth us forgiveness of that which is past,[n] if with a perfect and true heart we return unto him.[o] For though our sins be as red as scarlet, they shall be made white as snow; and though they be like purple, yet they shall be made white as wool.[p] Turn ye (saith the Lord) from all your wickedness,[q] and your sin shall not be your destruction[r]: Cast away from you all your ungodliness that ye have done[s]: Make you new hearts, and a new spirit[t]: Wherefore will ye die, O ye house of Israel,[u] seeing that I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God[v]? Turn ye then, and ye shall live.[w] Although we have sinned, yet have we an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous; and he is the propitiation for our sins.[x] For he was wounded for our offences, and smitten for our wickedness.[y] Let us therefore return unto him,[z] who is the merciful receiver of all true penitent sinners[a]; assuring ourselves that he is ready to receive us, and most willing to pardon us,[c] if we come unto him with faithful repentance[d]; if we submit ourselves unto him, and from henceforth walk in his ways[e]; if we will take his easy yoke, and light burden upon us,[f] to follow him in lowliness,[g] patience,[h] and charity,[i] and be ordered by the governance of his holy Spirit[j]; seeking always his glory,[k] and serving him duly in our vocation with thanksgiving[l]: This if we do, Christ will deliver us from the curse of the law,[m] and from the extreme malediction which shall light upon them that shall be set on the left hand[n]; and he will set us on his right hand, and give us the gracious benediction of his Father, commanding us to take possession of his glorious kingdom[o]: unto which he vouchsafe to bring us all, for his infinite mercy.[p] Amen.

HAVE mercy upon me, O God, after thy great goodness[a]: according to the multitude of thy mercies[b] do away mine offences.[c]

Wash me throughly from my wickedness[d]: and cleanse[e] me from my sin.

For I acknowledge my faults[f]: and my sin is ever before me.[g]

But lo, thou requirest truth in the inward parts[l] : and shalt make me to understand wisdom secretly.[m]

Thou shalt purge me with hyssop,[n] and I shall be clean : thou shalt wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.[o]

Thou shalt make me hear of joy and gladness[p] : that the bones which thou hast broken[q] may rejoice.[r]

Deliver me from blood-guiltiness,[c] O God, thou that art the God of my health[d] : and my tongue shall sing of thy righteousness.[e]

Thou shalt open my lips, O Lord : and my mouth shall shew thy praise.[f]

For thou desirest no sacrifice,[g] else would I give it thee[h] : but thou delightest not in burnt-offerings.[i]

The sacrifice of God is a troubled spirit[j] : a broken and contrite heart, O God, shalt thou not despise.[k]

O be favourable and gracious unto Sion[l] : build thou the walls of Jerusalem.[m]

Then shalt thou be pleased with the sacrifice of righteousness,[n] with the burnt-offerings and oblations : then shall they offer young bullocks upon thine altar.[o]

For thou art a merciful God, Full of compassion, Long-suffering, and of great pity.[p] Thou sparest when we deserve punishment,[q] And in thy wrath thinkest upon mercy.[r] Spare thy people good Lord, spare them, And let not thine heritage be brought to confusion.[s] Hear us, O Lord, for thy mercy is great, And after the multitude of thy mercies look upon us[t]; Through the merits and mediation of thy blessed Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. THE PSALMS* OF DAVID.†

THE FIRST DAY.

Morning Prayer.

PSALM i.‡

BLESSED is the man that hath not walked[1] in the counsel of the ungodly,[2] nor stood[3] in the way of sinners: and hath not sat[4] in the seat of the scornful.[a]

2 But his delight is in the law of the Lord[b]: and in his law will he exercise himself[5] day and night.[c]

3 And he shall be like a tree planted by the water-side[6]: that will bring[7] forth his fruit in due[8] season.[d]

4 His leaf also shall not wither[9e]: and look, whatsoever he doeth, it shall prosper.[f]

5 As for the ungodly, it is not so with them[1]: but they are like the chaff, which the wind scattereth[2] away from the face of the earth.[g]

6 Therefore the ungodly shall not be able to stand in the judgement: neither the sinners in the congregation of the righteous.[h]

7 But[3] the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous[i]: and[4] the way of the ungodly shall perish.[j]

PSALM ii.

[Proper Psalm for Easter-Day.—See 57, and 111 Ps.]

WHY do the heathen so furiously rage together[1a]: and why do the people imagine a vain thing[b]?

2 The kings of the earth stand up,[2] and the rulers take counsel together[c]: against the Lord, and against his anointed.[3d]

3 Let us break their bonds asunder: and cast away their cords from us.[e]

4 He that dwelleth[4] in heaven[f] shall laugh them to scorn: the Lord shall have them in derision.[g]

5 Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath[h]: and vex[5] them in his sore displeasure.[i]

6 Yet have I set[6] my king: upon my holy hill of Sion.[j]

7 I will preach the law,[8k] whereof the Lord hath said unto me: Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.[l]

8 Desire[9] of me,[m] and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance: and the utmost[1] parts of the earth for thy possession.[n]

9 Thou shalt bruise[2] them with a rod of iron: and break[3] them in pieces like a potter's vessel.[o]

PONDER[1] my words, O Lord[a]: consider my meditation.[b]
2 O hearken thou unto the voice of my calling,[2] my King, and my God[c]: for unto thee will I make my prayer.[3]
3 My voice shalt thou hear betimes,[4] O Lord: early in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up.[d]
4 For thou art the God that hast no[5] pleasure in wickedness[e]: neither shall any evil dwell with thee.[f]
5 Such as be foolish[g] shall not stand in thy sight: for thou hatest all them that work vanity.[6h]
6 Thou shalt destroy them that speak leasing[i]: the Lord will abhor both the bloodthirsty[j] and deceitful[k] man.[7]
7 But as for me,[l] I will come into thine house, even upon[8] the multitude of thy mercy[m]: and in thy fear[n] will I worship toward thy holy temple.[9o]
8 Lead me, O Lord, in thy righteousness, because of mine enemies[1p]: make thy way plain[2] before my face.[q]
9 For there is no faithfulness[3] in his [4]mouth[r]: their inward parts are very wickedness.[s]
10 Their throat is an open sepulchre[t]: they flatter with their tongue.[u]
11 Destroy thou them,[5] O God; let them perish through[6] their own imaginations[7]: cast them out in the multitude of their ungodliness[8]; for they have rebelled against thee.[v]
12 And[9] let all them that put their trust in thee rejoice[10]: they shall ever be giving of thanks,[1] because thou defendest[2] them[x]; they that love thy name shall be joyful in thee[y]:

THE SECOND DAY.

Morning Prayer.

PSALM ix. A Psalm of David.

1 I WILL give thanks unto[1] thee, O Lord, with my whole heart[a] : I will speak of[2] all thy marvellous works.[b]

2 I will be glad and rejoice in thee[c] : yea, my songs will I make of[3] thy name,[d] O thou most Highest.[4]

3 While[5] mine enemies are driven[6] back : they shall fall and perish at thy presence.[e]

4 For thou hast maintained my right[7] and my cause : thou art set in the throne that judgest right.[8f]

5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen,[g] and destroyed the ungodly[9h] : thou hast put out their name for ever and ever.[i]

6 O thou enemy, destructions are come to a perpetual end : even as the cities which thou hast destroyed[1] ; their memorial is perished with them.[j]

7 But the Lord shall endure for ever[k] : he hath also prepared his seat[2] for judgement.[l]

8 For[3] he shall judge the world in righteousness : and minister true judgement unto the people.[4m]

9 The Lord also will be a defence[5] for the oppressed : even a refuge in due time of trouble.[n]

10 And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee[o] : for thou, Lord, hast never failed[6] them that seek thee.[p]

11 O praise[7] the Lord which dwelleth in Sion[q] : shew[8] the people of his doings.[r]

12 For when he maketh inquisition for blood,[s] he remembereth them : and forgetteth not the complaint of the poor.[9t]

13 Have mercy upon me, O Lord; consider the[1] trouble which I suffer of them that hate me[u] : thou that liftest me up from the gates of death.[v]

14 That I may shew all[2] thy praises[w] within the ports[3x] of the daughter of Sion[y] : I will rejoice in thy salvation.[z]

15 The heathen are sunk down in the pit that they made : in the same net which they hid privily, is their[4] foot taken.[a]

16 The Lord is known to execute judgement[5b] : the ungodly is trapped[6] in the work of his own hands.

17 The wicked shall be turned into hell[c] : and all the people[7] that forget God.[d]

18 For the poor[8] shall not alway be forgotten : the patient abiding of the meek[9] shall not perish for ever.[e]

Psalm x.

WHY standest thou so far off,[a] O Lord : and[1] hidest thy face[2] in the needful time of trouble[b]?
2 The ungodly for his own lust[3] doth persecute the poor[c] : let them be taken in the crafty wiliness[4] that they have imagined.[d]
3 For the ungodly[5] hath made boast of his own heart's[6] desire[e] : and speaketh good of[7] the covetous, whom God abhorreth.[8][f]
4 The ungodly is so proud,[g] that he careth not for God[9][h] : neither is God in all his thoughts[10][i].
5 His ways are alway grievous[j] : thy judgements are far above out of his sight,[k] and therefore defieth he all his enemies.[2][l]
6 For he hath said in his heart,[m] Tush, I shall never be cast down[3] : there shall no harm happen unto me.[4][n]
7 His mouth is full of cursing, deceit, and fraud : under his tongue is ungodliness[5] and vanity.[6][o]
8 He sitteth lurking in the thievish corners of the streets[7] : and privily in his lurking dens[8] doth he murder the innocent; his eyes are[9] set against the poor.[p]
9 For he lieth waiting[1] secretly, even as a lion lurketh he in his den : that he may ravish[2] the poor.[q]
10 He doth ravish[3] the poor : when he getteth[4] him into his net.[r]
11 He falleth down,[5] and humbleth himself : that the congregation of the poor may fall into the hands of his captains.[6]
12 He hath said in his heart, Tush, God hath forgotten : he hideth away his face, and he will never see it.[s]
13 Arise, O Lord God, and lift up thine hand[t] : forget not the poor.[7][u]
14 Wherefore should[8] the wicked blaspheme[9] God : while he doth say[1] in his heart, Tush, thou God carest not for[2] it.[v]
15 Surely thou hast seen it : for thou beholdest ungodliness[3] and wrong.[4][w]
16 That thou mayest take the matter into[5] thine hand[x] : the poor committeth[6] himself unto thee[y]; for thou art the helper of the friendless.[7][z]
17 Break thou the power[8] of the ungodly[9] and malicious [1][a] : take away his ungodliness, and thou shalt[2] find none.[b]

Psalm xi. A Psalm of David.

IN the Lord put I my trust[a] : how say ye then to my soul, That she should flee as a bird unto the hill[1b]?

2 For lo, the ungodly[2] bend their bow, and make ready their arrows within the quiver[3c] : that they may privily shoot at them which are true of[4] heart.[d]

3 For[5] the foundations will be cast down[e] : and what hath[7] the righteous done[8f]?

4 The Lord is in his holy temple[g] : the Lord's seat[9] is in heaven.[h]

5 His eyes consider[1] the poor : and his eyelids try the children of men.[i]

6 The Lord alloweth[2] the righteous[j] : but the ungodly,[3] and him that delighteth in wickedness[4] doth his soul abhor.[5k]

7 Upon the ungodly[6] he shall rain snares,[7] fire and brimstone, storm and[8] tempest[l] : this shall be their[9] portion to drink.[1m] 9 the 1 of their cup.

Psalm xii. A Psalm of David.

HELP[1] me, Lord, for there is not one godly man left[2] : for the faithful are minished[3] from among the children of men.[a]

2 They talk[4] of vanity every one with his neighbour : they do but flatter with their lips,[b] and dissemble in their double heart.[5c]

32 It is God, that girdeth me with strength of war[c] : and maketh my way perfect[f] :

33 He maketh my feet like harts'[2] feet[g] : and setteth me up on high.[3h]

34 He teacheth mine hands to fight[4i] : and mine arms shall break even a bow of steel.[j]

35 Thou hast given me the defence[5] of thy salvation[k] : thy right hand also shall hold[6] me up,[l] and thy loving correction shall make[7] me great.[m]

36 Thou shalt make room enough under me for to go[8] : that my footsteps shall not slide.[9n]

37 I will follow upon[1] mine enemies, and overtake them : neither will[2] I turn again until I have destroyed them.[3o]

38 I will smite[4] them, that they shall not be[5] able to stand[6] : but fall[7] under my feet.[p]

39 Thou hast girded me with strength unto the battle : thou shalt throw down mine enemies under me.[8q]

40 Thou hast made mine enemies also to turn their backs upon me[9r] : and I shall[1] destroy them that hate me.[s]

41 They shall cry, but there shall be[2] none to help[3] them : yea, even unto the Lord shall they cry, but he shall not hear them.[4t]

42 I will[5] beat them as small as the dust before the wind : I will[6] cast them out as the clay[7] in the streets.[u]

43 Thou shalt deliver[8] me from the strivings of the people[v] : and thou shalt make[9] me the head of the heathen.[w]

44 A people whom I have not known : shall serve me.[x]

45 As soon as they hear of me, they shall obey me[y] : but the strange children shall dissemble with[1] me.[z]

46 The strange children shall fail[2] : and be afraid out of their prisons.[3a]

47 The Lord liveth,[b] and blessed be my strong helper[4] : and praised[5] be the God of my salvation[c];

48 Even the[6] God that seeth that I be avenged[7d] : and subdueth the people unto me.

49 It is he that delivereth me from my cruel enemies, and setteth[8] me up above mine adversaries[9] : thou shalt rid[1] me from the wicked[2] man.[e]

THE FOURTH DAY.

Morning Prayer.

Psalm xix. A Psalm of David.

[Proper Psalm for Christmas-day.—See 45, and 85 Ps.]

THE heavens declare the glory of God : and the firmament sheweth his handy-work.[a]

2 One day telleth another : and one night certifieth another.[b]

3 There is neither speech nor language : but their voices are[2] heard among them.[c]

4 Their sound[3] is gone out into all lands[4] : and their words into the ends of the world.[d]

5 In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun[e] : which cometh forth as[5] a bridegroom out[6] of his chamber,[f] and rejoiceth as a giant to run his course.[7g]

6 It goeth[8] forth from the uttermost part[9] of the heaven, and runneth about[1] unto the end of it again : and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.[h]

7 The law[2] of the Lord is an undefiled law,[3i] converting[4] the soul[j] : the testimony of the Lord is sure, and giveth wisdom unto[5] the simple.[k]

8 The statutes of the Lord are right,[l] and rejoice the heart[m] : the commandment of the Lord is pure, and giveth light unto[6] the eyes.[n]

9 The fear of the Lord is clean, and endureth for ever[o] : the judgements of the Lord are true,[7] and righteous altogether.[p]

10 More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold[q] : sweeter also than honey, and the honey-comb.[r]

11 Moreover, by them is thy servant taught[8s] : and in keeping of them there is great reward.[t]

12 Who can tell how oft he offendeth[9u] : O cleanse[v] thou me from my secret faults.[w]

13 Keep[1] thy servant also from presumptuous sins,[w] lest they get the[2] dominion over me : so[3] shall I be undefiled,[1] and innocent from the great offence.[2x]

14 Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart : be alway acceptable in thy sight,[y]

15 O Lord : my strength,[6z] and my redeemer.[aa]

THE King shall rejoice[1] in thy strength, O Lord : exceeding glad shall he be of thy salvation.[2a]

2 Thou hast given him his heart's desire : and hast not denied him[3] the request of his lips.[b]

3 For thou shalt prevent[4] him with the blessings of goodness[c] : and shalt set[5] a crown of pure gold upon his head.[d]

4 He asked life of thee, and thou gavest him a long life : even[6] for ever and ever.[e]

5 His honour[7] is great in thy salvation : glory and great worship[8] shalt thou lay[9] upon him.[f]

6 For thou shalt give him everlasting felicity[1g] : and make him[2] glad with the joy of thy countenance.[h]

7 And why? because the King putteth his trust in the Lord : and in the mercy of the most Highest he shall not miscarry.[3i]

8 All thine enemies shall feel thy hand[4] : thy right hand shall find out them that hate thee.[j]

9 Thou shalt make them like a fiery oven in time of thy wrath[5] : the Lord shall destroy them in his displeasure,[6] and the fire shall consume[7] them.[k]

10 Their fruit shalt thou root out of[8] the earth : and their seed from among the children of men.[l]

11 For they intended mischief[9] against thee : and imagined such a[1] device as[2] they are not able to perform.[m]

12 Therefore shalt thou put them to flight[3] : and the strings of thy bow shalt thou make ready[4] against the face of them.[n]

Evening Prayer.

Psalm xxii. A Psalm of David.

[Proper Psalm for Good-Friday.—See 40, and 54 Ps.]

MY God, my God, look upon me; why hast thou forsaken me[a]: and art so[1] far from my health,[2] and from the words of my complaint[3b]?

2 O my God, I cry in the day-time, but thou hearest not[c]: and in the night-season also I take no rest.[4d]

3 And thou continuest[5] holy[e]: O thou worship[6] of Israel.[f]

4 Our fathers hoped[7] in thee: they trusted in thee, and thou didst deliver them.[g]

5 They called upon[8] thee, and were holpen[9]: they put their trust[1] in thee, and were not confounded.[h]

6 But as for me, I am a worm, and no man: a very scorn[2] of men, and the out-cast[3] of the people.[i]

7 All they that see me laugh me to scorn: they shoot out their lips, and shake their heads,[j] saying,

8 He trusted in God,[4] that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, if he will have[5] him.[k]

9 But thou art he that took me out of my mother's[6] womb: thou wast my[7] hope, when I hanged[8] yet upon my mother's breasts.[l] 8 was

10 I have been left unto thee ever since I was born[9]: thou art my God even from my mother's womb.[lm]

11 O go not[2] from me, for trouble is hard at hand[3]: and there is none to help me.[n]

12 Many oxen are come about[4] me: fat[5] bulls of Basan close me in on every side.[6o] 6 have beset me round.

13 They gape upon me with their mouths[7p]: as it were a ramping[8] and a roaring lion.[q] 8 ravening

14 I am poured out like water,[r] and all my bones are out of joint[s]: my heart also in the midst of my body is even like melting wax.[9t]

15 My strength is dried up like a potsherd,[u] and my tongue cleaveth to my gums[10v]: and thou shalt bring[2] me into the dust of death.[w] 2 hast brought

16 For many dogs are come about[3] me: and the council[4] of the wicked layeth siege against[5] me.[x]

17 They pierced my hands and my feet[y]; I may tell all my bones[z]: they stand staring and looking[6] upon me.[a]

18 They part my garments among them: and cast lots upon my vesture.[b]

19 But be thou not far from me,[c] O Lord: thou art my succour,[7] haste thee to help me.[d]

THE FIFTH DAY.

Morning Prayer.

Psalm xxiv. A Psalm of David.

[Proper Psalm for Ascension-Day.—See 47, and 108 Ps.]

1 the fulness thereof:

THE earth is the Lord's, and all that therein is[a] : the compass of the world, and they that dwell therein.[b]

2 For he hath founded it upon the seas : and pre-
2 established pared[2] it upon the floods.[c]

3 Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord : or who 3 stand shall rise up[3] in his holy place[d]?

4 Even he that hath clean hands,[e] and a pure heart[f] :
4 soul and that hath not lift up his mind[4] unto vanity,[g] nor 5 deceitfully. sworn to deceive[5] his neighbour.[h]

5 He shall receive the blessing from the Lord[i] : and righteousness from the God of his salvation.[j]

6 This is the generation of them that seek him : even
6 Or, O God of Jacob of them that seek thy face, O Jacob.[6k]

7 Lift up your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors[l] : and the King of glory shall come in.[m]

7 this 8 Who is the[7] King of glory . it is the Lord strong and mighty, even the Lord mighty in battle.[n]

PSALM xxvii. A Psalm of David.

PSALM XXX. A Psalm and Song at the dedication of the house of David.[*]

1 I WILL magnify[1] thee, O Lord, for thou hast set[2] me up : and not made my foes to triumph[3] over me.[a]

2 O Lord my God, I cried unto thee : and thou hast healed me.[b]

4 Sing praises unto the Lord, O ye saints of his[d] : and give thanks unto him for a[6] remembrance of his holiness.[e]

5 For his wrath[7] endureth but the twinkling of an eye,[8] and in his pleasure[9] is life[f] : heaviness[1] may endure for a night, but joy[2] cometh in the morning.[g]

6 And in my prosperity I said, I shall never be removed[3] : thou, Lord, of thy goodness hast made my hill so[4] strong.[h]

PSALM xxxii. A Psalm of David, Maschil.[a]

[Proper Psalm for Ash-Wednesday.—See Ps. 38.]

BLESSED is he whose unrighteousness[1] is forgiven : and whose sin is covered.[a]

2 Blessed is the man unto whom the Lord imputeth no sin[2b] : and in whose spirit there is no guile.[c]

3 For whilst I held my tongue[3d] : my bones consumed away[4e] through my daily complaining.[5f]

5 I will acknowledge my sin unto thee : and mine unrighteousness[8] have I not hid.[i]

6 I said, I will confess my sins[9] unto the Lord : and so thou forgavest the wickedness[1] of my sin.[j]

7 For this[k] shall every one that is godly make his prayer[2] unto thee, in a time when thou mayest be found[l] : but[3] in the great water-floods they shall not come nigh him.[m]

8 Thou art a place to hide me in,[4] thou shalt preserve me from trouble[n] : thou shalt compass me about with songs of deliverance.[o]

9 I will inform[5] thee, and teach thee in the way wherein thou shalt go[p] : and I will guide thee with mine eye.[q]

10 Be ye not like to[6] horse and mule, which have no understanding[r] : whose mouths must be held[7] with bit and bridle, lest they fall[8] upon thee.[s]

11 Great plagues remain for the ungodly[9t] : but whoso putteth his trust[1] in the Lord, mercy embraceth him on every side.[2u]

REJOICE in the Lord,[a] O ye righteous : for it becometh well the just to be thankful.[1b]

2 Praise the Lord with harp : sing praises unto him with the lute, and[2] instrument of ten strings.[c]

3 Sing unto the Lord[3] a new song[d] : sing praises lustily unto him[4] with a good courage.[5e]

4 For the word of the Lord is true[6f] : and all his works are faithful.[7g]

5 He loveth righteousness and judgement[h] : the earth is full of the goodness[8] of the Lord.[i]

6 By the word of the Lord were the heavens made[j] : and all the hosts of them by the breath of his mouth.[k]

7 He gathereth the waters of the sea together, as it were upon an heap[l] : and layeth up the deep, as in a treasure-house.[9m]

8 Let all the earth fear the Lord : stand in awe of him, all ye that dwell in[1] the world[n] :

9 For he spake, and it was done : he commanded, and it stood fast.[o]

10 The Lord bringeth[2] the counsel of the heathen to nought : and maketh the devices of the people to be of none effect, and casteth out the counsels of princes.[p]

11 False witnesses[5] did rise up : they laid to my charge things that I knew not.[s]

12 They rewarded me evil for good : to the great discomfort[6] of my soul.[t]

13 Nevertheless,[7] when they were sick, I put on[8] sackcloth, and humbled[9] my soul with fasting[u] : and my prayer shall turn[1] into mine own bosom.[v]

14 I behaved myself as though it[2] had been my friend, or my brother : I went[3] heavily, as one that mourneth for his mother.[w]

21 They gaped upon me with their mouths,[1] and said : Fie on thee, fie on thee,[2] we saw it with our eyes.[3g]

PSALM XXXVI. A Psalm of David the servant of the LORD.

MY heart sheweth me the wickedness of the ungodly[1a] : that there is no fear of God before his eyes.[b]

2 For he flattereth himself in his own sight[2] : until his abominable sin be found out.[3c]

3 The words of his mouth are unrighteous,[4] and full of deceit : he hath left off to behave himself wisely,[5] and to do good.[d]

4 He imagineth[6] mischief upon his bed, and hath set himself in no good way[7] : neither doth he abhor any thing that is[8] evil.[e]

5 Thy mercy, O Lord, reacheth unto[9] the heavens : and thy faithfulness unto[1] the clouds.[f]

6 Thy righteousness standeth like the strong[2] mountains : thy judgements are like the[3] great deep.[g]

7 Thou, Lord, shalt save[4] both man and beast[h]; How excellent in thy mercy,[5] O God[i] : and[6] the children of men shall put their trust under the shadow of thy wings.[j]

8 They shall be[7] satisfied with the plenteousness[8] of thy house[k] : and thou shalt give[9] them drink of the pleasures, as out of the river.[1l]

9 For with thee is the well[2] of life[m] : and in thy light shall we see light.[n]

2 I will keep my mouth as it were with a bridle[2] : while the ungodly is in my sight.[3c]

3 I held my tongue, and spake nothing[d] : I kept silence,[4] yea, even from good words; but it was pain and grief to me.[5]

4 My heart was hot within me, and while I was thus musing the fire kindled[6] : and at the last[7] I spake with my tongue[e] ;

5 Lord, let me[8] know my end, and the number[9] of my days : that I may be certified how long I have to live.[1f]

6 Behold, thou hast made my days as it were a span long[2g] : and mine age is even as nothing in respect of[3] thee ; and verily every man living[4] is altogether vanity.[h]

7 For[5] man walketh in a vain shadow,[6] and disquieteth himself[7] in vain[i] : he heapeth up riches, and cannot tell[8] who shall gather them.[j]

Psalm xli. A Psalm of David.

BLESSED is he that considereth the poor[a] and needy: the Lord shall deliver him in the time of trouble.[b]

2 The Lord[1] preserve him, and keep him alive,[c] that he may[2] be blessed upon earth[d]: and deliver not thou[3] him into the will of his enemies.[e]

3 The Lord comfort him, when he lieth sick upon his bed: make thou[4] all his bed in his sickness.[f]

4 I said, Lord, be merciful unto me: heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee.[g]

5 Mine enemies speak evil of me: When shall he die, and his name perish[h]?

6 And if he come to see me, he speaketh vanity: and his heart conceiveth falsehood within himself,[5i] and when he cometh forth[6] he telleth it.[j]

7 All mine enemies[7] whisper together against me: even against me do they imagine this evil.[8k]

THE NINTH DAY.

Morning Prayer.

PSALM xliv. Maschil.[*]

WE have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us : what[1] thou hast done in their[2] time of old.[a]

2 How thou hast driven out the heathen with thy hand,[b] and planted them in[c] : how thou hast destroyed[3] the nations,[4] and cast them out.[d]

3 For they gat not the land in possession through their own sword : neither was it their own arm that helped[5] them[e] ;

4 But thy right hand, and thine arm,[f] and the light of thy countenance[g] : because thou hadst a favour unto them.[h]

5 Thou art my King, O God[i] : send help unto[6] Jacob.[j]

6 Through thee will we overthrow[7] our enemies[k] : and in[8] thy name will we tread them under, that rise up against us.[l]

7 For I will not trust in my bow : it is not my sword that shall help[9] me[m] ;

8 But it is that savest[1] us from our enemies : and puttest them to confusion[2] that hate us.[n]

9 We make our boast of God[3] all day long[o] : and will praise thy name for ever.[p]

10 But now thou art far[4] off, and puttest[5] us to confusion[6] : and goest not forth with our armies.[q]

11 Thou makest us to turn our backs upon our enemies[7r]: so that[8] they which hate us spoil our goods.[9s]

12 Thou lettest us be eaten up like sheep[1t] · and hast scattered us among the heathen.[u]

13 Thou sellest[v] thy people for nought : and takest no money for them.[2w]

14 Thou makest us to be rebuked of[3] our neighbours[x] : to be laughed to scorn, and had in derision of them[4] that are round about us.[y]

15 Thou makest us to be a by-word among the heathen[z] : and that the people shake their heads at us.[5a]

[Proper Psalm for Whitsunday.—See 68 Ps.]

GREAT is the Lord, and highly[1] to be praised[a] : in the city of our God, even upon his holy hill.[2b]

2 The hill of[3] Sion is a fair place,[4] and the joy of the whole earth[c] : upon[5] the north side[d] lieth the city of the great King; God is well known in her palaces as a sure refuge.[e]

THE TENTH DAY.

Morning Prayer.

PSALM L. A Psalm of (or for) Asaph.[*]

THE Lord, even the most mighty God,[a] hath spoken : and called the world,[1] from the rising up of the sun, unto the going down thereof.[b]

2 Out of Sion[c] hath God appeared[2] : in perfect[3] beauty.[d]

3 Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence[e] : a fire[4] shall devour, and there shall go before him a consuming fire,[4] and a mighty tempest[5] shall be stirred up[5] round about him.[f]

4 He shall call the[6] heaven from above : and the[6] earth, that he may judge his people.[g]

5 Gather my saints together unto me[h] : those that have made a covenant with me with[7] sacrifice.[i]

6 And the heaven shall declare his righteousness[j] : for God is Judge himself.[k]

7 Hear, O my people, and I will speak : I[8] myself will testify against thee, O Israel[1]; for I am God, even thy God.[m]

8 I will not reprove thee because of[9] thy sacrifices, or for thy burnt-offerings : because they were not alway[1] before me.[n]

9 I will take no bullock out of thine house : nor he-goat out of thy folds.[o]

10 For all the beasts of the forest are mine : and so are the cattle upon a thousand hills.[p]

11 I know all the fowls upon the[2] mountains : and the wild beasts of the field are in my sight.[3q]

12 If I be[4] hungry, I will[5] not tell thee : for the whole world is mine, and all that is therein.[6r]

13 Thinkest thou that I will eat[7] bulls' flesh : and[8] drink the blood of goats[s]?

14 Offer unto God thanksgiving[t] : and pay thy vows unto the most High*est*.[u]

15 And call upon me in the time[9] of trouble[v] : so will I hear[1] thee, and thou shalt praise[2] me.[w]

16 But unto the the ungodly said[3] God : Why dost thou preach my laws, and takest[4] my covenant in thy mouth[x];

17 Whereas[5] thou hatest to be reformed[6y] : and hast cast my words behind thee[z]?

18 When thou sawest a thief, thou[7] consentedst unto him : and hast been partaker with the adulterers.[a]

19 Thou hast let[8] thy mouth speak wickedness[9] : and with thy tongue thou hast set forth[1] deceit.[b]

20 Thou satest, and spakest against thy brother : yea, and hast slandered thine own mother's son.[c]

21 These things hast thou done, and I held my tongue,[2] and thou thoughtest wickedly, that I am even[3] such a one as thyself[d] : but I will reprove thee, and set before thee the things that thou hast done.[4e]

22 O[5] consider this,[f] ye that forget God[g] : lest I pluck you away,[6] and there be none to deliver you.[h]

23 Whoso offereth me thanks and praise, he honoureth[7] me[i] : and to him that ordereth his conversation right[8] will I shew the salvation of God.[j]

HAVE mercy upon me, O God, after thy great goodness[1a] : according to the multitude of thy[2] mercies do away mine offences.[3b]

2 Wash me throughly from my wickedness[4] : and cleanse me from my sin.[c]

3 For I acknowledge[d] my faults[5] : and my sin is ever before me.

4 Against thee only[6] have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight[e] : that thou mightest be justified[f] in thy saying,[7] and clear when thou art judged.[8g]

5 Behold, I was shapen in wickedness[9] : and in sin hath my mother conceived me.[h]

6 But lo,[1] thou requirest[2] truth in the inward parts[i] : and shalt make me to understand[3] wisdom secretly.[4j]

7 Thou shalt purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean : thou shalt wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.[k]

8 Thou shalt make me hear of joy and gladness : that the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice.[l]

9 Turn[5] thy face from my sins : and put[6] out all my misdeeds.[7m]

10 Make[8] me[n] a clean heart, O God : and renew a right[9] spirit[o] within me.

11 Cast me not away from thy presence[p] : and take not thy holy Spirit from me.[q]

12 O give[1] me the comfort[2] of thy help[3] again[r] : and stablish[4] me[s] with thy free Spirit.[t]

15 Thou shalt open[8] my lips, O Lord : and my mouth shall shew[9] thy praise.[z]

16 For thou desirest no sacrifice,[a] else would I[1] give it thee : but thou delightest not in burnt-offerings.[b]

17 The sacrifice of God is a troubled[2] spirit : a broken and contrite heart, O God, shalt thou not despise.[c]

PSALM lvii. Michtam of David, when he fled from Saul in the cave.[*]

[Proper Psalm for Easter-Day.—See 111 Ps.]

BE merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me, for my soul trusteth in thee[a] : and under[1] the shadow of thy wings shall be[2] my refuge,[b] until this tyranny[3] be over-past.[c]

2 I will call[4] unto the most high God : even unto the God that shall perform the cause which I have in hand.[5d]

3 He shall send from heaven[e] : and save me from the reproof[6] of him that would eat[7] me up.[f]

4 God shall send forth his mercy and truth[g] : my soul is among lions.[h]

5 And I lie even among the children[8] of men, that are set on fire[i] : whose teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword.[j]

6 Set up thyself,[9] O God, above the heavens : and thy glory above all the earth.[k]

7 They have laid[1] a net for my feet,[2] and pressed down my soul[3] : they have digged a pit before me, and are fallen into the midst of it themselves.[l]

5 Stand up,[6] O Lord God of hosts, thou God of Israel,[g] to visit all the heathen[h]: and be not merciful unto them that offend of malicious wickedness.[7i]
6 They go to and fro in the[8] evening: they grin[9] like a dog,[j] and run[1] about through the city.
7 Behold, they speak[2] with their mouth,[k] and swords are in their lips[4]: for who[3] doth hear[m]?

Morning Prayer.

PSALM lxviii. A Psalm or Song of David.

[Proper Psalm for Whitsunday.]

1 He. from his face. LET God arise,[e] and let his enemies be scattered : a 6 ii Ch. 41.
let them also that hate him flee before him.[1b] b 10 Nu. 35.

2 Like as the smoke vanisheth,[2] so shalt thou drive them away[c]: and like as wax melteth at[3] the fire,[d] so let the ungodly[4] perish at the presence of God.[e]

3 But let the righteous be glad and[5] rejoice before God: let[6] them also be merry and joyful.[f]

4 O sing unto God, and sing praises unto his name[g]: magnify[8] him that rideth upon the heavens, as it were upon an horse[h]; praise him in his[9] name JAH,[i] and rejoice before him.

5 He is a father of the fatherless, and defendeth the cause[1] of the widows[j]: even God[2] in his holy habitation.[k]

6 He is the God that maketh men to be of one mind in an house,[l] and bringeth the prisoners out of captivity[m]: but letteth the runagates continue in scarceness.[3n]

7 O God, when thou wentest forth before the[4] people[o]: when thou wentest[5] through the wilderness,[p]

8 The earth shook, and the heavens dropped at the presence of God[q]: even as Sinai also was moved[6] at the presence of God, who is the God of Israel.[r]

9 Thou, O God, sentest a gracious[7] rain upon[8] thine inheritance: and refreshedst it when it was weary.[s]

10 Thy congregation[t] shall dwell[9] therein: for thou, O God, hast of thy goodness prepared for the poor.[u]

11 The Lord gave the word[v]: great was the company of the preachers.[1w]

12 Kings with[2] their armies did flee,[3] and were discomfited[x]: and they of the household[4] divided the spoil.[y]

13 Though ye have lien among the pots,[z] yet shall ye be as the wings of a dove: that is covered with silver wings, and her feathers like[5] gold.[b]

14 When the Almighty scattered kings for their sake[c]: then were they as[6] white as snow in Salmon.[d]

15 As the hill of Basan, so is God's hill[e]: even an high hill, as the hill of Basan.[f]

16 Why hop[7] ye so, ye high hills? this is God's hill, in the which it pleaseth him to dwell[8][g]: yea, the Lord will abide[9] in it for ever.[h]

17 The chariots[i] of God are twenty thousand, even thousands of angels[1j]: and the Lord is among them,[k] as in the holy place of[2] Sinai.[k]

18 Thou art gone up[3] on high,[l] thou hast led captivity captive,[m] and[4] received gifts for men[5n]: yea, even for thine enemies,[6o] that the Lord God might dwell among them.[p]

Evening Prayer.

Psalm lxix. A Psalm of David.

[Proper Psalm for Good-Friday.—See 88 Ps.]

SAVE me, O God : for the waters are come in, even unto my soul.[a]

2 I stick fast[1] in the deep mire, where no ground is[2b] : I am come into deep waters, so that[3] the floods run[4] over me.[c]

3 I am weary of crying; my throat is dry[5d] : my sight faileth[e] me for waiting so long upon[6] my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause[f] are more than the hairs of my head : they that are mine enemies, and would destroy me guiltless,[7g] are mighty.

5 I paid them the things that I never took[8h] : God, thou knowest my simpleness,[9] and my faults[1] are not hid from thee.[i]

6 Let not them that trust in[2] thee, O Lord God of hosts, be ashamed[j] for my cause[3] : let not those that seek thee be confounded through me[3k], O Lord God of Israel.

7 And why[4]? for thy sake have I suffered reproof[5l] : shame hath covered my face.[m]

8 I am become a stranger unto my brethren[n] : even[6] an alien unto my mother's children.[o]

9 For the zeal of thine house hath even eaten me[7p] up : and the rebukes[8] of them that rebuked[9] thee are fallen upon me.[q]

10 I[1] wept and chastened myself[2] with fasting : and that was turned to my reproof.[3r]

11 I put on[4] sackcloth also[5s] : and they jested upon me.[6t]

12 They that sit in the gate[u] speak against me : and[7] the drunkards make songs upon me.[v]

13 But,[8] Lord, I make my prayer unto[9] thee : in an acceptable time.[w]

14 Hear me, O God, in the multitude of thy mercy : even in the truth of thy salvation.[x]

15 Take[1] me out of the mire, that I[2] sink not[y] : O let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.[z]

16 Let not the water-flood drown[3] me, neither let the deep swallow me up[a] : and let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.[b]

17 Hear me, O Lord, for thy loving-kindness is comfortable[4c] : turn thee unto me according to the multitude of thy[5] mercies.[d]

18 And hide not thy face from thy servant, for I am in trouble[e] : O haste thee, and[6] hear me.[f]

19 Draw nigh unto my soul, and save[7] it[g] : O deliver me, because of mine enemies.[h]

20 Thou hast known my reproof,[8] my shame, and my dishonour[i] : mine adversaries are all in thy sight.[9j]

21 Thy rebuke[1] hath broken my heart[k] ; I[2] am full of heaviness[l] : I[2] looked for some to have[3] pity on me, but there was no man,[4] neither[5] found I any to comfort me.[6m]

22 They gave me[7] gall to eat[8] : and when I was thirsty,[9] they gave me vinegar to drink.[n]

23 Let their table be made[1] a snare to take themselves withal[2o] : and let the things that[3] should have been for their wealth[4] be unto them an occasion of falling.[5p]

24 Let their eyes be blinded,[6] that they see not[q] : and ever bow thou down their backs.[7r]

25 Pour out thine indignation upon them[s] : and let thy wrathful displeasure[8] take hold of them.[t]

26 Let their habitation be void[9] : and no man to[1] dwell in their tents.[u]

27 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten : and they talk how they may vex[2] them whom thou hast wounded.[v]

28 Let them fall from one wickedness to another[3w] : and[4] not come into thy righteousness.[x]

29 Let them be wiped[5] out of the book of the living[y] : and not be written among[6] the righteous.[z]

30 As for me, when I am[7] poor and in heaviness[8a] : thy help,[9] O God, shall lift me up.[1b]

31 I will praise the name of God with a song : and magnify it[2] with thanksgiving.[c]

32 This also shall please the Lord : better than a[3] bullock that hath horns and hoofs.[d]

33 The humble shall consider this,[4] and be glad[e] : seek ye after[5] God, and your soul[6] shall live.[f]

34 For the Lord heareth the poor[g] : and despiseth not his prisoners.[h]

35 Let heaven and earth praise him : the sea, and all[7] that moveth therein.[i]

36 For God will save Sion, and build the cities of Judah[j] : that men[8] may dwell there, and have it in possession.[k]

9 their strength is firm.

5 They come in no misfortune like[t] other folk[2] : neither are they plagued like other men.[e]

6 And this is the cause that they are so holden with pride[3] : and overwhelmed with cruelty.[4f]

7 Their eyes swell[5] with fatness : and they do even what they lust.[6g]

6 have more than heart could wish.

8 They corrupt other,[7] and speak of wicked blasphemy[8] : their talking is against the most High.[9h]

9 For they stretch forth[t] their mouth unto[3] the heaven : and their tongue goeth[3] through the world.[4i]

10 Therefore fall the people unto them[5] : and thereout suck they no small advantage.[6j]

11 Tush, say they, how should[7] God perceive[8] it : is there knowledge in the most High[k]?

7 doth 8 know?

12 Lo, these are the ungodly, these[9] prosper in the world, and these have riches in possession[u] : and I said, Then[2] have I cleansed my heart in vain, and washed mine hands in innocency.[m]

13 All[3] the day long have I been punished[4] : and chastened every morning.[n]

14 Yea, and I had almost said even as they[5] : but lo, then I should have condemned[6] the generation of thy children.[o]

15 Then[7] thought I to understand[8] this : but it was too hard[9] for me,[p]

16 Until I went into the sanctuary[q] of God : then understood I the[t] end of these men[r];

17 Namely,[2] how thou dost set them in slippery places : and[3] castest them down, and destroyest them.[4s]

18 Oh how suddenly do they consume[5] : perish, and come to a fearful end[6t]!

19 Yea, even like as a dream when one awaketh[u] : so[7] shalt thou make[8] their image to vanish out of the city.

20 Thus my heart was grieved : and it went even through[9] my reins.[v]

23 Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel[z] : and after that[4] receive me with[5] glory.[a]

24 Whom have I in heaven but thee[b] : and there is none upon earth that I desire in comparison of thee.[6c]

THE FIFTEENTH DAY.

Morning Prayer.

PSALM lxxv. A Psalm or Song of (or for) Asaph.

UNTO thee, O God, do we give thanks : yea, unto thee do we give thanks.[a]

2 Thy[1] name also is so nigh[2] : and that do thy wondrous works declare.[b]

3 When I receive the congregation[3c] : I shall judge according unto right.[4d] 4 uprightly.

4 The earth is weak,[5] and all the inhabiters thereof[e] : I bear up the pillars of it.[f]

5 I said unto the fools,[g] Deal not so madly[6] : and to the ungodly,[7] Set[8] not up your horn.[h]

6 Set[8] not up your horn on high : and speak not with a stiff neck.[i]

7 For promotion cometh neither from the east, nor from the west : nor yet from the south.[9j]

8 And why[1]? God is the Judge[k] : he putteth down one, and setteth up another.[l]

9 For in the hand of the Lord there is a cup, and the wine is red : it is full mixed,[2m] and he poureth out of the same.

10 As for the[3] dregs thereof : all the ungodly[7] of the earth shall drink them, and suck[4] them out.[n]

11 But I will talk of the God of Jacob[o] : and praise him for ever.[5]

2 I will open my mouth in a parable[c] : I will declare hard sentences[2] of old[d] ;

3 Which we have heard and known : and such as our fathers have told us[e] ;

4 That we should[3] not hide them from the[4] children of the[5] generations to come[f] : but to shew the honour[6] of the Lord, his mighty and[7] wonderful works that he hath done.[g]

5 He made a covenant with[8] Jacob, and gave[9] Israel a law[h] : which he commanded our *fore*fathers to teach[1] their children ;

7 To the intent that when they came up[5] : they might shew[6] their children the same[j];

8 That they might put[7] their trust[8] in God[k] : and not to forget the works of God,[l] but to keep his commandments[m];

9 And not to be as their *fore*fathers, a faithless[9] and stubborn generation : a generation that set not their heart aright,[1] and whose spirit cleaveth not[2] stedfastly unto[3] God[n];

10 Like as the children of Ephraim : who being harnessed,[4] and carrying bows, turned themselves back in the day of battle.[o]

11 They kept not the covenant of God : and would not[5] walk in his law[p];

12 But forgat what he had done[6] : and the wonderful works[7] that he had shewed for them.[q]

13 Marvellous things did he in the sight of our[8] *fore*fathers, in the land of Egypt[r] : even in the field of Zoan.[s]

14 He divided the sea, and let[9] them go[1] through : he made the waters to stand on[2] an heap.[t]

15 In the day-time also he led them with a cloud : and all the night through with a light of fire.[u]

16 He clave the hard rocks in the wilderness : and gave them drink thereof, as it had been out of the great depth.[v]

17 He brought waters[3] out of the stony rock : so that it gushed out[4] like the rivers.[w]

18 Yet for all this they sinned more against him : and provoked[5] the most High*est* in the wilderness.[x]

19 They[6] tempted God in their hearts : and required[7] meat for their lust.[y]

20 They[8] spake against God also, saying : Shall[9] God prepare[1] a table in the wilderness[z]?

21 He[2] smote the stony rock indeed, that the water gushed out, and the streams flowed withal[3] : but can he give bread also, or[4] provide flesh for his people[a]?

22 When[5] the Lord heard this, he[6] was wroth : so the fire was kindled in[7] Jacob,[b] and there came up heavy displeasure[8] against Israel[c];

23 Because they believed not in God : and put not their trust in his help.[d]

24 So he[1] commanded the clouds[e] above[2] : and opened the doors of heaven.[f]

25 He[3] rained down manna also upon them for to eat : and gave them food from[4] heaven.[g]

26 So man did eat angels' food[4] : for he sent them meat enough.[5h]

28 He rained flesh upon them as thick as dust : and feathered fowls like as the sand of the sea.[k]

29 He let it fall among[8] their tents[9] : even round about their habitation.

30 So they did eat, and were well filled; for he gave them their own desire : they were not disappointed of[1] their lust.[l]

31 But while the[2] meat was yet in their mouths, the heavy wrath of God came upon them, and slew the wealthiest[3] of them[m] : yea, and smote down the chosen men that were in[4] Israel.[n]

32 But for all this they sinned yet more[5o] : and believed not his[6] wondrous works.[p]

33 Therefore their days did he consume in vanity : and their years in trouble.[q]

34 When he slew them, they[7] sought him : and turned[8] them[s] early, and enquired after God.[r]

35 And they remembered that God was their strength[9] : and that the high God was their redeemer.[s]

36 Nevertheless, they did but flatter him with their mouth : and dissembled with[1] him in[2] their tongue.[t]

37 For their heart was not whole[3] with him[u] : neither continued[4] they stedfast in his covenant.[v]

38 But he was so merciful,[5] that he forgave their misdeeds[6] : and destroyed them not.[w]

39 Yea, many a time turned he his wrath[7] away[x] : and would not suffer his whole displeasure to arise.[8y]

40 For he considered[9] that they were but flesh[z] : and that they were even a wind that passeth away, and cometh not again.[a]

41 Many a time[1] did they provoke[a] him in the wilderness : and grieved him in the desert.[b]

42 They[2] turned back,[c] and tempted God : and moved[3] the holy One in[4] Israel.[d]

43 They thought[5] not of his hand[e] : and of[6] the day when he delivered them from the hand of the enemy[f] ;

44 How he had wrought his miracles[7] in Egypt[g] : and his wonders in the field of Zoan.[h]

THE SIXTEENTH DAY.

Morning Prayer.

PSALM lxxix. A Psalm of (or for) Asaph.

1 they have laid 2 on heaps. O GOD, the heathen are come into thine inheritance[a] : thy holy temple have they defiled, and made[1] Jerusalem an heap[2] of stones.[b]

2 The dead bodies of thy servants have they given to

3 heaven 4 earth be meat unto the fowls of the air[3c] : and the flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the land.[4d]

5 round about 6 none 7 a reproach to our neighbours, 3 Their blood have they shed like water on every side of[5] Jerusalem[e] : and there was no man[6] to bury them.[f]

4 We are become an open shame to our enemies[7g] : a very scorn and derision unto them that are round about us.[h]

5 Lord, how long wilt thou be angry : shall thy jealousy burn like fire for ever[i]?

8 thy wrath 6 Pour out thine indignation[8] upon the heathen that have not known thee[j] : and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy name.[k]

7 For they have devoured Jacob[l] : and laid waste his dwelling-place.[m]

9 against us former iniquities; 1 let thy tender mercies speedily prevent us: 3 and 5 should 8 O remember not our old sins,[9n] but have mercy upon us, and that soon[1] : for we are come to great misery.[2o]

9 Help us, O God of our salvation,[p] for the glory of thy name : O[3] deliver us, and be merciful unto[4] our sins, for the name's sake.[q] 4 purge away

10 Wherefore do[5] the heathen say : Where is now their God[r]?

7 let him be known among 8 He. reserve the children of death. 11 O let the vengeance[6] of thy servants' blood that is shed[s] : be openly shewed upon[7] the heathen in our sight.[t]

12 O let the sorrowful sighing of the prisoners come before thee[u] : according to the greatness of thy power, preserve thou those that are appointed to die.[8v]

PSALM lxxx. A Psalm of (or for) Asaph.

HEAR,[1] O thou Shepherd of Israel,[a] thou that leadest Joseph like a sheep[2]: shew thyself also,[3b] thou that sittest upon[4] the cherubims.[c] 2 Before Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasses[d]: stir up thy strength, and come, and help[5] us.[e]

3 Turn us again,[f] O God: shew the light of thy countenance,[6] and we shall be whole.[7g]

4 O Lord God of hosts: how long wilt thou be angry with thy people that prayeth[8h]?

5 Thou feedest them with the bread of tears: and givest them plenteousness of[9] tears to drink.[i]

6 Thou hast made[1] us a very strife unto our neighbours[j]: and our enemies laugh us to scorn.[2k]

7 Turn us again,[l] thou[3] God of hosts: shew the light of thy countenance,[4] and we shall be whole.[4]

8 Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt[m]: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it[n];

9 Thou madest room for[5] it[o]: and when it had taken[6] root,[p] it[7] filled the land. 10 The hills were covered with the shadow of it: and the boughs thereof were like the goodly cedar-trees.[8q]

11 She stretched[9] out her branches unto the sea: and her boughs unto the river.[r]

12 Why hast thou then broken down her hedge: that[1] all they that go by[2] pluck off her grapes[s]?

13 The wild boar out of the wood doth root it up[3]: and the wild beasts of the field devour it.[t]

14 Turn thee again, thou[4] God of hosts, look down from heaven: behold, and visit this vine[u];

15 And the place of the vineyard that thy right hand hath planted: and the branch[v] that thou madest so strong for thyself.

16 It is burnt with fire, and[5] cut down[w]: and they shall perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.[x]

17 Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand: and upon the son of man, whom thou madest so strong for thine[6] own self.[y]

18 And so will not we go back from thee[z]: O let us live,[7] and we shall call upon thy name.[a]

PSALM lxxxvii. A Psalm or Song for the sons of Korah.

HER foundations are upon[1] the holy hills[2a] : the Lord loveth the gates of Sion more than all the dwellings of Jacob.[b]

2 Very excellent[3] things are spoken of thee : thou city[4] of God.[c]

3 I will think upon[5] Rahab[d] and Babylon : with them[6] that know me.[e] 6 to them

4 Behold ye the Philistines[7] also : and they of Tyre, with the Morians[8]f; lo, there was he[9] born.[g]

5 And of Sion it shall be reported that he[1] was born in her[h] : and the Most High[2] shall stablish her.[i]

6 The Lord shall rehearse it[3] when he writeth up the people[j] : that he[4] was born there.[k] 4 that this man

[Proper Psalm for Good-Friday.]

O LORD God of my salvation, I have cried day and night before thee[a] : O let my prayer enter into thy presence,[1] incline thine ear unto my calling.[2b]

2 For my soul is full of trouble[c] : and my life draweth nigh unto hell.[3d]

4 Free among the dead, like unto them that are wounded, and[6] lie in the grave[g] : who are out of remembrance,[7] and are cut away from[8] thy hand.[h]

9 O Lord God of hosts,[n] who is[7] like unto thee : thy truth, most mighty Lord,[o] is on every side.[8p]

10 Thou rulest the raging of the sea : thou stillest the waves thereof when they arise.[q]

11 Thou hast subdued Egypt, and destroyed it[9] : thou hast scattered thine enemies abroad with thy mighty[1] arm.[r]

12 The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine[s] : thou hast laid the foundation of the round[2] world, and all that therein is.[3t]

PSALM XC.* A Prayer of Moses the man of God.†

1 dwelling-place 2 in all generations. 3 thou hadst formed the 4 to everlasting. 5 and sayest, Return 6 when it is past, and 8 in the morning they are like grass which groweth up. 9 flourisheth

LORD, thou hast been our refuge[1a]: from one generation to another.[2]

2 Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever the[3] earth and the world were made: thou art God from everlasting, and world without end.[4b]

3 Thou turnest man to destruction[c]: again thou sayest, Come again,[5] ye children of men.[d]

4 For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday: seeing that is past[6] as a watch in the night.[e]

5 As soon as thou scatterest them[7] they are even as a sleep: and fade away suddenly like the grass.[8]

6 In the morning it is green,[9] and groweth up: but in the evening it is cut down, dried up, and withered.[f]

7 For we consume away in[1] thy displeasure[2]: and are afraid[3] at thy wrathful indignation.[4g] 8 Thou hast set our misdeeds[5] before thee: and our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.[h]

9 For when thou art angry,[6] all our days are gone[7]: we bring[8] our years to an end, as it were a tale that is told.[9]

10 The days of our age[1] are threescore years and ten, and though men be so strong that they come to[2] fourscore years: yet is their strength then but labour and sorrow; so soon passeth it away,[3] and we are gone.[4i]

11 But who regardeth[5] the power of thy wrath[6]: for even thereafter as a man feareth,[7] so is thy displeasure.[8j]

12 So teach us to number our days[k]: that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.[l]

13 Turn thee again,[9] O Lord, at the last[1]: and be gracious unto[2] thy servants.[m]

14 O satisfy us with thy mercy, and that soon[3n]: so shall we[4] rejoice and be glad all the[5] days of our life.[o]

15 Comfort us again now after the time that[6] thou hast plagued[7] us: and for the years wherein we have suffered adversity.[8p]

16 Shew[9] thy servants thy work: and[1] their children thy glory.[q]

O COME let us sing unto the Lord[a]: let us heartily rejoice in the strength[1] of our salvation.[b]

2 Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving: and shew ourselves glad in[2] him with psalms.[c]

3 For the Lord is a great God: and a great King above all gods.[d]

4 In his hand[e] are all the corners[3] of the earth: and the strength[4] of the hills is his also.[f]

5 The sea is his, and he made it: and his hands prepared[5] the dry land.[g]

6 O come, let us worship and fall[6] down: and[7] kneel before the Lord our Maker.[h]

7 For he is the Lord our God[i]: and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand.[j]

8 To-day if ye will hear his voice,[k] harden not your hearts[8l]: as in the provocation,[9] and as in the day of temptation in the wilderness;

9 When your fathers tempted me: proved me, and saw my works.[1m]

10 Forty years long was I grieved with this generation,[n] and said: It is a people that do err in their hearts, for[2] they have not known my ways[o];

7 Ascribe[2] unto the Lord, O ye kindreds of the people[j]: ascribe[2] unto the Lord worship and power.[3k]

8 Ascribe[2] unto the Lord the honour[4] due unto his name[l]: bring presents,[5] and come into his courts.[m]

[Proper Psalm for Ash-Wednesday.—See 130 Ps]

1 my cry 3 in the day when 4 answer 5 speedily 6 as an hearth. 7 By reason of 8 skin.

HEAR my prayer, O Lord : and let my crying[1] come unto thee.[a] a 4 Ps. 1.
2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my[2] trouble[b] : incline thine ear unto me when[3] I call ; O hear[4] me, and that right soon.[5c] 2 day when I am in b 34 Job 29. c 70 Ps. 5.
3 For my days are consumed away like smoke[d] : and my bones are burnt up as it were a fire-brand.[6e] d 119 Ps. 83. e 30 Job 30.
4 My heart is smitten down, and withered like grass[f] : so that I forget to eat my bread.[g] f 40 Is. 8. g 10 Ezr. 6.
5 For[7] the voice of my groaning : my bones will scarce cleave to my flesh.[8h] h 19 Job 20.

6 I am become like a pelican in[9] the wilderness[i]: and like an owl that is in[5] the desert.[j]

7 I have watched,[1k] and am even as it were a sparrow: that sitteth alone upon the house-top.[l]

8 Mine enemies revile[2] me all the day long[m]: and they that are mad upon me,[3] are sworn together against me.[n]

9 For I have eaten ashes as it were[4] bread[o]: and mingled my drink with weeping[p];

10 And that because of thine indignation and wrath[q]: for thou hast taken[5] me up, and cast me down.[r]

11 My days are gone like a shadow[6s]: and I am withered like grass.[t]

12 But thou, O Lord, shalt endure for ever[u]: and thy remembrance throughout[7] all generations.[v]

13 Thou shalt arise, and have mercy upon Sion: for it is time that thou have mercy upon[8] her, yea, the[9] time is come.[w]

14 And why? thy[1] servants think upon[2] her stones, and it pitieth them to see her in the dust.[3x]

15 The[4] heathen shall fear thy[5] name, O[6] Lord: and all the kings of the earth thy Majesty[7y];

16 When the Lord shall build up Sion[z]: and when[8] his glory shall[9] appear[a];

17 When he turneth him unto[1] the prayer of the poor destitute: and despiseth not their desire.[2b]

18 This shall be written for those that[3] come after[c]: and the people which shall be born[4] shall praise the Lord.[d]

19 For he hath looked down from his[5] sanctuary: out of the[6] heaven did the Lord behold the earth[e];

20 That he might hear the mournings of such as are in captivity[7f]: and deliver the children[8] appointed unto death[g];

8 to loose those that are

21 That they may declare the name of the Lord in Sion: and his worship at[9] Jerusalem[h];

22 When the people are gathered together: and the kingdoms also, to serve the Lord.[i]

23 He brought down[1] my strength in my journey[2]: and shortened my days.[j]

24 But I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of mine age[3k]: as for thy years, they endure[4] throughout all generations.[l]

25 Thou, Lord, in the beginning[5] hast laid the foundation of the earth[m]: and the heavens are the work of thy hands.[n]

26 They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: they all[6] shall wax old as[7] doth a garment[o],

4 He[3] maketh his angels spirits : and his ministers a flaming fire.[h]

5 He[3] laid the foundations of the earth[1] : that it never

6 Thou coveredst it with the deep like as with a garment : the waters stand in the hills.[7k]

33 I will sing unto the Lord as long as I live: I will praise[4] my God while I have my being.[x]

34 And so shall my words please him[5y]: my joy shall be[6] in the Lord.[z]

Morning Prayer.

PSALM CV.

1 make known his deeds among the people. 2 Sing unto 3 Sing psalms unto 4 talk ye

O GIVE thanks unto the Lord, and call upon his name[a] : tell the people what things he hath done.[1b]

2 O let your songs be of[2] him, and praise[3] him : and let your talking be[4] of all his wondrous works.[c]

3 herbs grass[3] in their land, and devoured the fruit of their ground.[u]

4 also all 35 He smote all[4] the first-born in their land: even the chief of all their strength.[v]

Evening Prayer.

PSALM cvi. Praise ye the LORD.

O GIVE thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious[1] : and[2] his mercy endureth for ever.[a]

2 Who can express[3] the noble[4] acts of the Lord : or[5] shew forth all his praise[6]?

3 Blessed are they that alway keep judgement : and do[6] righteousness.[c]

4 Remember me, O Lord, according to[7] the favour that thou bearest unto thy people[d] : O visit me with thy salvation[e];

5 That I may see the felicity[8] of thy chosen : and rejoice in the gladness of thy people,[9] and give thanks[1] with thine inheritance.[f]

6 We have sinned with our fathers : we have done amiss, and dealt[2] wickedly.[g]

7 Our fathers regarded[3] not thy wonders in Egypt,[h] neither kept they thy great goodness in remembrance[4] : but were disobedient[5] at the sea, even at the Red Sea.[j]

8 Nevertheless, he helped[6] them for his name's sake : that he might make his[7] power to be known.[k]

9 He rebuked the Red Sea also, and it was dried up : so he led them through the deep, as through a wilderness.[l]

10 And he saved them from the adversary's hand[8][m] : and delivered[9] them from the hand of the enemy.[n]

11 As for those that troubled them, the waters overwhelmed them[1] : there was not one of them left.[o]

12 Then believed they his words : and sang praise unto him.[2][p]

2 they sang his praise.

13 But within a while[3] they forgat his works[q] : and would not abide[4] his counsel.[r]

14 But lust came upon them[5] in the wilderness : and they tempted God in the desert.[s]

15 And he gave them their desire[6] : and[7] sent leanness withal into their soul.[t]

16 They angered[8] Moses also in the tents[9][u] : and Aaron the saint of the Lord.[v]

17 So the earth opened, and swallowed up Dathan : and covered the congregation[1] of Abiram.[w]

18 And the fire was kindled in their company : the flame burnt up the ungodly.[2][x]

19 They made a calf in Horeb : and worshipped the molten image.[y]

20 Thus they turned[3] their glory[z] : into the similitude of a calf[4] that eateth hay.[5][a]

21 And they forgat[b] God their Saviour[c] : who had done so great things in Egypt[d];

1 despised the 2 they believed not 24 Yea, they thought scorn of that[1] pleasant land[j] : and gave no credence unto[2] his word[k];

3 Therefore he lifted 26 Then lift he[3] up his hand against them[n] : to overthrow them in the wilderness;

29 Thus they provoked him to anger with their own 7 brake in upon inventions[r] : and the plague was great among[7] them.[s]

8 executed judgment : 30 Then stood up Phinees, and prayed[9] : and so 9 was stayed. the plague ceased.[9t]

31 And that was counted unto him for righteous-1 unto all generations ness : among all posterities[1] for evermore.[u]

2 it went ill with 32 They angered him also at the waters of strife[v] : so that he punished[2] Moses for their sakes[w];

33 Because they provoked his spirit : so that he spake unadvisedly with his lips.[x]

3 They did not destroy the nations : 4 concerning whom 34 Neither destroyed they the heathen[3y] : as[4] the Lord commanded them[z];

35 But were mingled among the heathen : and learned their works.[a]

5 And they served 6 were a snare unto them, 36 Insomuch that they worshipped[5] their idols, which turned to their own decay[6b] : yea, they offered[7] their sons and their daughters unto devils[c];

7 sacrificed 8 polluted 37 And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters : whom they offered[7] unto the idols of Canaan[d]; and the land was defiled[8] with blood.[e]

9 defiled 38 Thus were they stained[9] with their own works[f] : and went a whoring with their own inventions.[g]

39 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people[h] : insomuch that he abhorred his own inheritance.[i]

2 they were brought into subjection under their hand. 40 And he gave them over into the hand of the heathen : and they that hated them were lords[1] over them.[j]

O GIVE thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious: and[1] his mercy endureth for ever.[a]

2 Let them give thanks[2] whom the Lord hath redeemed[b]: and delivered[3] from the hand of the enemy[c];

3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the east, and from the west: from the north, and from the south.[4d]

4 They went astray[5] in the wilderness out of the[6] way: and[7] found no city to dwell in[e];

5 Hungry and thirsty: their soul fainted in them.[f]

6 So[8] they cried unto the Lord in their trouble: and he delivered them from their distress.[g]

7 He led them forth by the right way[h]: that they might go to the city where they dwelt.[9i]

8 O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodness: and declare the wonders that he doeth for[1] the children of men[j]!

9 For he satisfieth the empty[2] soul: and filleth the hungry soul with goodness[k];

10 Such as sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death[l]: being fast bound in misery[3] and iron[m];

11 Because they rebelled against the words of the Lord[4]: and lightly regarded[5] the counsel of the most High*est*[n];

12 He also[6] brought down their heart through heaviness[7o]: they fell down, and there was none to help them.[p]

13 So when[8] they cried unto the Lord in their trouble: he delivered[9] them out of their distress.[q]

14 For he brought them out of darkness, and out of the shadow of death[r]: and brake their bonds in sunder.[s]

15 O that men would therefore praise the Lord for

THE TWENTY-FIFTH DAY.

Morning Prayer.

TEACH me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes[a] : and I shall keep it unto the end.[b]

34 Give me understanding, and I shall keep thy law[c] : yea, I shall keep[1] it with my whole heart.[d]

1 observe

35 Make me to go in the path of thy commandments[e] : for therein is my desire.[2f]

2 do I delight.

36 Incline my heart unto thy testimonies[g] : and not to covetousness.[h]

37 O turn away[3] mine eyes, lest they behold[4] vanity[t] : and quicken thou me in thy way.[j]

38 O stablish thy word in[5] thy servant : that I may fear thee.[6k]

39 Take[7] away the rebuke that I am afraid of[8l] : for thy judgements are good.

40 Behold, my delight is in thy commandments[9m] : O quicken me in thy righteousness.

LET thy loving mercy[1] come also unto me, O Lord : even thy salvation, according unto thy word.[a] 42 So shall I make[2] answer unto my blasphemers[b] : for my[3] trust is in thy word.

43 O[4] take not the word of thy truth utterly out of my mouth[c] : for my hope is[5] in thy judgements.[d]

44 So shall I alway[6] keep thy law : yea, for ever and ever.[e]

45 And I will walk at liberty[7f] : for I seek thy commandments.[8g]

46 I will speak of thy testimonies also, even before kings : and will not be ashamed.[h]

47 And my delight shall be[9] in thy commandments : which I have loved.[i]

48 My hands also will I lift up[j] unto thy commandments, which I have loved : and my study shall be[1] in thy statutes.[k]

OTHINK upon[1] thy servant, as concerning thy word[a] : wherein thou hast caused me to put my trust.[3b]

THE TWENTY-NINTH DAY

Morning Prayer.

PSALM CXXXIX. A Psalm of David.

O LORD, thou hast searched me out, and known me[a]: thou knowest my down-sitting, and mine uprising,[b] thou understandest my thoughts long before.[1c]

1 afar off.
2 compassest Or winnowest

2 Thou art about[2] my path, and about my bed[3]: and spiest out[4] all my ways.[d]

3 lying down:

3 For lo, there is not a word in my tongue: but thou, O Lord, knowest it altogether.[e]

4 art acquainted with

4 Thou hast fashioned[5] me behind and before[f] : and laid thine hand upon me.[g]

5 Such knowledge is too wonderful and excellent for me : I[6] cannot attain unto it.[h]

6 Whither shall I go then from thy Spirit : or whither shall I go[7] then from thy presence[i] ?

7 If I climb[8] up into heaven,[j] thou art there : if I go down to[9] hell, thou[1] art there also.[k]

8 If I take the wings of the morning[l] : and remain[2] in the uttermost parts of the sea[m] ;

9 Even there also shall thy hand lead me : and thy right hand shall hold me.[n]

10 If I say, Peradventure[3] the darkness shall cover me : then shall my night be turned to day.[4o]

11 Yea, the darkness is no darkness with[5] thee, but the night is as clear[6] as the day : the darkness and light to thee are both alike.[p]

12 For my reins are thine[7] : thou hast covered me in my mother's womb.[q]

13 I will give thanks unto[8] thee, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made : marvellous are thy works, and that my soul knoweth right well.[r]

14 My bones are[9] not hid from thee : though I be made secretly,[s] and fashioned[t] beneath in[1] the earth.[u]

15 Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being imperfect : and in thy book were all my members written[v] ;

16 Which day by day[2] were fashioned : when as yet there was none of them.

17 How dear[3] are thy counsels[4] unto me, O God[w] : O how great is the sum of them !

18 If I tell[5] them, they are more in number than the sand[x] : when I wake up, I am present[6] with thee.[y]

19 Wilt thou not[7] slay the wicked, O God[z] : depart from me, ye blood-thirsty[8] men.[a] 20 For they speak unrighteously[9] against thee[b] : and thine enemies take thy name in vain.[c]

22 Yea, I hate them right sore[1] : even as though they were[2] mine enemies.[e]

23 Try[3] me O God, and seek the ground of[4] my heart : prove[5] me, and examine[6] my thoughts.[f]

24 Look well[6] if there be any way of wickedness[7] in me[g] : and lead me in the way everlasting.[h]

TO BE USED AT SEA.

The Morning and Evening Service to be used daily at Sea, shall be the same which is appointed in the Book of Common Prayer.
These two following Prayers are to be also used in Her Majesty's Navy every day.

(333.)

O ETERNAL Lord God,[a] who alone spreadest out the heavens,[b] and rulest the raging of the sea[c]; who hast compassed the waters with bounds until day and night come to an end[d]; Be pleased to receive into thy Almighty and most gracious protection the persons of us thy servants, and the fleet in which we serve.[e] Preserve us from the dangers of the sea,[f] and from the violence of the enemy[g]; that we may be a safeguard unto our most gracious Sovereign Lady Queen VICTORIA[h] and her dominions,[i] and a security for such as pass on the seas upon their lawful occasions; that the inhabitants of our Island may in peace and quietness serve thee our God[k]; and that we may return in safety to enjoy the blessings of the land, with the fruits of our labours,[l] and with a thankful remembrance of thy mercies to praise and glorify thy holy name,[m] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

(334.)

O MOST powerful and glorious Lord God, at whose command the winds blow,[a] and lift up the waves of the sea,[b] and who stillest the rage thereof[c]; We thy creatures, but miserable sinners,[d] do in this our great distress cry unto thee for help[e]: Save, Lord, or else we perish.[f] We confess, when we have been safe, and seen all things quiet about us, we have forgot thee our God,[g] and refused to hearken to the still voice of thy word,[h] and to obey thy commandments[i]: But now we see, how terrible thou art in all thy works of wonder[j]; the great God to be feared above all[k]: And therefore we adore thy divine Majesty,[l] acknowledging thy power, and imploring thy goodness.[m] Help, Lord, and save us for thy mercies sake in Jesus Christ thy Son, our Lord.[n] Amen.

Or this.

O MOST glorious and gracious Lord God, who dwellest in heaven, but beholdest all things below[o]; Look down, we beseech thee, and hear us,[p] calling out of the depth of misery,[q] and out of the jaws of this death, which is ready now to swallow us up[r]: Save Lord, or else we perish.[s] The living, the living shall praise thee.[t] O send thy word of command to rebuke the raging winds, and the roaring sea[u]; that we, being delivered from this distress, may live to serve thee, and to glorify thy name all the days of our life.[v] Hear, Lord, and save us, for the infinite merits of our blessed Saviour, thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ.[w] Amen.

The Prayer to be said before a Fight at Sea against any Enemy.

(335.) O MOST powerful and glorious Lord God, the Lord of hosts, that rulest and commandest all things[a]; Thou sittest in the throne judging right,[b] and therefore we make our address to thy divine Majesty in this our necessity,[c] that thou wouldest take the cause into thine own hand,[d] and judge between us and our enemies.[e] Stir up thy strength, O Lord,[f] and come and help us[g]; for thou givest not alway the battle to the strong,[h] but canst save by many or by few.[h] O let not our sins now cry against us for vengeance[i]; but hear us thy poor servants begging mercy,[j] and imploring thy help, and that thou wouldest be a defence unto us against the face of the enemy.[k] Make it appear that thou art our Saviour and mighty Deliverer,[l] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THANKSGIVING AFTER A STORM.

OBE joyful in God, all ye lands[a]: sing praises unto the honour of his name, make his praise to be glorious.[b]

Say unto God, O how wonderful art thou in thy works[c]: through the greatness of thy power shall thine enemies be found liars unto thee.[d]

For all the world shall worship thee[e]: sing of thee, and praise thy name.[f]

O come hither, and behold the works of God[g]: how wonderful he is in his doing toward the children of men.[h]

He turned the sea into dry land: so that they went through the water on foot[i]; there did we rejoice thereof.[j]

He ruleth with his power for ever[k]; his eyes behold the people[l]: and such as will not believe shall not be able to exalt themselves.[m]

O praise our God, ye people: and make the voice of his praise to be heard[n];

Who holdeth our soul in life[o]: and suffereth not our feet to slip.[p]

For thou, O God, hast proved us[q]: thou also hast tried us, like as silver is tried.[r]

Thou broughtest us into the snare[s]: and laidest trouble upon our loins.[t]

Thou sufferedst men to ride over our heads: we Confitemini Domino. Psalm cvii.

O GIVE thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious[h]: and his mercy endureth for ever.[i]

Let them give thanks whom the Lord hath redeemed[j]: and delivered from the hand of the enemy[k];

And gathered them out of the lands, from the east, and from the west: from the north, and from the south.[l]

They went astray in the wilderness out of the way[m]: and found no city to dwell in[n];

Hungry and thirsty: their soul fainted in them.[o]

So they cried unto the Lord in their trouble[p]: and he delivered them from their distress.[q]

He led them forth by the right way[r]: that they might go to the city where they dwelt.[s]

O that[t] men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodness[u]: and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men[v]!

For he satisfieth the empty soul: and filleth the hungry soul with goodness.[w]

Such as sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death[x]; being fast bound in misery and iron[y];

Because they rebelled against the words of the Lord: and lightly regarded the counsel of the most High[z];

(340.)

He also brought down their heart through heaviness[a]: they fell down, and there was none to help them up.[b]

So when they cried unto the Lord in their trouble : he delivered them out of their distress.[c]

For he brought them out of darkness,[d] and out of the shadow of death : and brake their bonds in sunder.[e]

O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodness : and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men[f]!

For he hath broken the gates of brass : and smitten the bars of iron in sunder.[g]

Foolish[h] men are plagued for their offence : and because of their wickedness.[i]

Their soul abhorred all manner of meat[j] : and they were even hard at death's door.[k]

So when they cried unto the Lord in their trouble : he delivered them out of their distress.[l]

He sent his word, and healed them[m] : and they were saved from their destruction.[n]

O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodness : and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men[o];

That they would offer unto him the sacrifice of thanksgiving[p] : and tell out his works with gladness[q]!

They that go down to the sea in ships[r] : and occupy their business in great waters;

These men see the works of the Lord : and his wonders in the deep.[s]

For at his word the stormy wind ariseth[t] : which lifteth up the waves thereof.[u]

They are carried up to the heaven, and down again to the deep[v] : their soul melteth away because of the trouble.[w]

They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man[x] : and are at their wit's end.[y]

So when they cry unto the Lord in their trouble : he delivereth them out of their distress.[z]

(341.)

For he maketh the storm to cease : so that the waves thereof are still.[a]

Then are they glad, because they are at rest : and so he bringeth them unto the haven where they would be.[b]

O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodness : and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men[c]!

That they would exalt him also in the congregation of the people[d] : and praise him in the seat of the elders[e]!

Who turneth the floods into a wilderness[f] : and drieth up the water-springs.[g]

An Hymn of Praise and Thanksgiving after a dangerous Tempest.

(343.) O COME, let us give thanks unto the Lord, for he is gracious: and his mercy endureth for ever.[a] Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised[b]; let the redeemed of the Lord say so[c]: whom he hath delivered from the merciless rage of the sea.[d] The Lord is gracious and full of compassion: slow to anger, and of great mercy.[e] He hath not dealt with us according to our sins: neither rewarded us according to our iniquities.[f] But as the heaven is high above the earth: so great hath been his mercy towards us.[g] We found trouble and heaviness[h]: we were even at death's door.[i] The waters of the sea had well-nigh covered us: the proud waters had well-nigh gone over our soul.[j] The sea roared: and the stormy wind lifted up the waves thereof[k]; We were carried up, as it were, to heaven, and then down again into the deep: our soul melted within us, because of trouble[l]; Then cried we unto thee, O Lord: and thou didst deliver us out of our distress.[m] Blessed be thy name, who didst not despise the prayer of thy servants: but didst hear our cry, and hast saved us.[n] Thou didst send forth thy commandment: and the windy storm ceased, and was turned into a calm.[o] O let us therefore praise the Lord for his goodness: and declare the wonders that he hath done, and still doeth for the children of men.[p] Praised be the Lord daily: even the Lord that helpeth us, and poureth his benefits upon us.[q]

THE FORM AND MANNER

OF

MAKING, ORDAINING, AND CONSECRATING OF BISHOPS, PRIESTS, AND DEACONS,

ACCORDING TO THE ORDER OF

The United Church of England and Ireland.

THE PREFACE.

IT is evident unto all men diligently reading holy Scripture and ancient authors, that from the apostles' time there have been these Orders of Ministers in Christ's Church; Bishops, Priests, and Deacons. Which offices were evermore had in such reverend estimation, that no man might presume to execute any of them, except he were first called, tried, examined, and known to have such qualities as are requisite for the same; and also by publick prayer, with imposition of hands, were approved and admitted thereunto by lawful authority. And therefore, to the intent that these orders may be continued, and reverently used and esteemed in the United Church of England and Ireland; no man shall be accounted or taken to be a lawful Bishop, Priest, or Deacon in the United Church of England and Ireland, or suffered to execute any of the said functions, except he be called, tried, examined and admitted thereunto, according to the form hereafter following, or hath had formerly Episcopal Consecration, or Ordination.

And none shall be admitted a Deacon, except he be Twenty-three years of age, unless he have a faculty. And every man which is to be admitted a Priest, shall be full Four and twenty years old. And every man which is to be ordained or consecrated Bishop, shall be fully Thirty years of age.

And the Bishop knowing either by himself, or by sufficient testimony, any person to be a man of virtuous conversation, and without crime, and after examination and trial, finding him learned in the Latin tongue, and sufficiently instructed in holy Scripture, may at the times appointed in the Canon, or else on urgent occasion, upon some other Sunday or Holy-day, in the face of the Church, admit him a Deacon, in such manner and form as hereafter followeth.

THE FORM AND MANNER OF MAKING OF DEACONS.

When the day appointed by the Bishop is come, after Morning Prayer is ended, there shall be a sermon or exhortation, declaring the duty and office of such as come to be admitted Deacons; how necessary that order is in the Church of Christ, and also, how the people ought to esteem them in their office.

First the Archdeacon, or his deputy, shall present unto the Bishop (sitting in his chair, near to the holy table) such as desire to be ordained Deacons; (each of them being decently habited,) saying these words,

(346.) REVEREND Father[a] in God, I present unto you these persons present to be admitted Deacons.[b]

The Bishop.

TAKE heed that the persons whom ye present unto us, be apt and meet,[c] for their learning and godly conversation,[d] to exercise their ministry duly, to the honour of God, and the edifying of his Church.[e]

The Archdeacon shall answer,

I HAVE enquired of them, and also examined them, and think them so to be.[f]

Then the Bishop shall say unto the people,

BRETHREN, if there be any of you who knoweth any impediment or notable crime in any of these persons presented to be ordered Deacons, for the which he ought not to be admitted to that office, let him come forth in the name of God, and shew what the crime or impediment is.[g]

And if any great crime or impediment be objected, the Bishop shall surcease from ordering that person, until such time as the party accused shall be found clear of that crime.

Then the Bishop (commending such as shall be found meet to be ordered, to the prayers of the congregation) shall, with the Clergy and people present, sing or say the Litany, with the prayers, as followeth.

And before the Gospel, the Bishop, sitting in his chair, shall cause the Oath of the Queen's Supremacy, and against the power and authority of all foreign Potentates, to be ministered unto every one of them that are to be Ordered.

The Oath of the Queen's Sovereignty.

I *A. Then shall the Bishop examine every one of them that are to be Ordered, in the presence of the people, after this manner following.

(356.) DO you trust that you are inwardly moved by the holy Ghost,[a] to take upon you this Office and Ministration,[b] to serve God for the promoting of his glory,[c] and the edifying of his people[d]?

Answer. I trust so.

The Bishop. Do you think that you are truly called[e] according to the will of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the due order of this Realm, to the Ministry of the Church[f]?

Answer. I think so.

The Bishop. Do you unfeignedly believe all the Canonical Scriptures of the Old and New Testament[h]?

Answer. I do believe them.

The Bishop. Will you diligently read the same unto the people assembled in the Church where you shall be appointed to serve[i]?

Answer. I will.

And furthermore, it is his Office, where provision is so made, to search for the sick, poor and impotent people of the parish,[n] to intimate their estates, names, and places where they dwell, unto the Curate, that by his exhortation[o] they may be relieved with the alms of the parishioners or others. Will you do this gladly and willingly[p]?

Answer. I will so do by the help of God.[q]

Answer. I will endeavour myself,[i] the Lord being my helper.

Then the Bishop laying his hands[j] severally upon the head of every one of them, humbly kneeling before him, shall say,

TAKE thou authority to execute the Office of a Deacon in the Church of God committed unto thee[k]; In the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the holy Ghost.[l] Amen.

Then shall the Bishop deliver to every one of them the New Testament, saying,

And here it must be declared unto the Deacon, that he must continue in that Office of a Deacon the space of a whole year (except for reasonable causes it shall otherwise seem good unto the Bishop) to the intent he may be perfect, and well expert in the things appertaining to the Ecclesiastical administration. In executing whereof, if he be found faithful and diligent, he may be admitted by his Diocesan to the Order of Priesthood, at the times appointed in the Canon; or else on urgent occasion, upon some other Sunday, or Holy-day, in the face of the Church, in such manner and form as hereafter followeth.

THE FORM AND MANNER OF ORDERING OF PRIESTS.

When the day appointed by the Bishop is come, after Morning Prayer is ended, there shall be a Sermon or Exhortation, declaring the Duty and Office of such as come to be admitted Priests; how necessary that Order is in the Church of Christ; and also how the people ought to esteem them in their Office.

First the Archdeacon, or in his absence, one appointed in his stead, shall present unto the Bishop sitting in his chair near to the holy Table, all them that shall receive the Order of Priesthood that day (each of them being decently habited) and say, (359.) REVEREND Father in God,[a] I present unto you these persons present, to be admitted to the Order of Priesthood. a 5 ii Ki. 13. See 377 f.

The Bishop.

TAKE heed that the persons whom ye present unto us be apt and meet, for their learning[b] and godly conversation,[c] to exercise their Ministry duly, to the honour of God[d] and the edifying of his Church.[e] b 3 ii Ti. 14, 15. c 2 Mal. 6, 7; 1 Ph. f. 27. d cf. 25 Nu. 11-13. e cf. 13 i Ki. 33, 34.

The Archdeacon shall answer,

I HAVE enquired of them, and also examined them, and think them so to be.[f] f iii Jo. 12.

Then the Bishop shall say unto the people,

GOOD people, these are they whom we purpose, God willing, to receive this day unto the holy Office of Priesthood[g]: For after due examination we find not to the contrary, but that they be lawfully called to their Function and Ministry, and that they be persons meet for the same.[h] But yet if there be any of you who knoweth any impediment or notable crime in any of them, for the which he ought not to be received into this holy Ministry, let him come forth in the name of God,[i] and shew what the crime or impediment is.[j] g cf. 8 Le. 1-5. h cf. 132 Ps. f. 9. i cf. 5 i Co. 4, 5. j See 346 a-g.

And if any great crime or impediment be objected, the Bishop shall surcease from Ordering that person, until such time as the party accused shall be found clear of that crime.

Then the Bishop (commending such, as shall be found meet to be Ordered, to the prayers of the congregation) shall, with the Clergy and people present, sing, or say the Litany, with the prayers, as is before appointed in the Form of Ordering Deacons; save only that in the proper Suffrage there added, the word [Deacons] shall be omitted, and the word [Priests] inserted instead of it.

Then shall be sung or said the Service for the Communion; with the Collect, Epistle, and Gospel, as followeth.

The Collect.

ALMIGHTY God, giver of all good things, who by thy holy Spirit hast appointed divers Orders of Ministers in the Church, mercifully behold these thy servants now called to the Office of Priesthood, and replenish them so with the truth of thy doctrine,[k] and adorn them with innocency of life,[l] that both by word and good example[m] they may faithfully serve thee in this Office,[n] to the glory of thy name,[o] and the edification of thy Church,[p] through the merits of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with thee and the holy Ghost, world without end. Amen.

The Epistle. Ephes. iv. 7-13.

(360.) UNTO every one of us is given grace,[a] according to the measure of the gift of Christ.[b] Wherefore he saith,[c] When he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive,[d] and gave gifts unto men.[e] (Now that he ascended, what is it, but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth[f]? He that descended, is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens,[g] that he might fill all things.[h]) And he gave some apostles,[i] and some prophets,[j] and some evangelists,[k] and some pastors[l] and teachers[m]; for the perfecting of the saints,[n] for the work of the ministry,[o] for the edifying of the body of Christ[p]; till we all come in the unity of the faith,[q] and of the knowledge of the Son of God,[r] unto a perfect man,[s] unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ.[t]

After this shall be read for the Gospel part of the ninth Chapter of Saint Matthew, as followeth.

St. Matth. ix. 36-38.

WHEN Jesus saw the multitudes,[u] he was moved with compassion on them,[v] because they fainted, and were scattered abroad,[w] as sheep having no shepherd.[x] Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous,[y] but the labourers are few.[z] Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.[aa]

Or else this that followeth out of the tenth Chapter of Saint John.

St. John x. 1-16.

(361.) VERILY verily I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheep-fold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.[a] But he that entereth in by the door, is the shepherd of the sheep.[b] To him the porter openeth,[c] and the sheep hear his voice[d]; and he calleth his own sheep by name,[e] and leadeth them out.[f] And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them,[g] and the sheep follow him; for they know his voice.[h] And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him[i]; for they know not the voice of strangers.[j] This parable spake Jesus unto them, but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.[k] Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily verily I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep.[l] All that ever came before me, are thieves and robbers[m]; but the sheep did not hear them. I am the door[n], by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture.[o] The thief cometh not but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy[p]: I am come that they might have life,[q] and that they might have it more abundantly.[r] I am the good Shepherd[s]: the good Shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.[t] But he that is an hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not,[u] seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth; and the wolf[v] catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep. The hireling fleeth because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheep.[w] I am the good Shepherd, and know my sheep,[x] and am known of mine.[y] As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father[z]; and I lay down my life for the sheep.[aa] And other sheep I have which are not of this fold[bb]: them also I must bring,[cc] and they shall hear my voice[dd]; and there shall be one fold, and one Shepherd.[ee]

Then the Bishop sitting in his chair shall minister unto every one of them the oath concerning the Queen's Supremacy, as it is before set forth in the Form for the Ordering of Deacons.

And that done, he shall say unto them as hereafter followeth.

(362.) YOU have heard, brethren, as well in your private examination, as in the exhortation which was now made to you, and in the holy Lessons taken out of the gospel, and the writings of the apostles, of what dignity, and of how great importance this office is, whereunto ye are called.[a] And now again[b] we exhort you in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you have in remembrance into how high a dignity,[c] and to how weighty an office and charge ye are called[d]: that is to say, to be messengers,[e] watchmen,[f] and stewards[g] of the Lord; to teach[h] and to premonish,[i] to feed and provide for[j] the Lord's family[k]; to seek for[l] Christ's sheep that are dispersed abroad,[m] and for his children who are in the midst of this naughty world,[n] that they may be saved through Christ for ever.[o]

(363.) Have always therefore printed in your remembrance, how great a treasure[a] is committed to your charge. For they are the sheep of Christ, which he bought with his death, and for whom he shed his blood.[b] The Church and Congregation whom you must serve, is his spouse,[c] and his body.[d] And if it shall happen the same Church, or any member thereof to take any hurt or hindrance by reason of your negligence, ye know the greatness of the fault, and also the horrible punishment that will ensue.[e] Wherefore consider with yourselves the end of your ministry towards the children of God,[f] towards the spouse and body of Christ[g]; and see that you never cease your labour, your care and diligence,[h] until you have done all that lieth in you, according to your bounden duty,[i] to bring all such as are or shall be committed to your charge, unto that agreement[j] in the faith and knowledge of God,[k] and to that ripeness and perfectness of age in Christ,[l] that there be no place left among you, either for error in religion,[m] or for viciousness in life.[n]

Forasmuch then as your office is both of so great excellency,[a] and of so great difficulty,[b] ye see with how great care and study ye ought to apply yourselves, as well that ye may shew yourselves dutiful[c] and thankful[d] unto that Lord who hath placed you in so high a dignity[e]; as also to beware that neither you yourselves offend,[f] nor be occasion that others offend.[g] Howbeit ye cannot have a mind and will thereto of yourselves[h]; for that will and ability is given of God alone[i]: therefore ye ought, and have need, to pray earnestly[j] for his holy Spirit.[k] And seeing that you cannot by any other means compass the doing of so weighty a work,[l] pertaining to the salvation of man,[m] but with doctrine and exhortation taken out of the holy Scriptures,[n] and with a life agreeable to the same[o]; consider how studious ye ought to be in reading and learning the Scriptures,[p] and in framing the manners both of yourselves,[q] and of them that specially pertain unto you,[r] according to the rule of the same Scriptures: and for this self-same cause, how ye ought to forsake and set aside (as much as you may) all worldly cares and studies.[s]

We have good hope that you have well weighed and pondered these things with yourselves long before this time[a]; and that you have clearly determined, by God's grace, to give yourselves wholly to this office,[b] whereunto it hath pleased God to call you: so that, as much as lieth in you, you will apply yourselves wholly to this one thing,[c] and draw all your cares and studies this way[d]; and that you will continually pray to God the Father, by the mediation of our only Saviour Jesus Christ,[e] for the heavenly assistance of the holy Ghost[f]; that by daily reading and weighing of the Scriptures,[g] ye may wax riper and stronger in your ministry,[h] and that ye may so endeavour yourselves from time to time, to sanctify the lives of you and yours,[i] and to fashion them after the rule and doctrine of Christ,[j] that ye may be wholesome and godly examples and patterns for the people to follow.[k]

And now that this present congregation of Christ here assembled, may also understand your minds and wills in these things,[l] and that this your promise may the more move you to do your duties,[m] ye shall answer plainly to these things, which we in the name of God, and of his Church, shall demand of you touching the same.

DO you think in your heart that you be truly called, according to the will of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the order of this United Church of England and Ireland, to the Order and Ministry of Priesthood[n]?

Answer. I think it.

(366.) The Bishop. Are you persuaded[a] that the holy Scriptures contain sufficiently all doctrine required of necessity for eternal salvation through faith in Jesus Christ? And are you determined out of the said Scriptures to instruct the people committed to your charge, and to teach nothing (as required of necessity to eternal salvation[b]) but that which you shall be persuaded may be concluded and proved by the Scripture[c]?

Answer. I am so persuaded,[d] and have so determined by God's grace.

The Bishop. Will you then give your faithful diligence[e] always so to minister the doctrine and Sacraments,[f] and the discipline of Christ, as the Lord hath commanded, and as this Church and Realm hath received the same, according to the commandments of God[g]; so that you may teach the people committed to your cure and charge, with all diligence to keep and observe the same[h]?

Answer. I will so do by the help of the Lord.[i]

The Bishop. Will you be ready with all faithful diligence to banish and drive away all erroneous and strange doctrines, contrary to God's word[j]; and to use both publick and private monitions and exhorta-brethren, I commend you to God,[r] and to the word of his grace,[s] which is able to build you up,[t] and to give you an inheritance[u] among all them which are sanctified.[v] I have coveted no man's silver or gold, or apparel,[w] yea, you yourselves know, that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me.[x] I have shewed you all things,[y] how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak,[z] and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.[aa]

Then another Bishop shall read

The Gospel. St. John xxi. 15-17.

(376.) JESUS saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of Jonas,[a] lovest thou me more than these[b]? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee.[c] He saith unto him, Feed my lambs.[d] He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me[e]? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee.[f] He saith unto him, Feed my sheep.[g] He said unto him the third time,[h] Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me[i]? Peter was grieved[j] because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me[k]? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things[l]; thou knowest that I love thee.[m] Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.[n]

Or else this. St. John xx. 19-23.

THE same day[o] at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus[p] and stood in the midst,[q] and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.[r] And when he had so said, he shewed unto them his hands and his side.[s] Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord.[t] Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me,[u] even so send I you.[v] And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the holy Ghost. Whosesoever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them[w]; and whosesoever sins ye retain, they are retained.[x]

Or this. St. Matth. xxviii. 18-20.

(377.) JESUS came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.[a] Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the holy Ghost[b]: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you[c]: and lo I am with you[d] alway, even unto the end of the world.[e]

After the Gospel, and the Nicene Creed, and the Sermon are ended, the Elected Bishop (vested with his Rochet) shall be presented by two Bishops unto the Archbishop of that province (or to some other Bishop appointed by lawful commission) the Archbishop sitting in his chair near the holy table, and the Bishops that present him saying,

MOST Reverend Father[f] in God, we present unto you this godly and well-learned man,[g] to be Ordained and Consecrated Bishop. f 6 ii Ki. 21. See 346*a*. g See 346 e-e.

Then shall the Archbishop demand the Queen's Mandate for the Consecration, and cause it to be read. And the Oath touching the acknowledgement of the Queen's Supremacy, shall be ministered to the persons elected, as it is set down before in the Form for the Ordering of Deacons. And then shall also be ministered unto them the Oath of due obedience to the Archbishop, as followeth.

The Oath of due Obedience to the Archbishop.

IN the Name of God. Amen. I N. chosen Bishop of the Church and See of N. do profess and promise all due reverence and obedience to the Archbishop, and to the Metropolitical Church of N. and to their successors[h]; So help me God, through Jesus Christ. h cf. 19 ii Ch. f. 11. See 357 g,h.

This Oath shall not be made at the Consecration of an Archbishop.

Then the Archbishop shall move the Congregation present to pray, saying thus to them,

BRETHREN, it is written in the Gospel of St. Luke,[i] That our Saviour Christ continued the whole night in prayer,[j] before he did choose and send forth his twelve apostles. It is written also in the Acts of the Apostles,[k] That the disciples who were at Antioch, did fast and pray before they laid hands on Paul and Barnabas, and sent them forth. Let us therefore, following the example of our Saviour Christ[l] and his apostles,[m] first fall to prayer,[n] before we admit and send forth this person presented unto us, to the work whereunto we trust the holy Ghost hath called him.[o] i 6 Lu. 12, &c. j cf. 32 Ge. 24. k 13 Ac. 1-3. m See 194*a,b*. & 355 m. l See 208*m*. n 36 Ez. 37; 4 Col. 2, 3; 5 i Th. 25. o See 231 h.

And then shall be said the Litany, as before, in the Form of Ordering Deacons: save only, that after this place, That it may please thee to illuminate all Bishops, &c. the proper Suffrage there following, shall be omitted, and this inserted instead of it;

(378.) THAT it may please thee to bless[a] this our brother elected,[b] and to send thy grace upon him,[c] that he may duly execute the Office whereunto he is called,[d] to the edifying of thy Church,[e] and to the honour, praise and glory of thy name[f]; a 134 Ps. 3. b cf. 65 Ps. 4. c 4 Ep. 7. d 33 De. f. 11. cf 31 Kl. 5-10. e See 354 k. f 1 ii Th. 12. g 6 ii Ch. 40-42. cf 29 Is. 23.

Answer. We beseech thee to hear us, good Lord.[g]

Then shall be said this Prayer following.

ALMIGHTY God, giver of all good things, who by thy holy Spirit hast appointed divers orders of Ministers in thy Church,[h] mercifully behold this thy servant now called to the work and Ministry of a Bishop, and replenish him so with the truth of thy doctrine,[i] and adorn him with innocency of life,[j] that both by word and deed, he may faithfully serve thee in this Office,[k] to the glory of thy name,[l] and the edifying and well-governing of thy church,[m] through the merits of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with thee and the holy Ghost, world without end.[n] Amen.

Then the Archbishop, sitting in his chair, shall say to him that is to be Consecrated,

BROTHER,[o] forasmuch as the holy Scripture, and the ancient Canons command, that we should not be hasty in laying on hands,[p] and admitting any person to government in the Church of Christ, which he hath purchased with no less price than the effusion of his own blood[q]; before I admit you to this administration, I will examine you in certain articles, to the end that the Congregation present may have a trial, and bear witness how you be minded to behave yourself in the Church of God.[r] q See 375 i.

ARE you persuaded that you be truly called to this Ministration, according to the will of our Lord Jesus Christ,[s] and the order of this Realm?

Answer. I am so persuaded.[t] s 1 Ro. f. 5. cf 29 Ex. 44.

t 14 Ro. l. 5.

See 356 e-g.

(379.) The Abp. Are you persuaded that the holy Scriptures contain sufficiently all doctrine required of necessity to eternal salvation through faith in Jesus Christ? And are you determined out of the same holy Scriptures to instruct the people committed to your charge; and to teach or maintain nothing as required of necessity to eternal salvation, but that which you shall be persuaded may be concluded and proved by the same[a]?

a See Art. vi. a-c.

Answer. I am so persuaded and determined by God's grace.[b] b 119 Ps. 106.

The Abp. Will you then faithfully exercise yourself in the same holy Scriptures,[c] and call upon God by prayer, for the true understanding of the same[d]; so as you may be able by them to teach and exhort with wholesome doctrine, and to withstand and convince the gainsayers[e]?

See 366 a-d.

and openly to call upon, and encourage others to the same[h]?

Answer. I am ready, the Lord being my helper.[i]

The Abp. Will you deny all ungodliness and worldly lusts, and live soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world,[j] that you may shew yourself in all things an example of good works unto others,[k] that the adversary may be ashamed,[l] having nothing to say against you[m]?

Answer. I will so do, the Lord being my helper.[n]

(380.) The Abp. Will you maintain and set forward, as much as shall lie in you, quietness, love, and peace among all men[a]; and such as be unquiet, disobedient, and criminous within your Diocese, correct and punish,[b] according to such authority as you have by God's word,[c] and as to you shall be committed by the Ordinance of this Realm?

Answer. I will so do by the help of God.[d]

The Abp. Will you be faithful in ordaining,[e] sending,[f] or laying hands[g] upon others?

Answer. I will so be by the help of God.[h]

The Abp. Will you shew yourself gentle,[i] and be merciful for Christ's sake[j] to poor and needy people,[k] and to all strangers destitute of help[l]?

Answer. I will so shew myself, by God's help.[m]

Then the Archbishop standing up, shall say.

ALMIGHTY God, our heavenly Father, who hath given you a good will to do all these things,[n] grant also unto you strength and power to perform the same[o]; that he accomplishing in you the good work which he hath begun,[p] you may be found perfect and irreprehensible at the latter day,[q] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Then shall the Bishop elect put on the rest of the Episcopal habit, [cf. 8 Le. 7-9.] and kneeling down, Veni, Creator Spiritus, shall be sung or said over him, the Archbishop beginning, and the Bishops, with others that are present, answering by verses, as followeth.

(381.)

Proceeding from above, &c.[r]

As before in the Form of Ordering Priests.

That ended, the Archbishop shall say,

Lord, hear our prayer.
Answer. And let our cry come unto thee.[s]

Let us pray.

(382.) ALMIGHTY God, and most merciful Father, who of thine infinite goodness hast given thy only and dearly beloved Son Jesus Christ, to be our Redeemer, and the author of everlasting life[a]; who after that he had made perfect our redemption by his death,[b] and was ascended into heaven,[c] poured down his gifts abundantly upon men, making some apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, some pastors and doctors, to the edifying and making perfect his Church[d]; Grant, we beseech thee, to this thy servant such grace, that he may evermore be ready to spread abroad thy gospel,[e] the glad tidings[f] of reconciliation with thee[g]; and use the authority given him, not to destruction, but to salvation[h]; not to hurt, but to help[i]; so that as a wise and faithful servant, giving to thy family their portion in due season,[j] he may at last be received into everlasting joy,[k] through Jesus Christ our Lord, who, with thee and the holy Ghost liveth and reigneth one God, world without end. Amen.

Then the Archbishop and Bishops present shall lay their hands upon the head of the elected Bishop, kneeling before them upon his knees, the Archbishop saying,

(383.) RECEIVE the holy Ghost, for the Office and work of a Bishop in the Church of God,[a] now committed unto thee by the imposition of our hands[b]; In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the holy Ghost.[c] Amen. And remember that thou stir up the grace of God which is given thee by this imposition of our hands[d]: for God hath not given us the spirit of fear,[e] but of power,[f] and love,[g] and soberness.[h] [1 ii Ti. 7.]

FINIS.

A FORM OF

PRAYER WITH THANKSGIVING,

To be used yearly upon the Fifth Day of November,

For the happy deliverance of King JAMES I. and the three estates of England, from the most traitorous and bloody-intended massacre by gunpowder: And also for the happy arrival of his Majesty King William on this day, for the deliverance of our Church and nation.

The Minister of every Parish shall give warning to his Parishioners publickly in the Church at Morning Prayer, the Sunday before, for the due observation of the said day. And after Morning Prayer, or Preaching, upon the said Fifth Day of November, shall read publickly, distinctly, and plainly, the Act of Parliament, made in the third year of King James the First, for the observation of it.

The Service shall be the same with the usual Office for Holydays in all things; except where it is hereafter otherwise appointed.

If this day shall happen to be Sunday, only the Collect proper for that Sunday shall be added to this Office in its place.

(386.) ALMIGHTY God, who hast in all ages shewed thy power[a] and mercy[b] in the miraculous and gracious deliverances of thy Church,[c] and in the protection of righteous and religious Kings and States professing thy holy and eternal truth, from the wicked conspiracies, and malicious practices of all the enemies thereof[d]: We yield thee our unfeigned thanks and praise,[e] for the wonderful and mighty deliverance of our gracious Sovereign King James the First, the Queen, the Prince, and all the Royal Branches, with the Nobility, Clergy, and Commons of England, then assembled in Parliament, by Popish treachery appointed as sheep to the slaughter,[f] in a most barbarous and savage manner, beyond the examples of former ages. From this unnatural conspiracy, not our merit,[g] but thy mercy[h]; not our foresight, but thy providence delivered us[i]: And therefore, not unto us, O Lord, not unto us, but unto thy name be ascribed all honour and glory,[j] in all Churches of the saints, from generation to generation,[k] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

To be used yearly on the Thirtieth of January,

Being the day of the martyrdom of the blessed king Charles the first; to implore the mercy of God, that neither the guilt of that sacred and innocent blood, nor those other sins, by which God was provoked to deliver up both us and our king into the hands of cruel and unreasonable men, may at any time hereafter be visited upon us or our posterity.

If this day shall happen to be Sunday, this Form of Prayer shall be used, and the Fast kept the next day following. And upon the Lord's day next before the day to be kept, at Morning Prayer immediately after the Nicene Creed, notice shall be given for the due observation of the said day.

The service on the day shall be the same with the usual office for Holy-days in all things; except where it is in this office otherwise appointed.

(396.) SUBMIT yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake; whether it be to the king, as supreme; or unto governours, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evil-doers, and for the praise of them that do well. For so is the will of God, that with well-doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men: as free, and not using your liberty for a cloke of maliciousness, but as the servants of God. Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king.[a] Servants, be subject to your masters with all fear,[b] not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward.[c] For this is thank-worthy, if a man for conscience toward God

For what glory is it, if when ye be buffeted for your faults ye shall take it patiently? but if when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently; this is acceptable with God. The Gospel. St. Matth. xxi. 33-41.

THERE was a certain householder which planted a vineyard,[e] and hedged it round about, and digged a wine-press in it, and built a tower,[f] and let it out to husbandmen,[g] and went into a far country.[h] And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, that they might receive the fruits of it.[i] And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.[j] Again he sent other servants, more than the first: and they did unto them likewise. But last of all, he sent unto them his son,[k] saying, They will reverence my son.[l] But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is the heir, come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.[m] And they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.[n] When the lord therefore of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen[o]? They say unto him, He will miserably destroy those wicked men,[p] and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen,[q] which shall render him the fruits in their seasons.[r]

And albeit thou didst suffer them to proceed to such an height of violence as to kill him, and to take possession of his throne; yet didst thou in great mercy preserve his son,[h] whose right it was, and at length by a wonderful providence bring him back, and set him thereon, to restore thy true religion, and to settle peace amongst us: For these thy great mercies[1] we glorify thy name, through Jesus Christ our blessed Saviour. Amen.

A FORM OF
TO ALMIGHTY GOD,

For having put an end to the great Rebellion, by the restitution of the King and Royal Family, and the restoration of the government after many years' interruption; which unspeakable mercies were wonderfully completed upon the Twenty-ninth of May, in the Year 1660. And in memory thereof that day in every year is by Act of Parliament appointed to be for ever kept holy.

The Act of Parliament made in the Twelfth, and confirmed in the Thirteenth Year of King Charles the Second, for the observation of the Twenty-ninth Day of May yearly, as a day of publick Thanksgiving, is to be read publickly in all Churches at Morning Prayer, immediately after the Nicene Creed, on the Lord's-day next before every such Twenty ninth of May, and notice to be given for the due observation of the said day.

The Service shall be the same with the usual Office for Holydays; except where it is in this Office otherwise appointed.

If this day shall happen to be Ascension-day, or Whit-Sunday, the Collects of this Office are to be added to the Offices of those festivals in their proper places: If it be Monday or Tuesday in Whitsun-week, or Trinity-Sunday, the proper Psalms here appointed for this day, instead of those of ordinary course, shall be also used, and the Collects added as before; and in all these cases the rest of this Office shall be omitted: But if it shall happen to be any other Sunday, this whole Office shall be used, as it followeth, entirely. And what festival soever shall happen to fall upon this solemn Day of Thanksgiving, the following Hymn, appointed instead of Venite, exultemus, shall be constantly used.

Morning Prayer shall begin with these Sentences.

Instead of the first Collect at Morning Prayer, shall be used this following Collect of Thanksgiving for Her Majesty's Accession to the Throne.

ALMIGHTY God, who rulest over all the kingdoms of the world, and disposest of them according to thy good pleasure[b]; we yield thee unfeigned thanks, for that thou wast pleased, as on this day, to place thy Servant our Sovereign Lady Queen VICTORIA upon the Throne of this Realm.[1c] Let thy wisdom be her guide,[d] and let thine arm strengthen her[e]; let justice, truth and holiness, let peace and love, and all those virtues that adorn the Christian profession,[f] flourish in her days; direct all her counsels and endeavours to thy glory, and the welfare of her people; and give us grace to obey her cheerfully and willingly for conscience sake[g]; that neither our sinful passions, nor our private interests may disappoint her cares for the publick good; let her always possess the hearts of her people,[h] that they may never be wanting in honour to her person,[i] and dutiful submission to her authority[j]; let her reign be long and prosperous, and crown her with immortality in the life to come,[k] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

In the end of the Litany (which shall always be used upon this day) after the Collect We humbly beseech thee, O Father &c. shall the following Prayer (for the Queen and Royal Family) be used.

(408.) O LORD our God, who upholdest and governest all things in heaven and earth,[a] receive our humble prayers, with our hearty thanksgivings,[b] for our Sovereign Lady VICTORIA, as on this day, set over us by thy grace and providence to be our Queen; and so together with her bless the Prince Consort, Albert Prince of Wales, and all the Royal Family[c]; that they all, ever trusting in thy goodness, protected by thy power, and crowned with thy gracious and endless favour, may continue before thee in health, peace, joy and honour, and may live long and happy lives upon earth,[d] and after death obtain everlasting life and glory in the kingdom of heaven, by the merits and mediation of Christ Jesus our Saviour,[e] who with the Father and the holy Spirit, liveth and reigneth ever one God, world without end.[f] Amen.

Then shall follow this Collect, for God's protection of the Queen against all her enemies.

MOST gracious God, who hast set thy servant VICTORIA our Queen upon the throne of her ancestors,[g] we most humbly beseech thee to protect her on the same from all the dangers to which she may be exposed[h]; Hide her from the gathering together of the froward, and from the insurrection of wicked doers[i]; Do thou weaken the hands, blast the designs, and defeat the enterprizes of all her enemies,[j] that no secret conspiracies, nor open violences,[k] may disquiet her reign; but that, being safely kept under the shadow of thy wing,[l] and supported by thy power, she may triumph over all opposition[m]; that so the world may acknowledge thee to be her Defender and mighty Deliverer in all difficulties and adversities,[n] through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

In the Communion Service, immediately before the reading of the Epistle, instead of the Collect for the Queen, and that of the day, shall be used this Prayer for the Queen, as supreme Governour of this Church.

BLESSED Lord, who hast called Christian Princes to the defence of thy faith, and hast made it their duty to promote the spiritual welfare together with the temporal interest of their people[o]; We acknowledge with humble and thankful hearts thy great goodness to us, in setting thy Servant our most gracious Queen over this Church and nation[p]; Give her, we be-

ARTICLES

AGREED UPON BY

THE ARCHBISHOPS AND BISHOPS OF BOTH PROVINCES, AND THE WHOLE CLERGY,

In the Convocation holden at London in the year 1562, for the avoiding of diversities of opinions, and for the establishing of consent touching true religion: Reprinted by His Majesty's commandment, with his Royal Declaration prefixed thereunto.

HIS MAJESTY'S DECLARATION.

BEING by God's ordinance, according to our just title, Defender of the Faith, and Supreme Governour of the Church, within these Our Dominions, We hold it most agreeable to this our Kingly office, and our own religious zeal, to conserve and maintain the Church committed to our charge, in unity of true religion, and in the bond of peace; and not to suffer unnecessary disputations, altercations, or questions to be raised [See Homily 12, pt. 1] which may nourish faction both in the Church and Commonwealth. We have therefore, upon mature deliberation, and with the advice of so many of our Bishops as might conveniently be called together, thought fit to make this declaration following:

That the Articles of the Church of England (which have been allowed and authorized heretofore, and which our Clergy generally have subscribed unto) do contain the true doctrine of the Church of England agreeable to God's word: which we do therefore ratify and confirm, requiring all our loving subjects to continue in the uniform profession thereof, and prohibiting the least difference from the said Articles; which to that end we command to be new printed, and this our declaration to be published therewith.

That we are Supreme Governour of the Church of England: And that if any difference arise about the external policy, concerning the Injunctions, Canons, and other Constitutions whatsoever thereto belonging, the Clergy in their Convocation is to order and settle them, having first obtained leave under our broad seal so to do: and we approving their said ordinances and constitutions; providing that none be made contrary to the laws and customs of the land.

That out of our Princely care that the churchmen may do the work which is proper unto them, the Bishops and Clergy, from time to time in Convocation, upon their humble desire, shall have licence under our broad seal to deliberate of, and to do all such things, as, being made plain by them, and assented unto by us, shall concern the settled continuance of the doctrine and discipline of the Church of England now established; from which we will not endure any varying or departing in the least degree.

That for the present, though some differences have been ill raised, yet we take comfort in this, that all Clergymen within our realm have always most willingly subscribed to the Articles established; which is an argument to us, that they all agree in the true, usual, literal meaning of the said Articles; and that even in those curious points, in which the present differences lie, men of all sorts take the Articles of the Church of England to be for them; which is an argument again, that none of them intend any desertion of the Articles established.

That therefore in these both curious and unhappy differences, which have for so many hundred years, in different times and places, exercised the Church of Christ, we will, that all further curious search be laid aside, and these disputes shut up in God's promises, as they be generally set forth to us in the holy Scriptures, and the general meaning of the Articles of the Church of England according to them. And that no man hereafter shall either print, or preach, to draw the Article aside any way, but shall submit to it in the plain and full meaning thereof: and shall not put his own sense or comment to be the meaning of the Article, but shall take it in the literal and grammatical sense.

That if any publick Reader in either of our Universities, or any Head or Master of a College, or any other person respectively in either of them, shall affix any new sense to any Article, or shall publickly read, determine, or hold any publick disputation, or suffer any such to be held either way, in either the Universities or Colleges respectively; or if any Divine in the Universities shall preach or print any thing either way, other than is already established in Convocation with our Royal assent; he, or they the offenders, shall be liable to our displeasure, and the Church's censure in our Commission ecclesiastical, as well as any other: and we will see there shall be due execution upon them.

ARTICLES OF RELIGION.

I. Of Faith in the holy Trinity.

THERE is but one[a] living[b] and true[c] God, everlasting,[d] without body,[e] parts, or passions[f]; of infinite power,[g] wisdom,[h] and goodness[i]; the Maker,[j] and Preserver[k] of all things both visible and invisible.[l] And in unity of this Godhead there be three persons, of one substance, power, and eternity; the Father, the Son, and the holy Ghost.[m]

OF THE NAMES AND NUMBER OF THE CANONICAL BOOKS.

GENESIS,
Exodus,
Leviticus, Numbers,
Deuteronomy, Joshua,
Judges,
Ruth,
The First Book of Samuel,
The Second Book of Samuel,
The First Book of Kings,
The Second Book of Kings,
The First Book of Chronicles,
The Second Book of Chronicles,
The First Book of Esdras, [Ezra]
The Second Book of Esdras, [Neh.]
The Book of Esther,
The Book of Job,
The Psalms,
The Proverbs,
Ecclesiastes or Preacher,
Cantica, or Songs of Solomon,
Four Prophets the greater,
Twelve Prophets the less.

And the other books (as Hierome saith) the Church doth read for example of life and instruction of manners; but yet doth it not apply them to establish any doctrine. Such are these following:

The Third Book of Esdras,
The Fourth Book of Esdras,
The Book of Tobias,
The Book of Judith,
The rest of the Book of Esther,
The Book of Wisdom,
Jesus the Son of Sirach,
Baruch the Prophet,
The Song of the Three Children,
The Story of Susanna,
Of Bel and the Dragon,
The Prayer of Manasses,
The First Book of Maccabees,
The Second Book of Maccabees.

All the books of the New Testament, as they are commonly received, we do receive, and account them for Canonical.

VII. Of the Old Testament.

[c] 6Joh.35, &c. 4 Ac. 12; 6 Ro. 23.
[b] 24 Lu. 44; 3 Ac. 25; 10 Ac. 43; 3 Ro. 21; 10 i Co.1, &c. 3 Ga. 8, 9.

THE Old Testament is not contrary to the New[a]: for both in the Old[b] and New[c] Testament everlasting life is offered to mankind by Christ,[d] who is the only mediator between God and man,[e] being both God and man.[f] Wherefore they are not to be heard, which feign that the old fathers did look only for transitory promises.[g] Although the law given from God by Moses, as touching ceremonies and rites, do not bind Christian men,[h] nor the civil precepts thereof ought of necessity to be received in any commonwealth[i]; yet notwithstanding, no Christian man whatsoever is free from the obedience of the commandments which are called moral.[j]

VIII. Of the Three Creeds.

THE three Creeds, Nicene Creed,[a] Athanasius' Creed,[b] and that which is commonly called the Apostles' Creed,[c] ought thoroughly to be received and believed: for they may be proved by most certain warrants of holy Scripture.

IX. Of Original or Birth-sin.

ORIGINAL sin[a] standeth not in the following of Adam,[b] (as the Pelagians do vainly talk) but it is the fault and corruption of the nature of every man,[c] that naturally is engendered of the offspring of Adam[d]; whereby man is very far[e] gone from original righteousness,[f] and is of his own nature inclined to evil[g]; so that the flesh lusteth always contrary to the spirit[h]; and therefore in every person born into this world, it deserveth God's wrath and damnation.[i] And this infection of nature doth remain, yea in them that are regenerated[j]; whereby the lust of the flesh, called in Greek, φρόνημα σαρκὸς, which some do expound the wisdom, some sensuality, some the affection, some the desire of the flesh, is not subject to the law of God.[k] And although there is no condemnation for them that believe and are baptized,[l] yet the Apostle doth confess, that concupiscence and lust hath of itself the nature of sin.[m]

X. Of Free-will.

THE condition of man after the fall of Adam[a] is such, that he cannot turn and prepare himself,[b] by his own natural strength and good works,[c] to faith,[d] and calling upon God.[e] Wherefore we have no power to do good works pleasant and acceptable to God,[f] without the grace of God by Christ preventing us,[g] that we may have a good will, and working with us, when we have that good will.[h]

WE are accounted righteous before God, only for the merit of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ,[a] by faith,[b] and not for our own works or deservings.[c] Wherefore, that we are justified by faith only is a most wholesome doctrine,[d] and very full of comfort,[e] as more largely is expressed in the Homily of Justification.[f]

NOT every deadly sin[a] willingly committed[b] after baptism is sin against the holy Ghost,[c] and unpardonable.[d] Wherefore the grant of repentance[e] is not to be denied to such as fall into sin after baptism.[f] After we have received the holy Ghost, we may depart from grace given, and fall into sin, and by the grace of God we may arise again, and amend our lives.[g] And therefore they are to be condemned, which say, they can no more sin as long as they live here,[h] or deny the place of forgiveness to such as truly repent.[i]

XVII. Of predestination and election.

PREDESTINATION to life[a] is the everlasting purpose of God,[b] whereby (before the foundations of the world were laid[c]) he hath constantly decreed by his counsel[d] secret to us,[e] to deliver from curse and damnation[f] those whom he hath chosen[g] in Christ[h] out of mankind,[i] and to bring them by Christ[j] to everlasting salvation,[k] as vessels made to honour.[l] Wherefore, they which be endued with so excellent a benefit of God, be called according to God's purpose[m] by his Spirit working in due season[n]: they through grace obey the calling[o]: they be justified freely[p]: they be made sons of God by adoption[q]: they be made like the image of his only-begotten Son Jesus Christ[r]: they walk religiously in good works,[s] and at length by God's mercy, they attain to everlasting felicity.[t]

As the godly consideration of predestination, and our election in Christ, is full of sweet, pleasant, and unspeakable comfort[u] to godly persons,[v] and such as feel in themselves the working of the Spirit of Christ,[w] mortifying the works of the flesh, and their earthly members,[x] and drawing up their mind to high and heavenly things,[y] as well because it doth greatly establish and confirm their faith of eternal salvation[z] to be enjoyed through Christ,[aa] as because it doth fervently kindle their love towards God[bb]: So, for curious and carnal persons,[cc] lacking the Spirit of Christ,[dd] to have continually before their eyes the sentence of God's predestination, is a most dangerous downfall,[ee] whereby the devil doth thrust them either into desperation,[ff] or into recklessness [securitatem] of most unclean living,[gg] no less perilous than desperation.[hh]

THEY also are to be had accursed[a] that presume to say, that every man shall be saved by the law or sect which he professeth,[b] so that he be diligent to frame his life according to that law,[c] and the light of nature.[d] For holy Scripture doth set out unto us only the name of Jesus Christ, whereby men must be saved.[e]

XIX. Of the Church.

THE visible Church of Christ is a congregation of faithful men,[a] in the which the pure word of God is preached,[b] and the Sacraments be duly ministered, according to Christ's ordinance in all those things that of necessity are requisite to the same.[c]

As the Church of Jerusalem, Alexandria, and Antioch, have erred: so also the Church of Rome hath erred, not only in their living and manner of ceremonies, but also in matters of faith.[d]

XX. Of the authority of the Church.

THE Church hath power to decree rites or ceremonies,[a] and authority in controversies of faith[b]: And yet[1] it is not lawful for the Church to ordain any thing that is contrary to God's word written,[c] neither may it so expound one place of Scripture, that it be repugnant to another.[d] Wherefore, although the Church be a witness and a keeper of holy Writ,[e] yet, as it ought not to decree any thing against the same, so besides the same, ought it not to enforce any thing to be believed for necessity of salvation.[f]

XXI. Of the authority of general Councils.

GENERAL Councils[a] may not be gathered together without the commandment and will of Princes.[b] And when they be gathered together, (forasmuch as they be an assembly of men, whereof all be not governed with the Spirit and Word of God) they may err, and sometimes have erred, even in things pertaining unto God. Wherefore, things ordained by them as necessary to salvation, have neither strength nor authority, unless it may be declared that they be taken out of holy Scripture.[c] c See Art. VI.

XXII. Of Purgatory.

THE Romish doctrine concerning purgatory,[a] pardons[b] [indulgentiis], worshipping and adoration, as well of images[c] as of reliques,[d] and also invocation of saints,[e] is a fond thing vainly invented, and grounded upon no warranty of Scripture, but rather repugnant to the word of God. a 9 Ec. 10; 23 Lu. 43; 5 ii Co. 8; 14 Re. 13. See 19 Hom. pt. 3. b 49 Pa. 7: See 5 Hom. pt. 3. c See 238 a-i. d 18 ii Kl. 4. e 2 Col. 18.

XXIII. Of ministering in the congregation.

IT is not lawful for any man to take upon him the office of publick preaching, or ministering the Sacraments in the congregation, before he be lawfully called and sent to execute the same.[a] And those we ought to judge lawfully called and sent, which be chosen and called to this work by men who have publick authority given unto them in the congregation, to call and send ministers into the Lord's vineyard.[b] a 4 i Co. 1; 14 i Co. 40. cf. 23 Je. 21. b 14 Ac cf. 23; 2 ii Ti. 2; 1 Tit. i. 5.

XXIV. Of speaking[1] in the Congregation in such a tongue as the people understandeth.

1 Men must speak, 1571.

IT is a thing plainly repugnant to the word of God,[a] and the custom of the primitive Church,[b] to have public prayer in the Church, or to minister the Sacraments, in a tongue not understanded of the people. a 14 i Co. 2, &c. b See 21 Hom.

XXV. Of the Sacraments.

SACRAMENTS ordained of Christ,[a] be not only badges or tokens of Christian men's profession:[b] but rather they be certain sure witnesses, and effectual signs of grace, and God's good will towards us,[c] by the which he doth work invisibly in us, and doth not only quicken, but also strengthen and confirm our faith in him. a See 288*d*. b See Nowell's Catec. pp. 109, 110. c See 262*d*, &c.

There are two Sacraments ordained of Christ our Lord in the Gospel, that is to say, Baptism,[d] and the Supper of the Lord.[e] d See 260*a*, &c. e See 110*n*, &c.

Those five commonly called Sacraments, that is to say, Confirmation, Penance, Orders, Matrimony, and extreme Unction, are not to be counted for Sacraments of the Gospel, being such as have grown partly of the corrupt following of the Apostles, partly are states of life allowed in the Scriptures; but yet have not like nature of Sacraments with Baptism, and the Lord's Supper, for that they have not any visible sign or ceremony ordained of God.[f] f See 21 Hom.

The Sacraments were not ordained of Christ to be gazed upon, or to be carried about: but that we should duly use them. And in such only as worthily receive the same, they have a wholesome effect or operation[g]: but they that receive them unworthily purchase to themselves damnation, as Saint Pual saith.[h]

XXVI. Of the unworthiness of the ministers, which hinders not the effect of the Sacraments.[1]

1 The wickedness of the ministers doth not take away the effectual operation of God's ordinances. 1562.

ALTHOUGH in the visible Church the evil be ever mingled with the good,[a] and sometimes the evil have chief authority in the ministration of the word and Sacraments[b]: yet forasmuch as they do not the same in their own name, but in Christ's,[c] and do minister by his commission and authority,[d] we may use their ministry, both in hearing the word of God, and in the receiving of the Sacraments.[e] Neither is the effect of Christ's ordinance taken away by their wickedness, nor the grace of God's gifts diminished from such as by faith and rightly do receive the Sacraments ministered unto them, which be effectual, because of Christ's institution and promise, although they be ministered by evil men.[f]

Nevertheless, it appertaineth to the discipline of the Church, that enquiry be made of evil ministers, and that they be accused by those that have knowledge of their offences[g], and finally, being found guilty by just judgement, be deposed.[h]

XXVII. Of Baptism.

BAPTISM is not only a sign of profession, and mark of difference, whereby Christian men are discerned from other that be not christened: but it is also a sign[a] of regeneration or new birth,[b] whereby, as by an instrument, they that receive baptism rightly,[c] are grafted into the Church[d]; the promises of the forgiveness of sin, and of our adoption to be the sons of God, by the Holy Ghost, are visibly signed and sealed[e]; faith is confirmed, and grace increased by virtue of prayer unto God.[f] The baptism of young children is in any wise to be retained in the Church, as most agreeable with the institution of Christ.[g]

XXVIII. Of the Lord's supper.

THE Supper of the Lord is not only a sign of the love that Christians ought to have among themselves one to another[a]: but rather it is a Sacrament of our redemption by Christ's death.[b] Insomuch that a 10 i Co.17.

b See 110*n*, &c.

to such as rightly, worthily, and with faith receive the same,[c] the bread which we break is a partaking of the body of Christ, and likewise the cup of blessing is a partaking of the blood of Christ.[d]

Transubstantiation (or the change of the substance of bread and wine) in the Supper of the Lord, cannot be proved by holy Writ: but is repugnant to the plain words of Scripture,[e] overthroweth the nature of a Sacrament, and hath given occasion to many superstitions.

The body of Christ is given, taken, and eaten, in the Supper, only after an heavenly and spiritual manner. And the mean whereby the body of Christ is received and eaten in the Supper, is faith.[f]

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was not by Christ's ordinance reserved, carried about, lifted up, or worshipped.

XXIX. Of the wicked which do not eat the Body of Christ in the use of the Lord's Supper.

THE wicked, and such as be void of a lively faith,[a] although they do carnally and visibly press with their teeth (as Saint Augustine saith) the Sacrament of the body and blood of Christ: yet in no wise are they partakers of Christ,[b] but rather, to their condemnation, do eat and drink the sign or Sacrament of so great a thing.[c]

XXX. Of both kinds.

THE cup of the Lord is not to be denied to the lay-people. For both the parts of the Lord's Sacrament, by Christ's ordinance and commandment, ought to be ministered to all Christian men alike.[a]

XXXI. Of the one oblation of Christ finished upon the Cross.

THE offering of Christ[a] once made[b] is the perfect redemption, propitiation, and satisfaction[c] for all the sins of the whole world, both original and actual,[d] and there is none other satisfaction for sin, but that alone.[e] Wherefore the sacrifices of masses, in the which it was commonly said, that the Priests did offer Christ for the quick and the dead, to have remission of pain or guilt, were blasphemous fables and dangerous deceits.

XXXIII. Of excommunicate persons, how they are to be avoided.

THAT person which by open denunciation of the Church is rightly cut off from the unity of the Church, and excommunicated,[a] ought to be taken of the whole multitude of the faithful, as an heathen and publican,[b] until he be openly reconciled by penance, and received into the Church by a judge that hath authority thereto.[c]

XXXIV. Of the traditions of the Church.

IT is not necessary that traditions and ceremonies be in all places one, or utterly like, for at all times they have been divers, and may be changed according to the diversity of countries, times, and men's manners,[a] so that nothing be ordained against God's word.[b] Whosoever through his private judgement, willingly and purposely doth openly break the traditions and ceremonies of the Church, which be not repugnant to the word of God, and be ordained and approved by common authority, ought to be rebuked openly,[c] (that other may fear to do the like[d]) as he that offendeth against the common order of the Church, and hurteth the authority of the magistrate,[e] and woundeth the consciences of the weak brethren.[f]

Every particular or[1] national Church hath authority to ordain, change, and abolish ceremonies or rites of the Church ordained only by man's authority, so that all things be done to edifying.[g]

It is lawful for Christian men, at the commandment of the magistrate, to wear weapons, and serve in the wars.[h] h 3 Lu. 14; 10 Ac. 1, &c.

XXXVIII. Of Christian men's goods, which are not common.

THE riches and goods of Christians are not common, as touching the right, title, and possession of the same, as certain Anabaptists do falsely boast.[a] Notwithstanding, every man ought, of such things as he possesseth, liberally to give alms to the poor, according to his ability.[b]

XXXIX. Of a Christian man's oath.

AS we confess that vain and rash swearing is forbidden Christian men by our Lord Jesus Christ,[a] and James his Apostle:[b] so we judge that Christian religion doth not prohibit, but that a man may swear when the magistrate requireth, in a cause of faith and charity,[c] so it be done according to the prophet's teaching, in justice, judgement, and truth.[d]
